Time Cover Shows Error

NEW YORK, (AP) — Time magazine's editorial face was red yesterday because a mechanical mix-up featured presidential campaign results many days before the election.

In Toronto, Can., this week a man bought a copy of Time. On the cover appeared pictures of Democratic nominees Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman with the caption, "election results."

The issue was dated Oct. 27, but the cover was dated Nov. 10.

Explained Time publisher James A. Linen:

"Obviously there has been a mistake in our bindery."

He added that Time has readied two million alternate covers for use after the election — half showing the Democratic nominees and half the GOP candidates.

Apparently, Linen said, somebody picked up the wrong batch of covers since the correct Oct. 27 cover showed a picture of Stevenson with the caption: "Candidate Stevenson — does he make sense to the American people?"

Linen figured only a few hundred wrong cover copies were involved and commented:

"The gentleman up in Toronto probably has a collector's item."

Cantor Gets New Honor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Cantor is now an honorary member of the Boston Taxi Drivers Association.

Two cabbies drove 4,000 miles to give the comedian a plaque in his hospital room, where he has been confined since Sept. 28 because of a heart attack.

The Boston cabbies, Sumner B. Freedman, 27, and Edward Kupchick, 36, made the presentation in appreciation of Cantor's characterization of a taxi driver on his television shows.

Cantor is showing improvement and expects to resume his TV work Dec. 21.

REFUSED

TOKYO (AP) — In Japan, first nation to undergo an atomic bombing, the Council of Sciences has turned thumbs down on a proposal for a government committee on atomic energy.

The council — most influential academic body in Japan—said the government could not be trusted to use atomic power strictly for peaceful purposes.

PUBLIC waterfowl shooting grounds have been set aside at the black-marked locations on the accompanying map. They are areas purchased by the state game commission, excepting for those areas in the Rocky Point district which have been opened by arrangement with the Rogue River National Forest. Boundaries of the shooting areas have been posted, including the area adjacent to the Klamath Wild Life Refuge at north end of Upper Klamath Lake; Shoalwater Bay, west of Eagle Ridge (including the ridge); Squaw Point across the lake from Algoma; Lower Klamath Starits Area adjacent to the Muskrat Gun Club, including Gorr Island, not far from Worden. Maps have been distributed to sportings goods stores showing the location of the points.

Adlai Stevenson Adopts Truman Tactics In Try To Shatter Eisenhower Prestige

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD THE STEVENSON SPECIAL IN NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai Stevenson's bitter and scathing attacks on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave a broad hint today that he was determined to puncture the prestige of his GOP opponent in the closing days of the presidential campaign.

Stevenson appeared finally to have taken a leaf from the campaign book of President Truman, who picked Eisenhower as his main target days ago and set out to sell the voters on his views.

The Democratic presidential candidate let down the bars Wednesday night in Cleveland, when he accused Eisenhower of condoning a "sly and ugly campaign." He has hammered on this theme since.

It was expected to be a prominent part of his speech-making barrage today as he moved from New York State into Massachusetts to follow pretty much the same trail Eisenhower blazed earlier this week. New York and Massachusetts have become two of the key states that both parties are fighting to swing into their camps Nov. 4. New York has 45 electoral votes and Massachusetts 16 — a total of 61 of the 266 needed for election.

Stevenson's schedule called for him to breakfast with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park then visit the Roosevelt memorial for a brief wreath-laying ceremony.

From New York State, he was to move into Massachusetts for stops at Pittsfield, Springfield, Worcester, Framingham, and finally Boston where he will deal, an aide said, with the Republican record on communism.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Poughkeepsie, Stevenson lauded Franklin D. Roosevelt as the man who restored "sense and sanity and responsibility" to American economic life. He said:

"We shall never go back to the Pre-Roosevelt period — to the reign of the Republican Old Guard — no matter how much the old enemies of Roosevelt inveigh against us, nor how successful Republican party . . . I don't think these men are in recapturing the they will do any better this time than they have in any election since 1932—Even with a general to lead their legions."

Last night in Troy, N.Y., Stevenson took time out in his attacks on the Republicans to take a backhanded slap at a member of his own party—Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada.

A few hours after McCarran issued a statement calling for the election of Republican Sen. George Malone over Democratic senatorial candidate Thomas B. Mechling, Stevenson sent Mechling a telegram saying:

"Congratulations on your fine clean campaign. You have been fighting against great odds but all good Democrats are rooting for you. As I told you in Sacramento last week, I am hoping earnestly for your election. Best wishes."

Speaking at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute field house in Troy, Stevenson asserted the Eisenhower "crusade" had been derailed after it became a program of "calumny and fear, platitudes and preachments, epithets and abuse."

A good - sized crowd welcomed Stevenson to heavily Democratic Albany at the end of a day in which he had made 14 speeches in 14 hours, the heaviest schedule of his campaign.

He was cheered by crowds as he rode in a motorcade along the 10-mile route to Troy, and a howling crowd of almost 8,000 greeted him at the field house, where Eisenhower had spoken two nights before. Eisenhower drew an estimated 10,000 in the Republican stronghold.

Stevenson ripped into Eisenhower as a captive of GOP Sen. Robert A Taft of Ohio. He recalled the breakfast meeting of the two in New York City last month and said:

"When it was over, the general had accepted a new statement of Republican principles as written by the senator—and the principles he now accepted were identically the principles he was supposed to have defeated in Chicago (in winning the GOP nomination)."

Stevenson said his Republican opponent had begun his campaign by saying the time had come for casting out "evil men" in Washington. Then, he said, the Republican candidate began using such terms as "quack doctors," "fear mongers," and "bare-faced looters" to describe the democrats.

He said, I "mention these words because the day before yesterday the Republican candidate announced virtuously that he was, in his words, 'leaving to others the job of mud-slinging and name-calling.'"

He asserted Eisenhower had "taken unto himself men so objectionable that he cannot bring himself to mention their names."

In previous speeches, Stevenson made it clear that in speaking of these men he was referring among others to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Sen. William Jenner of Indiana, both Republicans.

"He endorsed the slanderers of Gen. Marshall," Stevenson said.

Stevenson assailed the speech by Eisenhower in the same hall, in which the GOP candidate attacked inflation and called it a deliberate policy of the Democratic administration.

He said Eisenhower knew that inflation had been the result of American production being turned to making of guns and munitions for defense—With less output of things people buy.

Also, he said, there "has been a die-hard opposition bloc in Congress which has opposed every step we have taken to keep prices down.

He added: "the man who stood here on Wednesday night and bemoaned inflation with you has asked that you return all the members of this die-hard, pro-inflation bloc to Congress. Expecting these men to stop inflation would be like calling on Al Capone to stop a crime wave."

He accused the Republicans of having no program.

"Go on down the list," Stevenson said, "you won't find any programs — because the general doesn't have any and the Old Guard don't dare reveal theirs — for very practical reasons. They want to win.

"So we have, instead of a program for America, calumny and fear, platitudes and preachments, epithets and abuse."

Both Parties Need Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats and the Republicans say their drives for small, individual campaign contributions are rolling along, but each side is calling for more.

A spokesman for the Democratic National Committee said yesterday its $5 gift program is doing well "but not well enough." Not enough money is in sight to pay for scheduled radio and television broadcasts but no cancelations are expected, he added.

Sinclair Weeks, chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, said last night more than 750,000 persons have chipped in $5.30 apiece to help finance the GOP election campaign.

Weeks said GOP presidential nominee, Dwight D. Eisenhower's "look ahead neighbor" drive "has drawn more individual contributions from the grass roots than history of American politics." He appealed for more funds to "organize popular support from now to Nov. 4."

Meanwhile, Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell reported that the Democratic National Committee will be unable to give financial aid to Democratic candidates for the House and Senate.

Scientist To Try Deep Dive

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Otis Baron, famous underseas explorer, will try to take his benthoscope a mile down into the ocean today at a point about 17 miles southeast of San Clemente.

Barton made two preliminary dives in his big steel ball yesterday, found it to be operating efficiently.

The explorer's present record for a descent in the ball is 4,500 feet, made off Santa Cruz Island in 1949.

He will take cameras, film and other equipment in today's descent and be in telephone communication with his crew. He wears a parka to withstand the deep water cold, a wool shirt, skull cap, tennis shoes and blue jeans.

Smog Control Plan Aired

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The City of the Angels can get rid of smog, perhaps, but it is questionable whether George P. Murray's formula for achieving it is going to be popular with the four million persons in the county.

Murray, an oil executive and general chairman of the Institute of Atmospheric Purification, made this observation to the institute yesterday:

"The people in Los Angeles County must not believe they will ever have absolutely clean air here unless most of them move away, unless backyard and open fire burning is discontinued, unless most automobiles are eliminated, unless people who remain here quit smoking, and unless we eliminate industry, for which there would be no need, anyway."

The county air pollution control director, Gordon P. Larson, said that Los Angeles since Aug. 13 has been undergoing the longest wave of smog weather conditions in years.

POSY PRESENTED PINAY

PARIS (AP) — The Portland, Ore., Society of Rose Growers presented a rose to Premier Antoine Pinay Friday. The society's president, Donald Sloan, told the premier the rose was obtained by grafting a French variety of rose called "peace" to American varieties.
