

Melida Markey Commences 9th Generation of Acting

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13 (AP)—Melinda Markey, ninth-generation member of the acting Bennett clan, was getting her first break in the movies this week.

Melinda is the pretty, brown-haired daughter of glamor grand-mother Joan Bennett and grand-son of the storied Richard Bennett. The 18-year-old girl is going back to a couple of centuries, and she gives all indications that she will help keep that tradition alive.

Sparkman Hits GOP Campaign

STERLING, Colo. (AP)—Democratic Vice Presidential candidate John Sparkman, speaking in a normally Republican area, suggested Thursday his listeners ask themselves election day "which party has the interests of the American people at heart."

Despite being around show business all her life, she maintains a zest for the show biz life. She was excited over her role in "Neater My God to Three," in which she plays one of a group of coeds returning from Europe on the Titanic.

Hecklers Leave McCarthy Talk

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin ran into what appeared to be an organized group of hecklers during a speech here Thursday night. But he knew it was coming.

SAM COON, farmer and Senator from Baker County, and present chairman of the powerful Senate Agriculture Committee . . .

SAYS

"I am apprehensive of the growing tendency to centralize more government in Washington, D.C. I believe that the closer we can get government to the people, the better government we will have."

In these days of high taxes and uncertainties, it behooves the people of this agricultural and lumbering community to put one of their own kind in Washington to protect their interests.

but at least it lasts throughout the picture," she explained. "It's a good role to break into the movies with. I've only been in films once before; that was a very brief part in a picture produced by my stepfather (Walter Wanger)."

Melinda hasn't pushed her career. She made her debut two years ago when she played in "Susan and God." Since then she has served a vigorous apprenticeship in the theater and television.

"I did about 30 TV shows in New York," she commented. "It was good experience, but live TV is a rough deal. There isn't time enough to do things right, and many of the producers and directors don't know what they're doing."

"My ambition is to land a contract at 20th Century-Fox," she added boldly. "My mother started here when she was quite young and has been coming back through the years. It's fun for me to be here, because I know so many of the studio workers."

What about the rest of her sisters following acting careers? Melinda remarked that her elder sister, Diana, 21, is now Mrs. John Anderson and the mother of two. Stephanie Wanger, 9, hasn't shown any great desire to act, Melinda added.

"But Shelley, who is 4, knows what she wants to be," she remarked. "She says she's going to be a toe-dancer."
