Magazine Praises Nominees' Health

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The two presidential candidates," a national health magazine reported today, "are good models to follow for keeping fit."
This nonpartisan view on the health habits of Republican Dwight Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson came from Dr. Howard J. Hoxie and Dr. J. Dewitt Fox, writing in the magazine Life and Health.
The doctors said that both Stevenson and Eisenhower, who have been campaigning at a killing pace in the past two months, "give far closer attention to health habits and well-balanced living than the average person."
Here's how they appraised the health habits of the two men:
Eisenhower:
Up at 7:30 or 7; to bed by 10.
"Follows as strict a schedule with his meals, rest and exercise as the demands of a political campaign will permit."
"Watches his diet carefully."
"Hasn't smoked

for three years, since his doctor ordered him to quit. As a result, his heart and blood pressure have remained normal."
Stevenson:
Up before 7, to bed in time for "a good eight hours' sleep."
"Tries to get as much rest as possible during the day and while traveling."
"Has to keep in mind his slight tendency to over-weight when he scans the menu."
"His favorite food: low-calorie, red, ripe tomatoes."

Mexicans Seek Reds

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican special agents were reported hunting Communist agents—possibly some from Europe—on the Guatemalan border today.
A government source said the agents had been sent to Chiapas State, on the border, to investigate reports of Red activity. He added that they had special instructions to check on rumors, as yet unconfirmed, that several Communist agitators from Eastern Europe had crossed the border.
