

Does A Child Really Steal?

One of the major "catastrophes" in the family circle usually starts like this: Junior takes some pennies from the dresser. Bill comes home with a candy bar that he didn't pay for. Mary brings home a toy from the Jones' without having asked permission. Dad and Mom very likely don't spare the rod in those cases, but is it really stealing?

It is important to remember that children have to learn how to do things. The right way to act doesn't come naturally. It's easy to recognize the multiplication tables, and we don't get too excited if they make a few mistakes in the process. In just the same way they have to learn what belongs to them and what to other. Unfortunately, we get very upset when they make mistakes about taking things, instead of quietly seeing to it that they understand that we don't take things which don't belong to us. We punish instead of teach.

Instead of spanking Junior, he should have a small allowance of the candy bar back to the store and tell the storekeeper that he made a mistake. Mary can learn that one doesn't "borrow" things without asking the owner. It all should be a matter of learning, not punishment, in the beginning stages.

Husbands Eat - Not Crow But Orion Turkey Dinner

Orions gave a turkey dinner for their husbands in the basement of the Methodist church last Friday evening. Reverend Lloyd Holloway returned thanks. Photograph music was played before dinner, compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deller. Tables were decorated with bouquets of dried wild weeds, lemons, dried corn, pumpkins, etc.

Mrs. Paul Deller was program emcee for the evening. She introduced Mrs. Ervin Whitt, who sang two numbers, "My Lover is a Fisherman," and "Whispering Hope," accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert Walters. Current officers and their husbands were introduced.

A get acquainted game was played after dinner, with most everyone leaving to go to other commitments. Those on the food and decoration committee were Mrs. Marion Lehman, Mrs. Gene Woods, Mrs. Sam Thompson, and Mrs. Gilbert Walters. Those on the entertainment committee were Mrs. Paul Dellar, Mrs. Fred Biehler, and Mrs. Arthur Wiggins. Cleanup committee included Mrs. Myron Murray, Mrs. Herbert Faulkner, Mrs. Richard Teater, Mrs. Chas. Larson, Mrs. Marion Lehman, and Mrs. Sam Thompson. The ladies who roasted turkeys were Mrs. Chas. Larson, Mrs. Duane Baker, and Mrs. Chester Newton.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Teater, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McCormack, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo E. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Biehler, Mrs. John Heyden, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cofer, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McFarlan, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deller, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holloway, and guest Mrs. Ervin Whitt.

How to Get Real Bargains

There's more to bargain hunting these days than meets the eye. Carefully planned buying during sales can result in added money for trips, hobbies, gifts, home furnishings, and other pleasures.

But do your bargain hunting intelligently. Rushing blindly into sale after sale will probably mean you'll end up with shoddy merchandise and no financial saving!

Know what you need to purchase and wait for the right sale to come along. If you need a new radio, for instance, says the November issue of Home & Garden magazine, do your browsing early. Look at various makes and models and learn what distinguishes a good, lasting radio from one that will give only fair service.

Then when you notice a sale on radios, you'll be prepared to pick wisely. Be sure the merchandise on sale is not marked down merely to let clerks lead customers toward higher priced goods. If the clerk shrugs off the marked-down radio, and plays up other radio in a distinctly higher price range, it's a good idea to do some long thinking before making a purchase. Chances are, the bargains are not real money-savers.

Don't get rushed into a purchase merely because the merchandise is on sale. If you're near a bargain counter where you know the sale is a legitimate one, go ahead and barge into the crowd, since a good saying is "wait a banded elbow." But when you have the chance, take your time and ask all the questions you want. Reputable stores offer good service during sales as well as during normal buying periods.

There's a natural urge to "stock up" during bargain days, but be sure the items you buy are usable — and will continue to be usable in the future. Stocking up on sales items such as blankets or towels that can be used as gifts is usually a good idea, provided you've thought the idea through and have planned for it.

Honey-Fruit Bread Snack

November is the month when the leaves die and fall to the ground. Now come the job of raking them. Why not get the gang together and make it a fun job. After a brisk afternoon of raking leaves, some nourishment is in order. Honey Orange Bread with cottage cheese and hot chocolate will just hit the spot. Good then but also popular anytime. Make them early — and pop into the oven for a quick heating before serving. The addition of ready-to-eat bran will give the bread that extra crunchiness and flavor.

HONEY ORANGE BREAD
 2 tablespoons shortening
 1 cup honey
 1 egg
 1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind
 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3/4 cup orange juice
 1 cup bran (ready-to-eat bran)

Blend shortening and honey; add egg and orange rind and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt and stir in to first mixture alternately with orange juice. Stir in bran. Pour into greased loaf pan and bake in slow oven (325 F.) for 1 hour and 10 minutes.
 Yield: 1 loaf (5 1/2 x 9 1/2 inch pan).

TIP-TOP
 Silvered roasted almonds and melted butter make a wonderful topping for green vegetables like broccoli, green beans and asparagus. Toss with the vegetables just before serving so the almonds stay crisp and crunchy to silver the almonds easily, do them when they are hot.

Recipe

BLUEBERRY - RICE PUDDING
 This rice dessert can honestly be called a "hasty pudding" so quick is the mixing and so easy the baking. Plump juicy blueberries combine wonderfully well with tender, white and the heat of the oven does the rest.

Perfectly spiced — and spiked with the most delightful flavors, this nifty rice and blueberry pudding rates a great big "A" as an appetite teaser.

3 cups cooked rice
 1/2 cup beet or cane sugar
 2 teaspoons vanilla

1/4 teaspoon allspice
 4 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
 3/4 cup milk
 2 cups blueberries, washed and well drained.

Method: Combine rice, sugar, allspice, vanilla, butter or margarine, milk and blueberries. Pour into a greased baking dish. Bake uncovered at 325 degree F. for 30 minutes.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Helpful Hints

GOOD STARTER
 Start off a company dinner with an avocado cocktail. Dice 1 large Calavo into 4 cocktail dishes and serve with the following sauce. Combine 1/4 cup each chili sauce, mayonnaise and table cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish.

'TIS SO GOOD!
 Nothing like a hot dessert for a cold day. Drain a can of cling peach slices and place them in a shallow 8-inch baking dish. Cover with a crumbly mixture of 3/4 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 cup butter or margarine. Bake in a moderately hot oven 35 minutes.
