 CHICAGO — Most livestock prices lifted lower Monday, led by 35 to 75 cents lower values in the hog department.

Cattle were steady to 50 cents lower. Ewes were steady but lambs and yearlings failed to establish a market by late in the session. Sows suffered most pressure and took the upper half of the market's decline.

Good to prime steers made $26.50 to $35.00 mainly but a few prime loads showed up to $35.50 to $36.50.

Most choice heifers brought $30.00 to $33.50 but two prime loads succeeded in getting up to $34.50. Cows topped at $18.00, bulls at $20.00, and yearlings at $24.00.

Estimated receipts in the sales pens included 14,000 hogs, 20,000 cattle, 700 calves and 5,000 sheep.

Kral Gets Six Years

Robert Kral, 19, this morning was sentenced to two three-year terms in the Oregon prison by Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg. The terms are to run concurrently.

Kral was sentenced on two charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The first charge, brought last March, involved a 15-year-old girl whom Kral took from her Bonanza home to Wheeler, Ore. He had pleaded guilty to that count and on April 2 was placed on probation for five years. This morning that probationary sentence was revoked and the three-year term was imposed.

The second charge also involved a 15-year-old girl, not the same one, who went to Eugene with the youth in August. He pleaded guilty to that charge also.

Kral was one of two men who broke out of the County Jail Oct. 22, only to surrender a few hours later.

The other escapee, John H. Brandon, was sentenced to 10 years in prison for assaulting Jailer Sherman Kottenberg during the jail break.

J. W. Scoggins, 21, of Klamath Falls, who was pleaded guilty to a charge of forcible robbery, was in court this morning for sentencing, but his sentence was postponed until later by Judge Vandenberg.

Sailors Held On AOL Charge

Forum Studies Basin Progress

"Klamath, forward or backward?" This question concerning the economic future of the Klamath Country is to be explored on Build the Basin tomorrow night. As usual, the public service radio forum goes on the air at 8 p.m.

Two members of a four-member panel have already accepted invitations to participate. They are Paul Landry, mayor-elect of Klamath Falls, and Jim Kerns, president of the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce. The complete panel will be announced in tomorrow's paper.

Future of the Klamath Country is a wide open question; open with so many angles that tomorrow night's forum will no doubt have to be followed by several future discussions on particular aspects of the topic.

The Chamber of Commerce has been quietly busy at work for a long time seeking to draw new industry to the Basin. Many heretofore unpublished matters in connection with this effort will probably be explained during tomorrow evening's program.

Suspensions In Meat Case

Suspended jail sentences were given two persons this morning in District Court and a vacancy charge against a third was dismissed. The charge involved the appropriation of some mutton from the J. D. O'Connor feed lot off Burr.

Richard Sosa Sanchez, 43-year-old Mexican transient from Hood River, and his white wife, Evelyn Leora Sanchez, 45, were given 15-day suspended sentences. The charge against their companion, Mason Craig, 34, Shelby, Mont., was dropped.

State Police said the woman had gone to the O'Connor yards Saturday asking for some potatoes, and was told to take what they needed. However, some mutton was hanging in a shed on the place and much of the meat was sliced off, to go with the potatoes.

Officers found the three in a nearby hobo jungle, cooking the mutton.

Four Months For Prowler

Murrell Betsch, 26, of 802 California, today was sentenced to four months in the County Jail for entering the bedroom of a young woman acquaintance early in the morning of Nov. 5.

He was charged with disorderly conduct, and pleaded guilty Friday. District Judge D. E. Van Yastor passed sentence today after hearing the woman's story in court.

She said Betsch, whom she had known since August, entered her house on Route 1 by climbing through a bathroom window, and came into her bedroom. She said he was "staggering drunk" and was in the house about half an hour.

Betsch was jailed the following day for being drunk given a five-day sentence.

More than 5,000 oil and gas company executives and industry leaders from all parts of the United States and Canada are attending the sessions which end Thursday.

Moreell in his address prepared for the opening general session, listed the 10 steps of the Communist program as outlined by Marx, then went on:

is government ownership of land... The Federal government now owns one-fourth of all the land. How long will it be before it owns one-half, and then all of it?

"The second Communist plank is: 'A heavy progressive or graduated income tax.' In the United States, the personal tax has progressed to better than 90 per cent in the highest brackets and is being used, as originally intended by Marx, as a punitive measure to achieve equalization of status."

"Plank three of the Communist platform," Morell went on, "is the inheritance tax, a most effective way of removing capital from private ownership and placing it in the hands of government. And to this we have added the gift tax, a device which Marx apparently overlooked."

"Plank four of the Manifesto provides for confiscation of the property of all emigrants and rebels." In the last war, American citizens of the Japanese race were deprived of their property and placed in concentration camps.

"Plank five is: 'Centralization of credit in the hands of the state by means of a national bank.' The trend of the Japanese race were deprived of their property and placed in concentration camps."

"Plank six of the Communist platform is: 'Centralization of the means of communication and transport in the hands of the state.' At various times the federal government takes over and operates the railroads, in any case, our railroads are so strictly controlled and directed by the government they cannot be pointed to as examples of private ownership and operation."

Morell went on:

"Plank seven of the platform is: 'The extension of instruments of production owned by the state.' On Jan. 1, 1932, the federal government owned 10.7 per cent of the total generating capacity in the United States."

"Plank eight is the establishment of labor corps for agriculture and industry... The Works Progress Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps of the early New Deal years made a good beginning on this program."

"Plank nine is the listing of other ideas for government planning in agriculture and industry and in population controls. In our form or another, we seem to have accepted the fundamentals of all of these."

"Plank 10 of the Manifesto, Morell said, is government ownership of schools, with compulsory attendance and compulsory support."

"We have already taken important steps in that direction," Morell contended. "Recently, one of our most eminent educators, the president of Harvard University, frankly advocated the abolition of all privately operated grade and secondary schools."

In another paper Monday, John Swearingen, general manager of production, Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) surveyed the U. S. oil outlook and forecast that the domestic oil industry can supply sufficient oil to meet all of American needs for the foreseeable future.
