

Marshfield Completes Poll Sweep

Pels Land Number 10 Position

By The Associated Press
Marshfield made it complete Tuesday, topping by unanimous school football teams in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

It was the seventh straight week for Marshfield, slumping that team as the overwhelming favorite in the state playoffs opening next week end. No other team gained the No. 1 rating this season.

There were close contests for other positions, however, as sports writers and sportscasters cast their final ballots for the top 10 teams in the state.

Three of the teams they named will not appear in the playoffs. These are North Bend, Grant of Portland and Klamath Falls. North Bend had a 1-1 tie to Marist's 9-0 last week.

Grant failed to make the playoffs only because a reserve player was found to be ineligible, forcing Grant to forfeit four games. Klamath Falls, after dropping from the top 10 last week, climbed back with a 22-25 win over Bend, one of the teams that will be in the playoffs.

SQUEAK
Jefferson, the Portland champion, gained the No. 2 rating by a narrow margin over Central Catholic, also of Portland. Last week the two teams were tied for the runner-up position. Central Catholic was No. 3 this week.

Hillsboro once more took the No. 4 position, followed by North Bend. There was a tie for sixth place between The Dalles and Grants Pass. Two teams that will be in the playoffs.

Only one point behind them in the balloting was Grant. The No. 4 team, four points behind Grant, came Prineville, the only class 2 team to make the top 10 in this final week.

Klamath Falls was the No. 10 team.

NOTED OUT
Barely noted out were Benson of Portland and Bend. Klamath Falls had 23 points in the voting, Benson 22, and Bend 21. Bend was the No. 7 team last week and Benson No. 8.

One other team also fell from the top 10. That was Vale, a class 2 squad that held down No. 10 last week. Vale was held to a 13-13 tie by Ontario last week end, and dropped off in the voting.

The top four teams are undefeated. Marshfield with nine straight wins, Central Catholic and Hillsboro with eight each, Jefferson has a tie and seven victories on its record.

The poll, with the season record listed for each team:

- | Rank | Team | Points | Record |
|------|------------------|--------|--------|
| 1 | Marshfield | 130 | 9-0 |
| 2 | Jefferson | 102 | 7-0-1 |
| 3 | Central Catholic | 99 | 8-0 |
| 4 | Hillsboro | 61 | 8-0 |
| 5 | North Bend | 49 | 7-2 |
| 6 | The Dalles | 41 | 8-1 |
| 7 | Grants Pass | 38 | 5-3 |
| 8 | Grant | 37 | 2-6 |
| 9 | Prineville | 34 | 8-1 |
| 10 | Klamath Falls | 34 | 6-2 |

Others: Benson 22, Bend 21, Vale 14, Eugene 6, Springfield 3, La Grande 2.

Schedule On Tap For WIL

YAKIMA — Western International Baseball League directors met here Tuesday to draw up the 1953 playing schedule. A task complicated by the addition of Calgary and Edmonton to the Class A circuit.

The directors, nearing the end of their annual organizational meeting, wrestled with the difficult problem of scheduling games in the two Canadian Prairie cities, and the long hops involved.

ADDED
Calgary and Edmonton were added to the league at the end of the 1952 season, making it a 10-member loop. The circuit now extends from Salem, Ore., in the south to Edmonton, in the north, and includes Spokane, Lewiston, Idaho, Yakima, Wenatchee, Tri-City, Vancouver, Victoria and Calgary.

April 24 was set as a tentative date to open the 1953 season as the directors' meeting got under way here Monday.

All officers were reelected: Robert Abel of Tacoma, as president; Roy E. Hotchels, Spokane, first vice president; Frederick Mercy Jr., Yakima, second vice president; and George F. Abel, Tacoma, secretary.

PLAN
Tri-City business manager Richard Richards was directed to prepare a 1953 operating plan for the Braves for consideration by the WIL board at the major-minor league meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., next month.

Tri-City fans are attempting to raise funds to buy Richards' majority stock in the club to keep organized baseball in the Richland-Kennewick-Pasco area. Richards has offered to sell out or transfer the franchise to Eugene, Ore., saying he cannot continue to operate in the Tri-City area under the existing setup.

Chiefs Extend Funds Drive
WENATCHEE — The Wenatchee Chiefs Monday announced a two-week extension of a campaign to raise funds to save the franchise.

Ab Libke, one of the campaign leaders, said the drive was extended until Nov. 26 when it was discovered the Chiefs were $20,000 in debt rather than $16,000 as first announced.

Libke said fans have originally in more than the $16,000 originally required.

Heinrich's Arm Has UCLA, Trojans Edgy

By PAUL WELLS
SEATTLE — Almost unnoticed in the clamor over UCLA and Southern California, unskipped remnants of the coast Conference, the dark-horse Washington Huskies of the North country have padded quietly into Rose Bowl contention.

Their upsurge has been without fanfare, propelled on the arm of Don Heinrich, 1950 All-America quarterback described by many a seasoned coach as the finest passer in college football.

Heinrich, sidelined last season with a shoulder injury, has shown all of his old wizardry and finesse in becoming this year's national leader in passing and total offense. His 125 completions, good for 1,488 yards have included 13 touchdown passes.

Washington's coach, Howie Odell, credits his team's comeback, with four straight victories following two crushing defeats, to something more than the work of his outstanding field general.

Odell calls his team "good but not great." Then in the same breath talks proudly of his squad as "men who found an unquenchable spirit" in the drags of their two humbling losses to UCLA and Illinois.

ALIVE
"They're fire — eaters, those guys," the Washington coach says. "They think nobody's too tough now. It's funny. They came alive after that 45-14 loss to Illinois, just when you'd expect their morale to be sunk for good."

Now the Huskies rest solidly in third place in the PCC with five wins and one setback, right behind the two unbeaten powerhouses from Los Angeles.

They came from nowhere this week to rate 15th nationally in the Associated Press poll.

The Huskies' test of fire comes next Saturday in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum against the Trojans of USC.

A win there for Washington, and a Trojan victory over UCLA Nov. 22 and the secret of roses would be strung in the Huskies' hair.

That would put Washington at the top of the PCC standings on the basis of its won-loss record, providing it got by Washington State in the final game of the season.

Then it would take a vote of the conference faculty representative to choose the PCC Rose Bowl representative.

Fight Fans Won't Pay
LOS ANGELES — You can't beat the admission prices for Tuesday night's Olympic Auditorium boxing match between feather-weight Bobby Why and Reuben Smith.

Because this is Armistice Day, the state law says they can't hold a boxing match if admission prices are charged. So the local television station and sponsor that puts on the regular weekly TV show will foot the bills.

Huskies Warned Of Trojan Talent

SEATTLE — A coach who scouted Southern California in its 54-7 slaughter of Stanford last week warned the Washington Huskies Monday:

"The Trojans are one of the really fine teams in America. End Coach Ray Badger, back from the southland with an appraisal of the Huskies' next Coast Conference foe, said the Trojans were tough offensively but even tougher on the defense.

"Stanford couldn't move against them until late in the game, when Coach Jess Hill cleaned the bench," he said.

Spartans Keep Top Poll Spot

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK — Michigan State, Georgia Tech and Maryland, regarded as the "class" of college football after Oklahoma's resounding crash last Saturday, came about as near as possible to landing in a three-way tie for first place in this week's Associated Press football poll.

Michigan State still held the lead today after 128 ballots from sports writers and broadcasters had been counted, but for the second straight week the Spartans' point total dropped. Georgia Tech's impressive 45-6 victory over Army boosted the Engineers into second place, a shade ahead of idle Maryland.

CLOSE
Points are counted on the basis of 10 for a first place ballot, nine for second, etc. And here's how the first three line up: Michigan State, 1,193 points; Georgia Tech, 1,135; Maryland, 1,128. A week ago it was Michigan State, 1,204; Maryland, 1,095; and Tech, 1,047.

Oklahoma's 27-21 setback at the hands of Notre Dame apparently had a profound effect on the voting, Oklahoma, which received 27 first-place votes and was ranked fourth last week, dropped to eighth place while Notre Dame moved up from a shaky 10th to sixth.

51 FIRTS
The high-powered Michigan State team, which ranked up Indiana 41-14 Saturday, was listed first on 57 ballots and mentioned somewhere on all 138 Georgia Tech also was named by every voter, drawing 32 first, 27 seconds and 40 thirds. Maryland was given 24 firsts, 51 seconds and 26 thirds.

UCLA and Southern California, the unbeaten Pacific Coast powers, which met Nov. 22, rank fourth and fifth.

Others in the first 10 are Tennessee, Texas and Purdue.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses):

- Michigan State (57) — 1,193
- Georgia Tech (52) — 1,135
- Maryland (34) — 1,128
- UCLA (15) — 964
- Southern California (7) — 844
- Notre Dame (3) — 723
- Tennessee — 419
- Oklahoma — 407
- Texas — 134
- Purdue — 109

Second 10:

- Mississippi — 83
- Alabama — 77
- Syracuse — 69
- Pittsburgh (1) — 66
- Wisconsin — 53
- Princeton — 31
- Washington — 30
- Florida — 29
- Kansas — 22
- Michigan — 21

Others receiving votes included: Missouri, Virginia, Navy, Minnesota, Holy Cross, Villanova, Penn State, Duke, Tulsa, South Carolina, Illinois, Lenoir-Rhyne, Baylor, California, Kentucky, Houston.

Irish, Sooners Sell TV

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK — If the NCAA Television Committee can come up with two or three games each season to compare with the beauty between Notre Dame and Oklahoma, Evan Murray of the University of Pennsylvania will have great difficulty inducing the nation's football fans to work up a hate against the restricted TV program.

Speaking as one of millions who must have thrilled to that great contest at South Bend, we can't quite imagine the most ardent old grad sitting there and fuming because his alma mater had been blacked out for the day. In particular, and speaking this time from experience, we cannot agree that Penn's old grads were short-changed.

UNFORTUNATE
It was unfortunate for Murray that, only 24 hours after the Irish and the Sooners had finished their blood-letting, he was forced to go on another far-flung TV program and debate the matter with Bob Hall of Yale, chairman of the NCAA's Television Committee. At least, it was poor timing by the Quakers' athletic director. Unless there was an entirely new audience, a lot of folks must have thought Murray was trying to shoot Santa Claus.

There can be no doubt that at the start of the big squabble an overwhelming majority of the country's set-owners would have voted to burn Hall and his fellow criminals at the stake for depriving them of what they considered a God-given right. The thought of having their Saturday free entertainment restricted to a single game was revolting.

OTHER WAY
If a similar referendum were to be taken today, we are not so sure it wouldn't go the other way by a big margin. It would be our guess that more persons watched Saturday's game from beginning to end, with fewer side trips to the kitchen, than ever before in the history of the sport. There's a fine chance for the pollsters to get back in business, incidentally.

Golden Grains, 4-0 winner over Peoria News Sunday in the Ten Pinets Bowling League, captured all the scoring honors when the kegling loop opened play.

The team roled high game and series of 665 and 1916 while its ace, Vito Carzon, had the high game, 199, and the best series, 515, plus the best average, 171.

Californians Score in Boats

SALTON SEA, Calif. — Three Californians and an Arizonan have won titles in the American Power Boat Association's twice-postponed desert regatta, as inbound competition continues Tuesday.

Benford Campbell, Long Beach, won the crackerboat class Monday, Marion Beaver, Parker, Ariz., triumphed in the Pacific One design hydroplane race.

Willie Miranda, Los Banos, Calif., won the B-tracing runabout class and Bill Dale, Maywood, Calif., annexed the 286 cubic inch hydroplane cup.

Because of turbulent water, the times were far from records.

THIS STARTED IT—The photographer caught some action from last week's unscheduled rhubarb at the Army that ended in signing of Tor Yamato and Mr. Sakata against Jack Terry and Tony Ross in a tag team match tomorrow night. Mr. Sakata (left) brings back his arm for a hatchet blow on Terry's neck while Yamato stands on the ring apron ready to enter the fray. Ross isn't pictured but jumped in to hand Sakata a fast order of knuckles shortly after this picture was taken.

Armory Tag Quarrel Points Up Dynamite

Tag-teaming, where thrills come in bunches, occupies the spotlight on tomorrow night's wrestling card at the Armory.

The principals are Tough Tony and Jack (Hatchman) Terry against Tor Yamato and Mr. Sakata, the nefarious Japanese team that holds the Pacific Northwest title for team grappling.

The two Nips showed a large crowd at the Armory last week that they know how to work together as a team. Ross and Terry also demonstrated they'd give the Orientals all they'd bargain for.

It wasn't officially billed as a tag team match, but it ended that way, and touched off a demand to make it official.

The feud started when Sakata, in civvies, occupied Yamato's corner as a second and advisor. Terry, after losing the first fall, called in Ross.

Before the wild bout—called "no contest" by the referee—was over, all four were banging heads outside the ring.

SHOWDOWN
The Japs won't put up their title against Ross and Terry but the latter two have promised to force the issue to a showdown with a victory.

It's a scrap that's loaded with potential dynamite. Advance sales at Gastleberry Drugs indicate a fat turnout.

Another bout, also billed for one hour of the best two of three falls, although losing to Sakata in action against Billy Sandow of Columbus, O.

FRISKY
Sandow, a frisky newcomer to the Armory ring, earned a host of followers last week in his debut here. He was the main attraction, probably the most riotous bout of the evening.

Matchmaker Mack Lillard announced he would, as last week, give free action pictures to all women and children who attend the matches.

ALABAMA
Alabama Engineers On Video

By VERNON BUTLER
ATLANTA — The pessimistic among Georgia Tech football fans wrestled today with the horrible thought that the Engineers might be beaten by the Alabama Crimson Tide Saturday with millions of people watching.

Tech tangles with Alabama here in the television Game of the Week, and quite a few million folks across the nation will judge whether Tech deserves its new moniker America's No. 2 grid machine in the Associated Press poll.

Alabama, ranked 12th this week, routed Tech, 54-19, in 1950. Nobody has topped them since.

UPSET
Some Tech fans profess to believe an upset may be in the works because two of the team's best ball carriers are hobbled by injuries. Leon Hardeman, a hot All-America candidate and the South's top running back, badly sprained his ankle in the Army game last week. It is extremely doubtful that he will play. Hardeman has contributed 704 of the 1,969 yards Tech has gained on the ground this season.

And Larry Ruffin, who was formerly Tech's other starting half-back and raced 230 yards in four games until he was hurt four weeks ago, is definitely out of the contest.

OFFENSE
With these weapons unavailable, Tech must outscore a menacing Alabama defense, sparked by veteran Bobby Marlow and sophomore Corky Tharp, which has piled up 213 points against eight foes this year. Only Tech, with 241, has a more impressive record in the touchdown-happy Southeastern Conference.</
