In Dunkirk, New York, Representative Daniel A. Reed...

Sounds hopeful, doesn't it? But wait a minute. You've heard only half the story.

Robert Ramapack, chairman of the U.S. civil service commission, tells a radio audience that a new President can hire and fire only about one per cent of all federal workers...

Cynical thought: For 20 years, the idea has been to get 'em into federal jobs (where they are expected to vote right) and then PERPETUATE 'em in the jobs so they'll KEEP ON voting right.

You know, I have an idea that a ways and means committee with blindfolded eyes and from its own imagination a vision of STATESMANSHIP as opposed to pure politics could find ways and means to break the deadlock.

How did we come to get cluttered up with all these millions of federal employees? Let's look at it this way: Suppose you're a housewife. Suppose your husband is so fixed (say with an expense account that would choke a cow) that you could hire all the help you wanted and pay anybody ELSE WOULD PAY THE BILLS...

Human nature is human nature. In all walks of life. This is the present point: On the fourth day of this month of November, thirty-odd million taxpayers COMPLAINED. That is, they went to somebody to DO SOMETHING.

How come all these millions get their dander up and COMPLAINED? I suspect it worked something like this: Suppose again you're a housewife. The professionals all agree that women voted in large numbers this year and the figures clearly suggest they voted heavily in favor of a change.

It could be that you reached the point where you'd give your chemise (and maybe throw in your girdle) for a good old-fashioned hired girl to cook the dinner and wash the dishes and sit with the kids while you and your man went out for a little relaxation.

But you couldn't afford it. And besides there aren't any hired girls to be had. (Maybe they're all working for the government; we've heard a lot in recent years about these "government girls.")

Maybe it came home to you and all of a sudden that if the government would quit hiring more help than it needs (with you as a taxpayer paying the bill) possibly you could hire some of the help YOU'RE SURE YOU NEED. You went out and VOTED—and how!

Anyway something happened. It could have been something like that.

AEC Reports Experiments On Eniwetok

By ELTON C. FAY
AF Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has officially disclosed that hydrogen bomb "research" was included in a test of nuclear weapons at heavily guarded Eniwetok Atoll.

But the commission stood pat today on its refusal to admit such a bomb had been exploded.

The commission, after issuing its terse announcement last night, also spoke of possible prosecution for those who have written letters home about seeing what they described as the world's first H-bomb blast.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning scientist who was a key figure in the development of the atom bomb, said in Chicago he believes the AEC announcement meant the United States has successfully exploded its first H-bomb.

J. Robert Oppenheimer, who directed the Los Alamos, N. M., laboratory which perfected the atom bomb, said he could only echo the official AEC disclosure.

Reached at his Princeton, N. J., home, Oppenheimer, now director of the Institute of Advanced Study, said the program included "experiments which have been made a number of times before."

He said there has been "a fine job of technical work going on—a very impressive piece of work technically."

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, commented on the AEC announcement only by saying the "thermonuclear weapons research" at Eniwetok "came off on schedule."

He would not refer to the tests as hydrogen bomb experiments. However, "thermonuclear weapons research" is the scientific way of designating work on an H-bomb.

In a formal announcement, AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said only that the 1952 series of atomic weapons development tests had been concluded at Eniwetok Atoll; that the program included "experiments contributing to thermonuclear weapons research," and that the scientists "expressed satisfaction."

LETTERS
But what reporters asked, about the swelling volume of letters coming back from ship crew members and others attached to the joint AEC-military task force which conducted the 1952 program?

The letters, widely published in the United States, described an explosion on Nov. 1 which, to them, seemed to transcend any previous man-made detonation.

They told of a mile-wide island melting away under the blast and a hot, red, glowing cloud column climbing twice as high as any

Indian Youth In Suicide

James (Jimmie) Chocktoot, 23-year-old Klamath Indian, took his own life yesterday morning in a cabin he occupied at Beauty, Sheriff Red Britton said. Chocktoot shot himself in the face with a .32-cal. Winchester Special rifle while he was sitting on a bed at the cabin.

His wife, Florine Baker, was sitting next to him, and their baby was nearby. Another Indian, Leroy (Boncrusher) Godowa, was also in the room, asleep on another bed a few feet away. They apparently had been drinking wine earlier in the evening and, the Baker girl told Britton, Chocktoot suddenly said he was going to shoot himself, and if he "had enough left" he would kill her and the baby.
