Eckley-Miller Vows Said In November 8th Ceremony

The Reverend Daniel Anderson, pastor of Klamath Temple, read the 3 p.m. double-ring service, Nov. 8, in the First Methodist Church, uniting Patsy Ruth Miller and Ormand W. Eckley in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Miller, 1755 Crescent Avenue; and Eckley is the son of Mrs. William Bishop, Willow Ranch, Calif.

Mrs. Arthur Dennison, organist, played incidental wedding music, and accompanied vocalist Peter Ormand, who sang "O Perfect, Love" and "Because," before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the service.

The bride was escorted by her father to an altar flanked with beauty vases of white chrysanthemums and huckleberry, before a background of woodwardia fern. Lighted tapers illuminated the altar decorations, and white satin bows marked the pews.

The bride was dressed in a white satin gown styled with a nylon lace yoke, long sleeves, Peter Pan collar, and a full skirt with a long train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was held by a Juliet cap trimmed with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Tailsman roses with matching streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Calvin V. Simms, Portland, sister-in-law of the bride. She wore a deep blue fallie dress with off the shoulder neckline, ballerina length, and her hair bandeau was of pink pompon chrysanthemums. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pompon chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Marlee Nichol, Longview, Wash., and Amy Cornwell, Klamath Falls. They wore dresses patterned after the Matron of honor's in rose-pink. Their headbands were blue and they also carried Colonial bouquets.

Flower girl, Starla Simms, niece of the bride, wore a yellow floor-length frock with bertha collar. She wore matching flowers in her hair and carried a basket of pink rose petals. Ring bearer, Billy Bishop, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Best man, L. Robert Jones, Lakeview, was a classmate of the bride and bridegroom at OTI. Ushers were Calvin V. Simms and C. M. Bishop, William E. Johnston, friend of the family, was honorary usher.

Nieces of the bride were candlelighters, Linda Lee Simms and Lana Lou Simms, Toketee Falls. They wore pastel frocks and carried candles centered in a colonial arrangement with white bows. Mrs. Miller wore a champagne silk frock, with black accessories, and her corsage was of Tailsman roses.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bishop, wore a marine-blue silk suit, with red accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses.

The reception was in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The two cakes were served by Mrs. George Miller Jr., Mrs. Vern Troxell, Mrs. Charles Gilmore and Mrs. Lawrence Cade. Frances Taylor passed the guest book; Mrs. Belle Johnson poured; Mrs. Lester Stringfellow and Mrs. Elwood Johnston served the punch. Mrs. George Miller was at the gift table.

After the wedding trip to San Francisco, the couple is at home in Tulelake.

The bride is a graduate of KUHS and attended OTI. Eckley attended the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B.C., Rockmont College, Denver, and he is a graduate of OTI.

Special guest at the wedding was the grandfather of the bride, Mr. George Miller, recently 85. Out of town guests included: Mrs. Alva Antensen, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Troxell and Ruth, and L. Robert Jones, Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. W. Ray Bishop and son "Chuck"; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bishop and son Billie; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bishop, Willow Ranch; Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. La Haye, Lakeview; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Krugle, Medford.

Couple United In Reno Wedding

ALTURAS—Mr. and Mrs. James J. Plank Jr., are making their home here following their marriage Oct. 29, in Reno. The bride is the former Shirley Ann Welch of this city, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Welch.

100 AAUW Members and Guests Attend November 16 Luncheon

About one hundred members and guests of the American Association of University Women attended the regular November luncheon meeting, at Jen-Eds on Saturday, Nov. 15. Among the special guests were Mrs. Warren Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Weir Jr. and Mrs. Con J. Fitzgerald Jr., from the Lakeview branch AAUW.

Mrs. Homer Koerje, membership chairman introduced the following new members: Mrs. Earl Redmond, Mrs. George Chin, Mrs. Bob Langueville, Mrs. Bert Thomas, Mrs. Don Rice, Mrs. G. W. Nelson, Mrs. Leon Street, Mrs. Paul Campbell, Mrs. Fletcher Conn, Mrs. Beatrice Willard, Mrs. Victor O'Neill, Mrs. Coleman O'Laughlin, Ann Coey, Marilyn Haynes, Edna Freeman, Myriam Smith, Vivian Alloway, Ruby Alkway, Frances Koester and Mary Keasie.

Mrs. C. B. Larkin gave a short resume of the activities in the various study groups. She stated that a new group in Creative Arts is being organized. Anyone interested in work in oils, water colors or handicrafts is urged to contact Mrs. Ray Hobson, chairman.

Mrs. Philip Blohm reported that AAUW sponsored a tape recording made by Mrs. Willard Duncan on radio station KFLW in cooperation with American Education Week. Mrs. Don Zumwalt presented Mr. and Mrs. Hale Loebourrow, who sang two duets, "Under the Desert Star" and "I Live and Love Thee."

Mrs. Fred Foulon, Chairman of the Social Studies Group, was program chairman for the day. She introduced Mrs. L. H. Stone, who spoke on "Influence of Pioneer Women in Oregon History." She placed the women of influence in several categories—the Indian women, many of whom were married to white men, the wives of missionaries and those who came westward merely for conquest and gave many interesting side lights on the outstanding women in these groups. She stressed that these women were imbued with patriotism and the desire for education. She concluded her talk by stating that there is no accurate way of measuring the contributions of women in the history of Oregon.

Mrs. Stone is a teacher of Social Studies at Fremont Junior High School and is co-author of a history textbook used in the Oregon schools.

Soroptimist Club Luncheon

The Thanksgiving meeting of Soroptimist Club was opened Thursday at the Pelican Cafe by Doris Peay, reading the 18th Psalm. Mrs. Phil Hitchcock accompanied by Elaine McIntyre sang two songs. President Isabelle Brinker announced that Ruth O'Harra would be the blood bank chairman.

Catherine Brumbrugh announced that Lorraine Johnson had been honored by having her paintings of Crater Lake on exhibition in seven states under the sponsorship of the Air Force. Addie Mae Nixon announced the arrival of new Christmas books for children at the City Library, also books of information about making Christmas presents.

The Thanksgiving food sale was most successful with many tempting things to buy and money was quickly raised for various projects of the club. Ida O'Dell, dressed for the part, demonstrated an old family recipe.

Guests for the day were Dr. Joycelin R. Decker and Mrs. Jo Deely of Lakeview Club and Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. Eugene Favell, Mrs. Jack A. Dulcher, Mrs. Jennie Peltz and Mrs. Phil Hitchcock of Klamath Falls.
