

OSB CANCELS BASIN LEASES

18,900 Acres Hit By Sweeping Order

By WALLACE MYERS
The Bureau of Reclamation has canceled 122 leases on approximately 18,900 acres of rich crop land in the Klamath Project. Only three agricultural leases, covering 2,377 acres in the Tulelake area, were not canceled.

These 122 cancellations, added to 30 leases covering 7,232 acres canceled in early September, account for practically all crop land leased by the Reclamation Bureau in the Klamath project.

Order for the 122 cancellations was received here Friday from Bureau Commissioner Michael Straus in a teletype from the regional office of Richard L. Boke, Sacramento. The Straus directive did not mention any proposal concerning future policy regarding the lush acres.

But an order received at the Klamath Project Office this morning from the office of Interior Secy. Oscar Chapman in Washington, D. C., said there were three possibilities as to what might be done with the land:

- 1) The bureau might proceed with homesteading "all or part" of it.
- 2) The leasing policy interrupted by Straus' action might be reinstated on "all or part of the land".
- 3) "All or part" of the land might be transferred to the Fish and Wildlife Service. The Washington message said no decision would be made "prior to Nov. 30."

The leases cover all land in the League of Nations, Frog Pond, Southwest Sump area and Sheepy Lake East districts. The land is in both California and Oregon.

TULANA
The controversial Tulana Farms lease on 2,314 acres of the Tule lake and one of the three not canceled by Straus. The other two were small plots not considered possible for homesteading. One is a 30-acre lease held by Leonard Meskhe just south of the town of Tulelake and the other a 28-acre plot leased to Dale Sprout in the Newell sewage disposal area.

Other leases not affected are a scattered few used for grazing and trapping.
J. Pitts Elmore, acting project manager here in the absence of leave of E. L. Stephens, said today there had been no reason offered by Straus' office for the cancellations.

30 LEASES
In canceling the 30 leases in September, the bureau said they were being canceled because of lease violations. All the land was leased on a war veterans preference basis with a stipulation the lessees

(Continued on page 4)

Cold Snap Continues

The cold snap continued throughout Oregon Tuesday and the Weather Bureau in its five-day outlook said the prospect was for continued cold, dry weather.

The customary cold spots again were below zero on the Highway Department report; Seneca 7 below, Lapine 2 below, Mencham 1 below, and Chemult zero.

Even the coastal area was cold, North Bend reporting 30 degrees at 4:30 a.m. At that hour Newport's report was 37.

Baker and Bend both reported 5 above. In Western Oregon Eugene's low at the 4:30 a.m. reading was 18 degrees. At the same time Salem had 20, but the mercury there dropped another two degrees before the sun came up.

There were spots of fog-turning to ice on highways and windshields—in many parts of Western Oregon.

Herald-Klamath News

Price Five Cents—16 Pages KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1952 Telephone 8111 No. 2980

Hopes Dim For Korea Peace

BENEATH THE GOAL POSTS at Modoc Field, the foundation platforms for the pageant production "Christmas is For Giving" have been set up for Friday's Christmas Opening. To the left is the platform for the family scene, in the center is where the wooded area—to be forested by Weyerhaeuser Timber Co.—will be, and right foreground will see the cathedral scene for the incorporated story "Why the Chimes Rang." Gib Fleet designed the set, and construction was under the direction of Francis Scapple.

Tulelake Prison Inmates Loyal OTI Football Fans

Among the more loyal fans of the Oregon Tech football club this season just ended was a contingent of inmates from the Tulelake Prison Camp.

At each of the five OTI home games, 10 prisoners from the federal institution and two camp officers were in the stands as guests of OTI Director Winston Purvine.

Very few spectators at the games knew they were there. The men dressed in cast-off Navy and civilian clothing to be inconspicuous and usually took seats somewhere in the center of the grandstand near the 50 yard line. They came up from Tulelake in private automobiles, driven by the camp officers.

"There was never any trouble at all," Superintendent Lem Fox reported. "I think if one of the fellows had gotten out of line, the rest would have jumped down his throat."

Judge Candidate Spends 3 Cents

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Circuit Judge W. C. Mayfield reported an expenditure of just 3 cents in filing his report of "campaign" expenditures with the circuit clerk in the recent general election.

The money, said Judge Mayfield, purchased a stamp for the letter in which he notified the secretary of state he wished his name on the ballot.

Officers Nab Game Violators

Federal game officers from Klamath Falls and the Tule Lake Wildlife Refuge the past few days made nine arrests for game violations in Oregon and Northern California.

Arrested Sunday on the Lower Klamath shooting area were Don Klamath, 28, Ashland; Orville Edwin Reichenberg, 48, Klamath Falls; and Charles Delbert Miller, 76, Medford. They paid fines of $75 each in Judge D. E. Van Vactor's district court yesterday after pleading guilty to taking wildlife away, a totally protected bird.

Last Wednesday officers arrested Neo Fields, 46, Redmond, for shooting about 30 minutes after close of shooting hours on the Williamson River Ranch. He forfeited $25 bail in Van Vactor's court.

Howard Ray Herrick, 52, El Paso, Tex., was arrested Wednesday also for attempting to take waterfowl with a revolver, but was cleared of charges in a court trial under Judge Van Vactor Saturday. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Darr David Kitchens, 31, Weed, was arrested Monday for possession of improper Oregon hunting license and forfeited $25 bail in district court.

Joe Clement Stockel, 21, Shively, Calif., was arrested for possession of two untaxed pheasant last week, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 in Judge W. G. McClymonds Tulelake court.

Also in Tulelake, Clarence Zane Goe, 26, Humes, Calif., was arrested for possession of six untaxed pheasant and three times the legal limit, and was fined $150.

Chester James Coker, 38, Los Angeles, was fined $25 after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying a loaded gun in his car on a public road.

Shooting hours: November 26, Open 6:41 a.m., Close 3:38 p.m.

LONG LIVERS
COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Christian Banke of Faaborg, Denmark, celebrated his 101st birthday Tuesday. Taking part were his four brothers aged 91, 90, 88 and 78. A fifth brother died recently at the age of 97.

NO FORUM
There will be no Herald and News-KELW Build the Basin radio forum tonight.

Principals who were to have appeared on tonight's panel are out of town and were delayed in returning.

The public service program will be resumed next Tuesday evening.

THE EARLY-MORNING cameraman caught John DePuy and Gary Stang (l to r) on their way to school this morning. They are Sacred Heart students.

9 O'clock Special

THE EARLY-MORNING cameraman caught John DePuy and Gary Stang (l to r) on their way to school this morning. They are Sacred Heart students.

Weather
FORECAST—Klamath Falls and vicinity and Northern California: Fair through Wednesday, High 47. Low tonight 15.
High temp yesterday 23
Low last night 12
Precip yesterday 0
Since Oct. 1 .52
Normal for period 2.43
Same period last year 3.48

Wilson's Get 5th Sentence
VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — The death sentence was pronounced for the fifth time Monday on Utah and Turman Wilson, convicted of the 1950 kidnap-slaying of JoAnn Dewey.

The Camas, Wash., brothers, who missed four previous dates with the executioner, were sentenced to hang Jan. 3 at the state penitentiary in Walla Walla.

Last-minute stays saved the brothers from the gallows four earlier occasions. The last one was granted by Governor Langlie to give a committee selected by the governor from a list of attorneys prepared by the American Bar Association time for a thorough study of the case.

The Wilsons were brought here for resentencing, as required by State law, after the stay expired. They were returned to Walla Walla after the death sentence was pronounced Monday.

South Korea Opposed To U.N. Truce
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — South Korea announced Tuesday it would not accept any truce arranged by the United Nations against its wishes.

President Syngman Rhee's foreign minister indicated his government believes Korea's future is nobody else's business.

Minister of Foreign Affairs Y. T. Pyun said:

"The government of the Republic of Korea cannot and will not accept, against its wishes, any arrangement or agreement or resolution in regard to the disposition of what it considers to be its citizens or part of its historical domain, made or reached or adopted without its official and full participation with the unrestricted voice sovereign nations usually exercise in similar matters of exclusive concern to themselves."

South Korea also has already expressed general agreement with the Truman administration's principles for negotiating a truce.

South Korea is not a member of the U.N. nor is it taking part in the negotiations at Panmunjom.

The South Korean statement was issued as U.N. delegates made plans to get priority for an Indian plan on breaking the prisoner of war deadlock.

FUSED
The plans were pushed despite Russia's rejection of the Indian proposal.

Some expressed deep disapproval of giving the Indian proposal priority when the committee met Tuesday morning.

New Zealand said members needed more time to study the revised Indian draft before deciding on priority. The committee adjourned until Wednesday without making a decision.

Twenty-one powers, sponsors of a resolution backing up the United Command's refusal to return forby those Red prisoners who said they were afraid to go, scheduled a meeting for late Tuesday to decide their attitude toward priority.

CRUISED
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky yesterday crushed the widespread hopes here that India's V. K. Krishna Menon had found at least a formula for ending the deadlocked POW issue holding up U.N. armistice.

The Russian denounced the Indian plan as "unsatisfactory and unacceptable." He said only his own resolution calling for an immediate cease-fire followed by a peace conference on prisoner repatriation and all other Korean issues would stop the fighting.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who disagreed with some points of the Menon plan as being too vague, said the United States is "wholly in agreement with the spirit of this resolution." He urged the committee to continue to seek a solution in spite of the despair Vishinsky had cast over the body.

Taber Talks To Ike Aides
NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday named Arthur E. Summerfield, of Flint, Mich., as postmaster general; Mrs. Ovela Culp Hobby, of Houston, as administrator of the Federal Security Agency; and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, of Bountiful, Utah, as treasurer of the United States.

NEW APPOINTMENTS
NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday named Arthur E. Summerfield, of Flint, Mich., as postmaster general; Mrs. Ovela Culp Hobby, of Houston, as administrator of the Federal Security Agency; and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, of Bountiful, Utah, as treasurer of the United States.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower, but said he stopped in the general's Commodore Hotel headquarters to talk with Dulles and Adams.

There has been considerable discussion about the scope of some State Department operations, including the Voice of America, but Taber declined to disclose the details of the topic he intends to take up with the two men.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph Cate, former national committeeman from Oregon who was one of his key advisors during the campaign, and Harold Talbot of the Republican Finance Committee.

Taber said he expected to see John Foster Dulles, designated as the next secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams, who will be Eisenhower's assistant.

He did not have an appointment with Eisenhower,