

AN ATTENTIVE AUDIENCE of camera fans was present for the recent visit of Maurice Louis, nationally famous child photographer who spoke at a meeting, Nov. 19 in the Community Lounge. Louis, a New Yorker, is touring under auspices of the Photographic Society of America in the interest of stimulating interest in the finer techniques of child portraiture. Pictured with him are Annis Struthers, club secretary, Farris Williams (center), club president and Louis with one of his prints.

Skirmishes Mark War Anniversary

SEOUL (AP)—Brisk fighting on the Central and Western Fronts today ushered in the 30th month of the Korean War.

British and Australian night raiders drove into the Red lines and clashed with Chinese troops for more than eight hours. Brilliant gunfire pierced the pre-dawn darkness on the Western Front.

Allied infantrymen on the touchy Central Front stormed back at dawn and recaptured two key outposts near Red-held Jackson Heights. The Chinese had captured the positions in the night.

Gen. Mark Clark huddled with his top field commanders, then flew back to his Tokyo headquarters. The U. N. supreme commander conferred with Gen. James A. Van Fleet, boss of all Allied ground forces in Korea, and the U. S. Fifth Air Force chief, Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus.

The top brass probably discussed the forthcoming visit of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower. Clark toured the front in a light plane Monday, possibly surveying the ground Eisenhower will visit.

Temperatures climbed across the battlefield, bringing welcome relief from chilling cold. Despite cloudy weather B26 Marauders roared over Communist supply routes last night and reported 85 Red trucks destroyed.

Barcus told AP Correspondent Robert Tucker, the Reds were making desperate efforts to increase the flow of supplies to the front. Last night's 85 trucks brought the total destroyed in the past 10 days to about 1,250. Rising temperatures brought relief to ground troops. The British First Commonwealth Division supplied the heaviest punch in the ground fighting. Raiders from the Royal Fusiliers drove Chinese defenders off a hill overlooking the Samchon River at 8 p.m. The Reds counterattacked, and regained the position. The Fusiliers returned to their own lines just before dawn. A Royal Australian regiment hit Chinese positions just to the north-east at the same time. The Aussies swept in from two directions and traded shots with the Reds for 15 minutes, before pulling back.

Treasury Dept To Stay Put

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department is reconsidering its decision to move its district internal revenue headquarters from Tacoma to Seattle, Reps. Thor Tollefson and Hal Holmes reported Monday.

The two Washington Republicans said Secretary of the Treasury Snyder advised them no final action will be taken "until such time as the factors previously considered have been reviewed again, along with any new information not previously in the possession of this department."

The Treasury Department earlier had announced Seattle would be made district headquarters as part of the reorganization program under way in the Internal Revenue Bureau. The district includes Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska.

Tollefson, reporting the letter from Snyder, also told newsmen that from information received from other sources "I have considerable hope that the offices will be kept in Tacoma."

Professor Rides Bike

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—David L. Earnest, the bicycle-riding professor, observed his 90th birthday today, retired but not tired.

University of Georgia students always look with interest at the former professor of education as he peddles over Athens' hills.

Earnest gets in a little extra exercise by touching the floor with the palm of his hands twice daily.

Three machines' work is done by this one... as it digs a trench, lays cable and covers it, all in one operation

HERE ARE CORNER-CUTTERS AT WORK

New improvements and developments help us stretch the dollars it takes to bring you fine telephone service

1. Every housewife these days knows about cutting corners in the family budget. With the dollar buying less and less, she's had to figure new ways to make it go farther... give extra thought to money-saving short-cuts. So it is in the telephone business, too—we've become more economy-minded than ever. Taxes, wages, costs of materials have sky-rocketed. Over the years we've devised new and thrifty machines and equipment to cut our costs of providing you with top-notch service. And these days we're putting even greater effort into finding new ways to run our business efficiently and economically.

2. Take a mighty versatile truck, like this one. It speeds the job of setting poles with its fast rotary digger, its long arm and winch line which pick up the pole, set it, straighten it... all in a jiffy. It has many other jobs, including salvaging used wire on its special reel. And it's only one of the many machines we've designed to help us do our job better and more economically.

3. We're looking far ahead, too, as we plan long-range telephone economies. Take this complex piece of electronic equipment—which is part of a system for keeping tabs on out-of-town calls which customers dial themselves. We already have one of these amazing systems at work—and more are planned for the future. Along with many everyday economies, all these machines are doing a big job in helping us provide you with fine telephone service—in addition to helping us hold our costs down.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Perhaps the best way to illustrate how low telephone rates are today is to compare our prices with those of other things you use every day—food, for instance. If the price of bread, for example, had gone up no more, since 1940, than average telephone rates in Pacific Telephone's territory, you'd be able to buy a standard loaf of bread today for about 11 cents.
