Married American Men Get Advice From Darcel

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — No doubt about it, Denise Darcel likes American men. But, she says: "They want their wives to be mothers to them. They aren't bossy enough with their women. They marry too young. La belle Darcel is the French version of perpetual emotion. She never sidesteps an issue, but instead wades right in with idioms flying. And when the subject is on female relationships, she speaks forcibly and with an insight possessed only by the French. Here are some of her views, translated from unique English:

"American men want a mother as well as a wife. I don't mean just for the children; I mean for the men themselves. They allow their wives to assume the authority that their mothers had over them. They don't say, 'We're going to a movie tonight.' They say, 'Would you like to go to a movie tonight, dear?'"

"That's bad. When the man becomes too weak, his wife loses all the respect she had for him. That's why there is so much divorce in America. The men are not firm enough with their women. The men are the boss in France; that's one of the reasons the French have so little divorce."

Most American men work hard," she remarked. "When they return home from work, they shouldn't have to help in the kitchen. Their wives should pour them a drink and make them relax and read the paper."

"Yes, I know that the wives work hard, too. If they are too exhausted, their husbands should offer to help. But it doesn't help if the women are worn out when the men come home."

"My suggestion is this: the women should work a little faster so they can have an hour's rest before their husbands come home. No matter how hard I've worked during the day, I always try to get a little rest before I have a date."

"They have not been out in the world long enough and they still feel an urge to be mothered," she remarked. "A man shouldn't marry until he has grown up and had a great deal of experience with women. I think the best age would be around 32 or 35."

Is a more mature man a better lover?"

"Who mentioned anything about love?" she inquired. But since it appeared to be one of her favorite topics, she added: "If a man is a good lover, he is good at any age."

Miss Darcel, is currently tolling in "Flame of Calcutta."

Oil Lease Company Makes $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—An oil lease buyer has told the Security and Exchange Commission that within a seven-month period he made almost a million dollars on a thousand-dollar investment — and that he has prospects of making plenty more. The story came out in a prospectus filed with the commission yesterday by Canadian Prospects, Ltd., of Calgary, Alta., which wants to sell 300,000 common shares in this country. "The shares are speculative securities," the prospectus says. It then tells why, in 30 figure-filled pages. The company says it was founded in May, 1950, by Wilbur L. Griffith. He still is its president. The prospectus says he formerly was in the oil brokerage business in Mt. Vernon, Ill., and that in 1950 he opened a similar business in Denver. At the time the company was founded, the commission was told, it had 1,000 shares, valued at $1 each, Griffith and his sister Mildred owned 904 of them. The company specialized in buying and selling oil leases, and apparently business was good. On Jan. 31, 1951, the company came up with 315,000 shares, at no par value. Griffith sold 95,000 of these to New York underwriters at $10 a share, or for $950,000. As near as can be told from the prospectus, Griffith still has around a half million shares in this company that started out as a thousand-dollar investment. If that's true, and the stock is selling for $6, he has around three million dollars of stock left. And what are the assets? The prospectus says the company now holds leases on almost five million acres of land scattered from North and South Dakota on through Western Canada. The prospectus, which candidly admits it's all speculative, is candid about the oil leases too. They're all on unproven land, it says.

The SEC has three weeks in which to decide whether or not to permit Canadian Prospects, Ltd., to peddle its stock.
