'Red' Tape Irks Workers

MOSCOW (AP) — Steel workers in the Kuznetsk basin of Central Siberia protested in Izvestia Friday about red tape.

They said their factory received from the Kharkov Institute of Fire Bricks a questionnaire containing 1,487,400 questions to be answered. They estimated it would take 50 persons working full time six months to fill in all the blanks.

They said they sent it back to Kharkov and invited the institute to send some men in person. None of these bureaucrats, said the steel workers, has shown up yet.

Oregon Bonus Deadline Near

Oregon World War II veterans received a last-minute warning this week that next Monday, Dec. 1, is the final date for applying for the state veterans' bonus.

Applications must either be postmarked or delivered into the Portland or Salem offices of the State Department of Veterans' Affairs by Monday night closing time, Bonus Supervisor, H. C. Saalfield warned.

"Applications filed where the postmark is dated after midnight of Dec. 1 cannot be paid," Saalfield said.

Application blanks are available from county clerks, county service officers and local veterans' organizations.

More than 123,000 applications from living veterans or survivors of deceased veterans have been filed, leaving an estimated 7,000 eligible recipients who have yet to apply.

The Oregon bonus pays $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign or sea duty to a maximum of $600, to veterans who were bona fide Oregon Residents for one year prior to their World War II service.

If the veteran died in service or following discharge, his unremarried widow, his children or his parents are paid the bonus.

To date, nearly 106,000 veterans and survivors have been paid the bonus in the amount of about $42,395,000.
