

Last Major Grid Day Features Army, Navy

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP)—College football all but wraps up its thrill-packed 1952 season tomorrow with the traditional Army-Navy game and the final appearance of six bowl-bound teams heading a slim program.

There's a splattering of games scheduled for the next two Saturdays but this will be the final big splash before the gridiron sports ushers in the new year with the annual bowl classics.

A capacity crowd of 102,000, including President Truman, will sit in on the Army-Navy proceedings at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium with the Middles favored to make it three straight over the Cadets but by no such margin as last year's 42-7 drubbing.

The game, scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m., EST, will be televised on the nation-wide network of NBC. The telecast is scheduled to start at 1 p. m.

And if that is not enough football in one day for television's football fans, they can see the latter part of the Notre Dame-Southern California game at South Bend, Ind. It'll be beamed over the same air wave as soon as the final gun sounds in Philadelphia. Starting time at South Bend is 2 p. m., EST.

Although five other bowl games are scheduled for action it is the appearance of second ranked and unbeaten South Carolina, California and seventh ranked Notre Dame that has caught the fancy of football fans. The West Coast Trojans, who'll represent the Pacific Coast Conference against Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl, are a one-touchdown favorite.

The four Southeastern Conference teams which will be in bowl games are favored in traditional affairs. Georgia Tech and Mississippi, headed for the Sugar Bowl, meet Georgia and Mississippi state, respectively, Alabama, opponent of Syracuse in the Orange Bowl, takes on Auburn; and Tennessee, picked to meet Texas in the Cotton Bowl, tangles with Vanderbilt.

Tulsa's high scoring Golden Hurricanes, who'll take on Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, leads up the regular season against Texas Tech.

Also on the nation-wide program are such other traditional affairs as Boston College-Holy Cross, Oklahoma-Oklahoma A&M, Fordham-New York University, Tulane-Louisiana State, Virginia-William and Mary, Texas Christian-Southern Methodist and Washington-Washington State.

The last conference races were decided yesterday as Pennsylvania led the Ivy League crown with a 14-7 decision over Cornell and Utah downed Utah State, 20-0, to win the Skyline title with a clean slate of five victories.

Phelan Wins One
AKRON, O. (AP)—For a man with so little recent practice at it, Jimmy Phelan bore up well as the coach of a winning team.

"Unaccustomed as I am to winning, I feel all right," he drawled Thursday after his orphaned Texans came from behind after nine straight losses and upset the Chicago Bear, 27-23.

Certainly the setting was nothing to inspire his rebounding confidence. The crowd for the pros was so slight—an estimated 3,000—that promoters declined to give out figures. Yet that morning 14,000 turned out for a high school tilt.

Before the game started the pro knacker, Akronites would rather watch high school players. The crowd for the pros was so slight—an estimated 3,000—that promoters declined to give out figures. Yet that morning 14,000 turned out for a high school tilt.

No 'Garbo' Act For Russians

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The Iron Curtain countries are going to be upset when they hear about preparations being made by the Australians to house athletes and officials at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne. They might even boycott the event.

The Aussies, now going full steam ahead with their plans after a slow start, have announced they will construct a 600-building Olympic village at Heidelberg, seven miles from Melbourne. Each unit will contain two or three bedrooms, with all modern conveniences, and the whole will house over 4,000 persons.

DANDY
This is dandy, except that it makes no provision for the athletes representing Soviet Russia and its satellites to dwell off in splendid seclusion by themselves, as they did at Helsinki the past summer.

There will be no splitting of the teams," says one Melbourne scout. "Anyone who wants to do a Garbo act will have his task ahead of him. If the Iron Curtain countries want to be alone they will have to bring their own tents and camp in the Dandenongs."

The Australian dictionary describes Dandenong as a town of some 5,000 persons 18 miles from Melbourne, but we suspect that our correspondent is referring to a region, possibly rough and wooded, rather than to a specific community. At any rate, the implication is plain, and it does not figure to set well with the Communist countries.

BALL OF FIRE
Arthur Coles, the self-made millionaire who took over as boss of the Melbourne Olympics five months ago, is from all accounts a ball of fire. Construction of a great office in the heart of the city is almost in the hands of the weather.

He has a plan and plans are being drawn for a swimming pool to cost nearly $800,000, which is a great deal of money in Australia.

The pool will occupy a site only about a mile from the center of Melbourne and will seat some 6,000. The entire Olympic layout promises to be very tidy, but there is a little problem which has the Aussies worrying. Concerns the weather.

"You might tip off your officials that the athletes they send out should be picked largely on their ability to handle the mud," says our adviser. "We have just passed the scheduled games period (first two weeks in November) and it has been the wettest on record."

RAIN
There were 14 days of continual rain, and the Weather Bureau, upon checking its records for the past 70 years, states it is always the same for the first two weeks of November.

We hesitate to suggest anything to the international Olympic body, not being on first name terms with any of its members, but it strikes us it might be smart to set the same for the first two weeks of November.

Boise Not Mentioned
PARADISE, Calif. (AP)—The title of Boise committee will make its selection next Sunday of the two junior college teams that will appear in the annual football game here Saturday, December 13.

East and West, the competition has narrowed to seven teams, with three of them in California. Only two of them, Bacome of Muskegon, Okla., and Hartnell of Salinas, Calif., came through the season without a defeat.

The others in the running are Compton, Calif.; El Camino of Los Angeles; Del Mar of Corpus Christi Tex.; Hinds of Raymond, Miss.; and El Dorado, Kas.

Gonsalves 11-5 Pick
NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Gonsalves is an 11 to 5 choice to increase his current unbeaten string and snap Orlando Zuleta's victory streak when he takes on the little Cuban in a Madison Square Garden ten rounder, Friday night.

Gonsalves, 22-year old light-weight contender from Oakland, Calif., has scored four victories and has drawn once in his last five outings. Zuleta, an improving 24-year old 125-pounder, has swept his last six. On a 6 to 4 lean cut decision over Paddy De Marco, Brooklyn contender, on Oct. 27.

Washington, UCLA Look Cage-Strong
By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Washington's mighty Huskies and UCLA's Bruins figure to repeat as divisional champions in the Pacific Coast Conference and it would come as no surprise if the Huskies and Bruins finished the season among the nation's top ten basketball teams.

The way it looks from here, the top ten teams should look something like this:
1. Illinois, 2. Kansas State, 3. LaSalle, 4. Oklahoma A&M, 5. Washington, 6. Indiana, 7. Seton Hall, 8. Holy Cross, 9. UCLA, 10. Minnesota.

BREEZE
Tippy Dye's Washington team, which lost to UCLA in the PCL playoffs last year, should win the Northern Division title in a breeze.

The only strong opposition is expected to come from Idaho. The Huskies suffered a major loss in Frank Guinness via graduation but still have 6-7 Bob Houbregre, one of the best college cage players to be a battering-ram against the ring-poles and Terry's knee.

TONY ROSS (left) and Jack Terry ganged up on Mr. Sakata in last night's tag battle at the Army, an illegal maneuver according to strict tag team rules, but one that delighted the fans. Buck Davidson, referee, moved in to break up the split on the Jap.

Furious Tag Hassle Ends in Stalemate

The Japanese partners in mat crime—Tor Yamato and Mr. Sakata—kept their trophy emblematic of the Pacific Northwest tag team title last night at the Army, but it was probably quite a chore for either to carry the hardware out of the joint after a tumultuous draw with Tony Ross and Jack Terry.

A large Turkey Day crowd saw one hour of nerve-shattering goings-on seldom equalled in the Army ring. Terry went on a rampage in the closing seven minutes after each team had a fall and only the bell saved the title for the Japs.

It was a raw, savage Pier 6 brawl that saw Ross finish the match with his leg bound up in bandages after the two Nips almost pulled Tough Tony's arm out of the socket with the stomping toe-hold in the second round.

CRAB
Yamato finally caught Ross in a Boston Crab to even the fall-count.

Terry rushed Ross to the doctor in the dressing-room and came back to face the Japs alone in the closing minutes of the bout.

He did alright too, battering both from post to post and tossed Sakata at the feet of the ring-siders. Ross came back to his corner with his injured leg encased in a thousand yards of bandages.

He got in his licks too, with whistling right hands when Terry steered either Yamato or Sakata to the corner.

Intiriated fans almost mobbed the ring when Yamato twice caught Ross in the corner and stomped his injured leg.

BATTLE ROYAL
It was a battle royal—with Referee Buck Davidson swinging at the Japs with punches that started from the floor when the bell finally stopped the slaughter.

Ross won the first fall with the back-breaker on Yamato's head as a battering-ram against the ring-poles and Terry's knee.

That took 27 minutes and the Japs came back to even the rubber at 26-20.

The rest of the bout was a one-man show, with Terry dealing out two-listed misery to both the Nips. The ex-Army judo instructor got the sleeper on Sakata once in the last hectic seven minutes but the Oriental scampered to the ropes to escape the sedative.

Roger Mackay, Pacific Coast junior heavy-weight champion, a big handsome athlete, had to dip deep in his bag of tricks to whip Cal Roberts of Vancouver, B. C., in the other one-hour match.

HAMMERLOCK
The bout lasted 30 minutes and 40 seconds with Roberts for the most part holding the upperhand with a punishing hammerlock on the champ.

But Mackay ducked the third in a series of dropkicks and trapped up Roberts with what he called the Atomic Drop. As he explained to newspapermen later, "They don't come back after the Atomic Drop". Roberts didn't, lying in the center of the ring shaking like a man with palsy.

Mackay simply hoisted Roberts above his head and brought him down across his knee, horse style. Mackay praised Roberts as a "tough boy" and said he would probably defend the title he took from Frankie Stojack "in the near future."

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The Navy football squad of 45 and coaching staff leaves Friday for Saturday's Game with Army in Philadelphia.

The squad will go from Baltimore by train to Philadelphia. The Middles will stay overnight at the Pine Valley Golf Club in Clementon, N. J.

Heinrich Aims at Two Records in Last Game

SPOKANE (AP)—Handsome Don Heinrich, whose football career at Washington has been full of dramatic moments, bows out of college competition Saturday, as an Army private aiming at two individual titles.

With a three-day pass tucked in his GI coat in the dressing room quarterback Heinrich will step out on the field against Washington State and:

1. Try to complete at least four passes to eclipse the current positional leader, Tom O'Connell of Illinois who ended the season with 133 completions.

2. Try to beat out O'Connell and Ted Marchbroda of Detroit as the nation's top offensive leader. O'Connell leads with 1,724, Marchbroda has 1,666 with a game against Houston Saturday. Heinrich has 1,366.

And most of all, of course, he'll be trying to direct a victory over the arch-rival State Cougars who are rated one-touchdown underdogs.

Detroit Captures Pro Lead
By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Thanks to the Detroit Lions National Football League has an undisputed leader today.

The Lions upended Green Bay 48-24 in a Thanksgiving Day game yesterday to give them sole possession of the national conference's No. 1 spot. But they'll occupy that lofty perch alone for only a couple of days.

The San Francisco 49ers and the Los Angeles Rams, each only a half game behind Detroit, tangle in the former city Sunday and the winner will climb back into a tie with the Lions.

TE
The existing three-way tie between Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia in the American conference can also be broken this weekend when the Browns tangle with the Washington Redskins, the Giants take on the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Eagles engage the Chicago Cardinals.

Quarterback Bobby Layne tossed three touchdown passes as the Lions led the game with 17 points against the Packers in the final period. Layne completed 16 of 39 aerials for 249 yards and ran the ball 13 times for 63 yards.

Green Bay fumbled five times in the first half with Detroit recovering each time. Two of the fumbles were converted into scores. The Bobbie Rote kept the Packers in the ball game by firing three touchdown passes to end Bill Howton.

The Lions got their clinching points in the fourth quarter when Pat Harder kicked a 28-yard field goal. Moments later, Layne passed 22 yards to Cloyce Box on a three and Harder went across for the tally.

At Akron, O., the orphaned Dallas Texans won their first game by upsetting the Chicago Bears 27-23. Frank Tripucka, with only 34 seconds left in the game, plunged over from the one.

TRAIL
Dallas, leading by 18 points at one time, found themselves trailing by a three point margin in the fourth quarter. Led by Tripucka, they started a 75-yard march to the deciding touchdown.

George Blanda, the Bears' fair-haired boy, passed for two scores, one for 41 yards to Bill Dimech and another of 35 yards to Gene Schroeder. Billy Stone went over for the other Chicago touchdown.

Forty-Niners Fired Up
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers, fired by reports of disension in their ranks, are really hustling for Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Rams in Kezar Stadium.

Hugh McElhenny, cited in the rumor as the cause of disension, is getting spontaneous slaps on the back from teammates to prove no ill-will, and the workouts have been full of pep.

The winner of Sunday's game will go into its first place tie with Detroit, which beat the Green Bay Packers Thursday 48-24.

Purdue Will Face Middles
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bill Purdue, star of Army's upset football win over Pennsylvania two weeks ago, is going to play against Navy Saturday despite the death of his father Thursday.

"I feel dead would have wanted me to," Purdue said. "Mother told me that."

Bill's father, Brig. Gen. Branner Pace Purdue, 52, died of cancer at Walter Reed Hospital after an illness of three months. The general graduated from West Point in 1928 and commanded the 120th Infantry Regiment in Europe during World War II.
