

Ex-Con Wed To Widow

OMAHA (AP) — A 68-year-old widow and the 62-year-old paroled Iowa penitentiary lifer whose years of loneliness she ended will be married here tomorrow.

Mrs. Addie L. Jackson and Ernest (Ole) Lindquist will be married in a simple courthouse ceremony.

Probably the only wedding guests will be newsmen and neither Mrs. Jackson nor Lindquist feel they can take more than a day off their jobs for the occasion.

Lindquist—called the "loneliest lifer" in the Iowa Penitentiary—hadn't received a letter for 30 years nor a Christmas present for 40 when Mrs. Jackson, an Indianola, Ia., widow, read of his case in 1949.

She promptly wrote him, mailed a gift and then followed up with monthly visits.

Last April Lindquist was paroled after serving 42 years for the slaying of a policeman. He came to Omaha and Mrs. Jackson followed.

POWER STEERING, power brakes and a powered four-way front seat are optional equipment available on Lincoln for 1953. A 205-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful ever included in a modern production automobile at standard equipment—is an outstanding feature. New upholstery fabrics, new exterior colors and styling changes have been incorporated in the cars. Shown here is the Lincoln Capri hardtop. The new car went on display Tuesday at Basin Motors, 424 So. 6th.

Doctor Faces $40,000 Suit

DALLAS, Ore. (AP) — William R. Mogie, Salem, charging that a doctor performed two abortions on his wife, filed a $40,000 damage suit in Circuit Court here Tuesday.

Named defendant in the suit was Dr. I. D. Bartell, operator of a hospital here. Mogie asked $20,000 general damages and $20,000 exemplary damages.

Dr. Bartell filed a counter motion asking that the request for exemplary damages be stricken and that Mogie's statement that the operations were performed "unlawfully" be eliminated from the suit.

Juke Boxes, Disc Jockeys Start The Xmas Cycle

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Here it is only the beginning of December and already the juke boxes and jockeys are turning out their Christmas songs.

The juke boxes and the disc jockeys have a full quota of Yuletide carols, some centuries old and some brand new. The new ones will be as abundant as ever this year, because members of the music industry are always hopeful that they will find another "White Christmas."

I can remember when the only Christmas songs we sang were the ones we learned in Sunday school. (I seem also to remember when Christmas was celebrated on or about Dec. 25.)

Of course, there had been some modern Christmas songs, but practically all you heard were oldies like "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." All that changed in 1942. That was the year Bing Crosby crooned Irving Berlin's "White Christmas" in a film called "Holiday Inn."

That was a sentimental year, with men going off to war. The song seemed to hit everybody's heart and stay there. Sales records are hazy in the music business, but most experts agree that Bing's "White Christmas" platter is the top seller of all time. Estimates range as high as eight million.

Two million copies of the sheet music were sold in the first year of "White Christmas," and 200,000 are reportedly sold each year.

That is the reason that each year song writers rack their brains for new Christmas songs. And music publishers and record companies plug the daylight out of them, hoping for another "White Christmas."

I found some research on this subject at Capitol Records, which this year is going all out for a tune called "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree." It's a new song written by Marian Boyle and Eddie Gale and recorded by Les Baxter.

"It's a good song," observed Capitol executive Dave Dexter. "That's the only thing that worries me—it might be too good."

He told me that the song was selected from an estimated 500 to 600 Christmas ditties submitted to the record company this year. That gives you an idea of the chances of getting a song recorded, much less have it become a hit.

"The song-writing business is the toughest in the world to crack," Dexter explained. "I think it was Irving Berlin who said that three out of every five American adults write songs at some time during their lives."

Another viewpoint on the Christmas song industry is offered by Herb Montiel, whose firm published "Hang Your Wishes on a Tree." "Every publisher would like a big Christmas song," he commented. "It's just like having an annuity policy. Yet every publisher tries to discourage writers from writing them because the competition is so great."
