Dulles' State Department Survey To Cover Only Top Level Policy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Relations between the Truman and Eisenhower administrations in the field of foreign policy for the next six weeks have now been clarified in talks between John Foster Dulles and top State Department officials.

Dulles, who will be secretary of state in President-elect Eisenhower's administration, made his initial post-election contacts with officials here during the past two days.

Barring some unforeseen and critical development Dulles, prior to taking office Jan. 20, will use the resources of the State Department to make a survey of (1) U. S. policies around the world, and (2) the department's operations.

He is not expected, however, to engage in consultation on routine foreign operations or, as some officials here had thought probable, to make the State Department his headquarters.

Should an emergency arise it is understood that both Dulles and President-elect Eisenhower stand ready to consult with the present administration in an effort to form a united front in dealing with it.

Should Eisenhower and Dulles decide that some action was urgently required and should be taken by the United States before Jan. 20, the Truman administration stands ready to consider their recommendations and put them into effect if it agrees.

Dulles who came here Tuesday night and returned to New York yesterday afternoon, conferred with State Department officials and also paid a call on Secretary of Defense Lovett.

In establishing his relations with his predecessor for the closing weeks of the Truman administration, Dulles had two major choices. He could:

1. Become temporarily a co-worker of Acheson and express his views on current foreign problems.

2. He could limit his acceptance of the administration's offer of all-out co-operation to the use of its facilities to learn about the task that will be his after Jan. 20.

In his conversations Dulles is reported to have made clear that his interest was in studying policy but not in consulting on operations for the interim period unless a crisis made that essential to the national interest.

Dulles also had and still has an opportunity to put into the department men who will be his principal aides when he takes over. So far, however, he has not named any of these and in fact it is understood that he has not yet chosen an undersecretary.

Five specially prepared volumes on the State Department and on international affairs were placed at Dulles' disposal, and he was told that departmental officers will be available to him whenever he wishes to get more detailed information.

Heart Stoppage No Longer Results In Certain Death

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Reporter
DENVER (AP)—Death without dying is becoming fairly common. It always used to mean death when your heart stopped during an operation.

But now this heart-stoppage no longer means that the patient has really died, Dr. Sanford E. Leeds, surgeon of the University of California Medical School in San Francisco, told the American Medical Association today.

By quick treatment, the person with a heart and breathing system which are in fairly good condition can be revived. Giving oxygen, reaching the heart to massage it, using stimulant drugs and electric shock can start the heart up again.

It must be done quickly, before stoppage of blood flow to the brain causes irreparable damage.

Dr. Gerald Frumess, dermatologist of the University of Colorado Medical School told the AMA a person's skin can give you tips about his emotions.

By muscle control, you may be able to keep your face from showing what you feel, he said. But you can't repress skin changes, and the cold sweat of fear.

Some skin changes or disorders may be the unconscious result of unrequited love, or lack of love. Severe itching and rubbing that removes skin may be a way of saying, "Stop picking on me."

There are several events that bring about skin troubles due to emotions, Dr. Frumess said.

Excitement, hostility and embarrassment may cause excess release of a nerve chemical that stimulates nerve fibers leading to the sweat glands. Result is flushing of the skin, oil secretion, sensations of itching, or hives.

Fear and anxiety may liberate another chemical that causes pallor, coldness, sweating, numbness, and crawling sensations.

Under sponsorship of the association last night into the ward of a psychiatric hospital, a hospital specializing in heart disease and another where cancer is treated.

The telecast, scheduled by NBC for 68 stations, was called the largest for a single network in history. From Los Angeles County Hospital, the TV cameras showed the beating of a human heart and heart diagnoses techniques.

Scenes from Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, Md., showed a chanting auctioneer whose cancerous jaw was removed by surgery and another built in its place.

A patient recently recovered from a mental illness and another under treatment were shown from Colorado Psychopathic Hospital in Denver.

Child Saved From Flames

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Two Jacksonville Marines, 11 a g e d down by a mother crying for help, rescued a 4-month-old girl from a burning house yesterday.

The baby, Linda Winn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Winn, was reported in fair condition suffering with third degree burns.

Sgt. Joe L. Smith, 24, was slightly burned on the ears, nose and lips. His companion, T.Sgt. Richard P. Musgrove, 29, was uninjured.

The Marines were driving their recruiting station wagon when stopped by Mrs. Winn, 18, running on the road, pointing to her blazing four-room house, and screaming, "My baby's inside!"

Musgrove pushed in the bedroom window and Smith crawled into the smoke-filled room, found the baby, and handed her out.

Beecham Bumps Head

LONDON (AP)—Sir Thomas Beecham, Britain's explosive symphony conductor, is recovering today from a concussion suffered in a taxi ride.

Sir Thomas hit the ceiling—the taxi's—as he was getting out to make a recording several days ago. He was forced to remain in his London hotel and missed a concert last night.
