

Committee Mulls Changes In Federal Election Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special House committee today started drafting proposed changes in the federal election laws, but the odds appeared to be against anything being done about them by Congress.

At least, nothing has been done in a major way in the election law field for more than a decade, despite biennial arguments of politicians and congressional committees that something ought to be done.

This year's committee, headed by Rep. Boggs (D-Cal.), held a week of hearings during which there was widespread support for changes in present law in the light of newer and more streamlined campaigning methods.

Particularly, there was strong sentiment for lifting of the present ceiling of three million dollars on the money a political committee may raise and spend in one year, and boosting limits that individuals may contribute and that candidates for Congress may spend.

Witnesses representing both big political parties were in agreement during the hearings that the present spending ceiling has caused the creation of numerous independent committees, each of which can spend up to the limit.

Estimates of the total spent on the 1952 national campaign run as high as 100 million dollars, the original law to limit spending to three million by each political party.

With so many committees operating in a campaign, witnesses asserted, it is next to impossible to coordinate activities and have some centralized responsibility for financial accounting.

Some people want the federal laws extended to cover primaries and pre-convention contests, which are not controlled now.

Boggs himself admitted at the end of hearings that the present laws aren't realistic and have a tendency to encourage evasion.

He said his committee intends to make a strong request to the incoming Congress to change the law.

Many of the recommendations made by a similar committee in 1950, and by earlier committees, may be incorporated in the Boggs committee's report. But if they meet the same fate of previous recommendations, they will be permitted to die.

Blonde Graces Paper Money

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A beauty queen swept the board and unbeaten kings off their traditional place on Swedish paper money today.

Blonde, buxom Greta Hoffstrom, 25, winner of a Lake Malaren beauty queen contest, made her first appearance on the 1,000 krona model for five years and has appeared on covers of both U. S. and Swedish magazines.

"Blonde Bomb" Greta was brought into monetary history by a distinguished Swedish artist, Mark Sylvan, who acted on a photographer's tip.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

EDWARD J. BALEY, 20, A2/c in the air force, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baley, Tulare, and husband of the former Pat McFall, also of the California town, is expected to sail from Korea late this month under the rotation plan. He has been in the war zone for the past year. Mrs. Baley has remained in Tulare, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McFall and the Baley home during his absence.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

Protestants Study Question Of Small Churches' Liaison

DENVER (AP)—Representatives of a majority of American Protestants today grappled with the problem of giving "the little brown church" a full part in interdenominational liaison work.

And some church leaders, here for the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., said the task is no easy one.

The Rev. O. M. Walton of Pittsburgh, executive of the Allegheny Council of Churches, said there is some feeling that the national council lacks sufficient liaison with local councils of churches.

"This is perhaps a real danger," he said. "There must be close contact between the council and forces in the field. Co-operation means little, unless it is at the local level, where the churches are."

As now constituted, the council, big as co-operative religious venture in American church history, is governed by a general board and the general assembly, made up largely of denominational representatives.

The general assembly, which opens tomorrow night, is the first since the formation two years ago of the 29-denominational council.

Delegates from the denomination, encompassing 33 million Protestant and Eastern Orthodox church members, today were participating in departmental conferences.

Questions on the operation of the council, its degree of success in strengthening interchurch programs and reflecting grass-roots opinion, are scheduled to come before the assembly.

Walton and others discussed problems confronting the council, in interviews, and pinpointed issues that may arise.

The Rev. Frank Jennings of Boston, executive of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, said he thought that individual churches and local councils were finding fuller expression than ever through the national body.

"This is being done better than ever before," he said. "However, some feel local councils should have greater representation. I don't happen to be one of them, but the structure possibly may be changed later in this direction."

The Rev. Humber F. Klemme of Cleveland, of the Evangelical and Reformed church, said that although assembly delegations now are "heavily loaded with denominational brass," the denominational officials fairly represent their churches.

"There delegations include local pastors and lay people," he said. "Moreover, it's inevitable that the thinking of local churches will work up through denominational channels."

He added, however, that the council still is a relatively young organization, and much problems remain to be worked out.

It may eventually prove desirable, he said, to give "local co-operative agencies a bit more voice" in the governing body.

Ernest Arnold of Atlanta, executive of the council's Southeastern regional field office, said the national agency "is a council of churches, not a council of councils."

"If you start breaking it down to local and state levels," he added, "you run the danger of losing direction."

But he said the question of a permanent location of council headquarters still is a keen issue among local churches and may come up at the assembly.

The council's General Board has voted to keep the headquarters in New York, where it fills one eight-story building and parts of four others, for the next 10 years, pending further study.

Child Sees 2nd Parade

BOSTON (AP)—East Boston put on its Columbus Day parade for a second time yesterday for the benefit of 9-year-old Skippy Romano.

There were 1,000 marchers, six bands and several National Guard units—almost as many participants as there were in the original parade.

The reason for the repeat performance was that Vincent Romano, who in everybody's mind knows as Skippy, couldn't get out to see the original. It was windy and raw and he was suffering a temperature.

The people of the district were glad to put on the parade again because Skippy is suffering from muscular dystrophy, the disease that killed big league baseball player Lou Gehrig.

There was even a band at Christmas in yesterday's parade and later, a party at a nearby schoolhouse at which Skippy was hoisted under with aids.

He got boxing gloves from former Lightweight Boxing Champion Laurel Stiles and from Joe Vaganan, former New England lightweight title. He also got baseball autographed by Red Sox and Chicago Cubs players and a football jacket and helmet from a local club.

HST Passes Incognito

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—Mrs. Aileen Kierstin, 61, of her 51 years an ardent Democrat, gave President Truman the brushoff yesterday.

The pin-stitched news vendor at Cincinnati's Union Terminal didn't mean to—she just didn't recognize the little gray man who handed her a dollar in payment for a newspaper early today.

"You won't be able to spend that dollar, ma'am," he told her. Mrs. Kierstin was busy. She peered at the bill and shrugged.

"I'd like to have a minn full of them, if that's what you mean," she said, and turned back to her work.

Later she looked at the bill and screamed: "Oh, my God, that wasn't really him!"

But she knew it was. Across one side of the bill was the signature "Harry Truman."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

Peace Hope Slim, Says Ike

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

New Lens Aids Blind

BANGOR, Me. (AP)—The development of a clear-image lens described as capable of giving vision to about half the estimated 150,000 partially blind persons in the United States was announced last night by Dr. William Bloomfield of Columbia University.

He said the new lens can be worn like ordinary glasses and described them as actually consisting of two or three lenses set about one-eighth of an inch apart with a total thickness of about seven-thirty-seconds of an inch.

Dr. Bloomfield told the Maine lens is the first device to remove all the blur optically possible from the eyes of a partially blind person.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Cremulsion relieves promptly because it goes into the bronchial system to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes. Guaranteed to please you or money refunded. Cremulsion has stood the test of millions of users.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

OSLO, Norway (AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie declared in a recorded interview with the Norwegian State Broadcasting System last night that there is little hope for peace in Korea.

"Everything has been done that could be done by the United Nations, but I'm sorry to say it looks like they who started the Korean War and attacked the Republic of South Korea, in reality, are against a peaceful settlement," Lie declared.

"It is a fact," he said, "that the Soviet Union, together with four other Communist nations, now are completely isolated. They have never been in such an isolated position. We must only hope that world opinion will be able to influence the coming decision about an armistice in Korea."

IS TIME A THIEF OF Your Business?

How Badly Does Time Work Against You?

NOTE the chart below and see how fast time works against you... judge how little or how much your accounts receivable are really worth!

60 Days old are 90% collectible
6 Months old are 67% collectible
1 Year old are 45% collectible
2 Years old are 23% collectible
3 Years old are 15% collectible
5 Years old are 1% collectible

(By US Chamber of Commerce)
LET CARTER'S HELP YOU!
"Carter's Collection Agency"
Phone 6121

COOKIE FILLER
A golden filling for cookies that's delicious and moist. It's made simply by combining 1 cup crushed crushed pineapple with 1/2 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch and cooking until the mixture is thick. This mixture can be used in any filled cookie recipe.

Fountain Pen Repairing
BY FACTORY-TRAINED TECHNICIAN
Underwood's
CORNER SHOP
722 Main St., Phone 7044

DON'T WAIT!
AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT LATER
LAY AWAY A BULOVA Watch Today

CLIPPER
Self Winding, Waterite*
17 Jewels
Anti-Magnetic
Anti-Frost
Sweep-Second Hand
Expansion Band
WATCH ENLARGED TO SHOW DETAIL
$59.50

MAXIM
Expansion Band
$29.75

MISS AMERICA
17 Jewels
Expansion Band
$35.75

AMERICAN GIRL
17 Jewels
$49.50

SQUADRON
17 Jewels
Expansion Band
$57.50

Dale B. Tepper
WATCHMAKER - JEWELER
116 S. 8th—Next to the Pelican Theater

SO FINE FOR SANDWICHES
Whether for he-man size or dainty "cocktails" or tea time, it is delightful—delicious.

ONLY MORNING FRESH BRINGS YOU

FAMOUS "M" FORMULA

ESSENTIALLY ENRICHED ENERGY-PACKED EXTRA-FRESH

Morning FRESH
WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
ENRICHED WHITE BREAD

Look for the BLUE WRAPPER for ENRICHED WHITE BREAD
Reach for the GOLDEN BROWN WRAPPER for WHEAT (Natural)

for the cleanest clothes and no-work washing—the Maytag Automatic!

The completely automatic Maytag washes, rinses, spin-dries your clothes for you.

Exclusive Gyrafoam washing action washes out the most stubborn dirt and grime... but is gentle as if you were washing clothes by hand.

Safety Lid. Convenient top opening. Needs no bolting down.

The name "Maytag" on your automatic assures you of dependable, trouble-free performance year after year. 309.95

Come in today for a free demonstration.

- LOW DOWN PAYMENT
- EASY TERMS
- LIBERAL TRADE-IN

Three Models 139.95 to 209.95

DOLLAR WISE?
Then It's A Rebuilt Maytag FOR YOU

- DEPENDABLE PERFORMANCE
- HIGH QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
- EVERY MAYTAG GUARANTEED

PRICED AS LOW AS $49.95

Here's your chance to get the most for every dollar you invest. A genuine Maytag in the most respect guaranties you years and years of efficient dependable service. Stop in today!

MERIT'S
609 So. 6th Phone 2-3429