Ike to Consult Mac On Korea Situation

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD USS HELENA, En Route to Hawaii (AP) — President Dwight Eisenhower is willing to hear any plan his old commander, Gen Douglas MacArthur, may have for ending the Korean War.

An exchange of messages, announced yesterday aboard this heavy cruiser carrying the President-elect and members of his projected administration back to the U. S., cleared the way for a meeting between Eisenhower and MacArthur.

It also appeared to dissipate whatever coolness had developed between the two former chiefs of staff during the presidential campaign, when MacArthur supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

"I am looking forward to informal meetings in which my associates and I may obtain the full benefit of your thinking and experience" on Korea and the Far East, Eisenhower radioed MacArthur Sunday.

MacArthur replied on Monday: "I am grateful for your interest in my views."

"A successful solution might well become the key to peace in the world."

The exchange followed MacArthur's speech Friday, when he

Let's lead this piece off today with a historic interchange of messages between two great Americans:

Eisenhower, in the Pacific, to MacArthur, in New York:

"Have just received aboard the USS Helena excerpts of your speech before NAM and am gratified by your continued interest in the Korean war which so vitally affects the United States and our allies. . . . I appreciate your announced readiness to discuss these matters with me and assure you I am looking forward to informal meetings in which my associates and I may obtain the full benefit of your thinking and experience. With personal regards."

"EISENHOWER."

MacArthur, in New York, to Eisenhower, in the Pacific:

"I have just received your message. I am grateful for your interest in my views concerning solution of the problems involved in the Korean war and the Far East. This is especially so because, despite my intimate personal and professional connection and well known concern therewith, this is the first time that the slightest official interest in my counsel has been evidenced since my return.

"Failure of policy there might doo. . . indefinitely the progress of negotiation. A successful solution, on the other hand, might well become the key to peace in the world.

"You know, without my saying, that my service is, as it always has been, entirely at the disposition of our country. My best to you."

"MACARTHUR."

I suppose you must have noticed that for months the busybodies, the LITTLE souls, the he-gossips, the stirrer-uppers of ticky, nasty little tales have been blowing their tiny little trumpets about the supposed feud between General Eisenhower and General MacArthur.

If you'll read those messages carefully, thoughtfully and prayerfully, you must come to the conclusion that there isn't a word of truth in these contemptible tales and never was a word of truth in them.

GREAT AMERICANS are GREAT AMERICANS. When their country's future is at stake, they WORK TOGETHER, shoulder to shoulder, each giving his best, for their country's welfare.

I reckon you must also have noted that these same gabblers of gossip have been whispering persistently in all the dark corners that General Eisenhower and Senator Taft are and have been implacable enemies, ready to spring at each other's throats at any and every favorable opportunity.

Events from day to day are making it plain that it ISN'T SO. General Eisenhower and Senator Taft doubtless differ in certain of their views. But they are GREAT AMERICANS. It is becoming clear that such differences of viewpoint as may exist will not prevent them from WORKING TOGETHER for their country's good.

About a century ago, Josiah Gilbert Holland penned these trenchant lines:

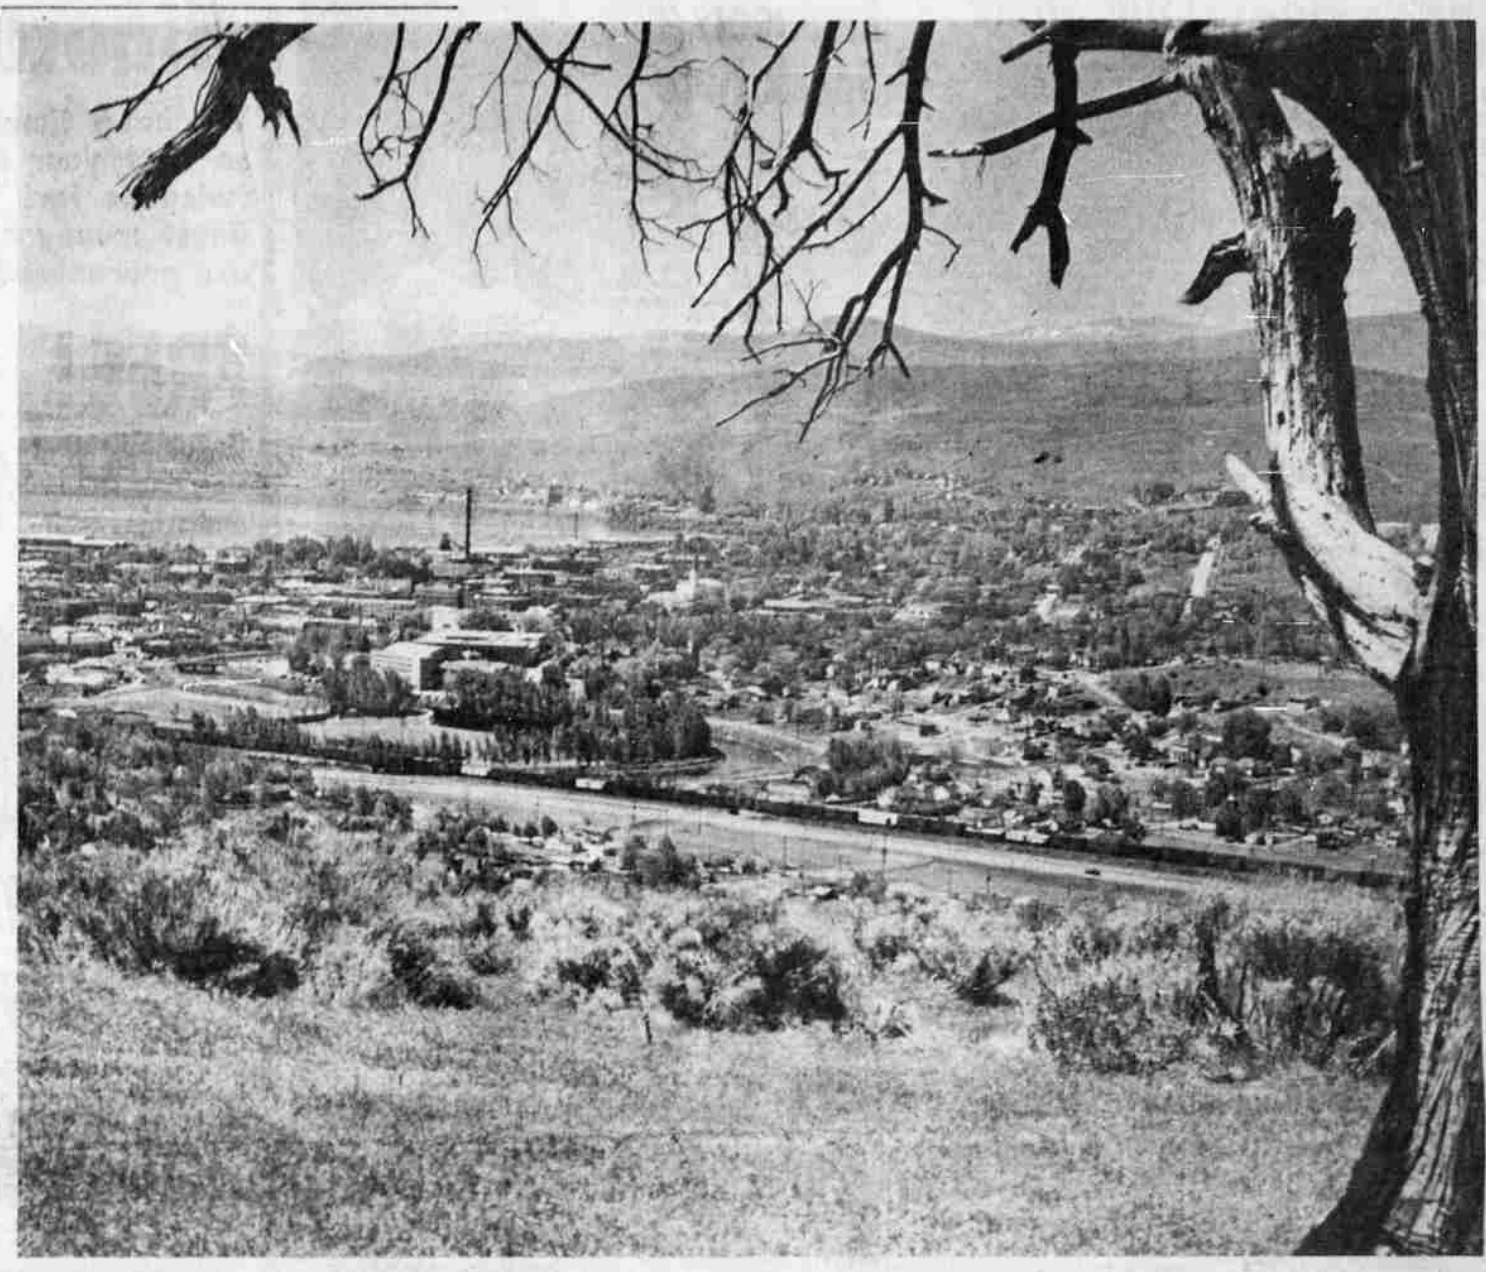

God give us MEN! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office can not buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog;
In public duty and in private thinking.

It is beginning to look like God has heeded Holland's impassioned prayer and is GIVING us that kind of men. If so, our country's future is SECURE.

Remember When . . . ?

THE SOFT COLORS OF SUMMER are nothing but a memory now, but just to refresh your memory here's what our town looks like during the more pleasant months. The picture was taken from the hill east of town in midsummer. Those with enough patience will live to see it again.

KF Sets New Blood Record

Led by Klamath's Mayor-elect Paul Landry, local residents yesterday came out en masse under conditions to break a 14-month old local blood donation record and provide some 279 pints of blood for the Red Cross bloodmobiles here.

The previous record of 267 pints was established a year ago last October.

Nearly a dozen "one Gallon" pins were awarded during the Army operation yesterday—the first time that all-local donors would have been able to receive them.

Exec. Secy. Virginia Dixon pointed out this was actually the first time in local blood donation history that that mark could have been reached.

A total of 331 donors came out yesterday—some from as far away as Malin — and about 100 more phoned in cancellations because of road conditions.

Cookies for the operation were furnished by the Royal Neighbors of America, American Legion Auxiliary, Women of the Bible Baptist Church and the Rebekahs.

Frozen juice was provided by the Zero Distributing Co.

The bloodmobile moved up to Oregon Technical Institute today where officials are hoping to gather enough blood to make the two-day total pass the 500-mark.

Winning gallon pins were Mrs. Mary Schiager, Mrs. Lois McCourt, Mrs. Helen Cook, H. D. Ashley, Alfred Pearson, Mrs. Fern Dolan, John Limman, Maurice Hillman, Mrs. Jean Young, William Dolan and Fay Thomas.

Grange Favors Young Patrolman Hero in NY Shooting

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven men were shot down Wednesday as a swaggering Cleveland gunman fought a furious running gun battle with police through the Times Square area.

The Negro gunman, Clarence O. Sims, finally wounded by a coolly firing patrolman, just as he was about to make his getaway.

Three policemen were seriously wounded. Three passers-by, frantically hunting cover in the hail of bullets, were nicked.

Police said Sims has triggered dozens of holdups in the New York area during the past year.

Cleveland police want him on an armed robbery charge. He told police here he heads the "Shotgun Gang" there.

One of his pals was arrested in the melee that made Eighth Avenue as dangerous for a while as a rambling frontier town on a Saturday night.

This, said police, is what happened:

At 4 a.m. Charles Mason, a 30-year-old Negro got into an argument in an Eighth Avenue bar near 42nd Street with Richard Linquist of Queens. They wrestled to the pavement.

Patrolmen Roy Cahill and Frank Colasomo pushed through a crowd of watchers and arrested them.

Then Sims and Cecil Johnson, a 25-year-old Manhattan Negro, swooped up in a snappy convertible and swaggered through the crowd.

Patrolman George McAuliffe, 52, drove up in his radio car at that moment. Someone in the crowd told him Sims was "loaded" — that is, heavily armed.

At first McAuliffe thought Sims

Morse Again Attacks McKay

EUGENE (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse explained Tuesday why he objected to the appointment of Oregon Gov. Douglas McKay to a cabinet post in the new administration.

McKay, who will become secretary of the interior in Dwight Eisenhower's cabinet, will allow private power companies too much control of electricity generated by public power dams, Morse said.

Morse also contended that McKay probably will permit private power companies to build low head dams on the Pacific Northwest's streams.

U. N. REJECTS UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. N. political committee Wednesday refused to invite the Bey of Tunis to send a spokesman here to detail his complaints against France. The committee voted 26 to 24 to turn down the Arab-sponsored resolution. The U. S. in a reversal of a previous position, announced it supported Britain in the contention that the U. N. has no right to discuss the touchy Tunis-France issue.

George Wilson, 38, of 1127 Alameda, was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital this morning by Kaler's ambulance for treatment of a back injury received while he was trying to push his car out of the snow at his house.

Nervous Bandit Has Troubles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The would-be bandit who entered in East Baltimore grocery last night became so nervous and shook so violently that his revolver came apart in his hand and the lone bullet fell to the floor.

Mrs. Fannie Beall, clerk in the grocery, told police the bandit got down on his hands and knees to retrieve his bullet.

At this point, Mrs. Beall charged the man with a butcher knife and fled—without the money, his bullet and parts of his gun.

Talking Horse Predicts 'Grandma' Bank Robbery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lady settled the matter Wednesday—Grandma is a man. Not only that, Grandma will rob another bank this month, this time in Oakland.

Lady, if you've been reading the papers, is the Virginia "talking" horse, who taps out answers to queries on a typewriter-like contraption.

Grandma, you should recall, is Los Angeles' elderly bank robber, with a stake of almost $4,000 in three holdups since October.

Because Grandma's activities and future plans are of wide interest here, and not only among bank clerks, the Los Angeles Mirror decided to get Lady's forecast, if any.

It commissioned Bill Mellwain of the Richmond, Va., News-leader to quiz the 27-year-old horse.

Mellwain said he asked Lady five questions:

1. "Who is Grandma?" Lady, he said, tapped out "Grandma is a man."
2. "What's her address?" That, the reporter went on, "stumped her momentarily." But when he rephrased it to "Where does Grandma live?" she answered "San Pedro."
3. "That meant nothing to me," said Mellwain, "until I found out that San Pedro is a good sized waterfront town about 25 miles from Los Angeles."
4. "Will Grandma rob another bank?" "Yes."
5. "Where?" "Oakland" (that's farther afield than Grandma has ventured before, 400 miles north of here.)
6. "When will Grandma rob her next bank?" "December."

Oakland bank workers, if they believe in talking horses, would do well to keep a sharp lookout until New Year's.

Inspector General Col. A. R. Sewall, Sixth Army gave high praise to Battery D, 732nd Automatic Weapons Battalion of the local national guard unit last night at a federal inspection held at the municipal airport. The outfit was especially commended for its high recruiting and attendance during the past year. Recruiting increased from 45 to 80 men, and although the battalion's full strength is 150 men, Col. Sewall remarked that if the unit went to training camp next year with 100 men it could function fairly smoothly. Shown in the picture are Col. Marcel G. Crombrez, instructor general for Oregon, Col. Sewall, Capt. Forrest Altier, commanding officer, Battery D, 732d AAA AW Bn, and M/Sgt. Tony Coy, Battery D.

AN EARLY morning conference at Basin Motors was the target of the nine o'clock cameraman's lens today. Seated is Helen Vaagen and kibitzing is Duven Schubert.
