live from Formosa" as one of the officers with whom he had a conference.

Reporting on the American forces in Korea, Eisenhower said: "It is the most splendidly clothed, cared-for army that I think we have ever put in the field."

However, he noted a contrast between this American Army and the ones that went to Europe in World Wars I and II. He said: "It's a force that isn't the wisecracking force of World War II. It isn't the singing force of World War I. But they are young men that know they're out there doing a serious job, and they're doing it without whining and without complaining."

He made special mention of the ROK (Republic of Korea) divisions. "For the competence and courage of the Republic of Korea's trained by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, I heard only the highest praise from all U. N. commanders. My own inspection of some Korean units completely confirmed this estimate. ROKs they are called and rocks they are."

He said he had seen some other United Nations units as well, and said "Their combat records are worthy of their countries' proudest traditions."

With respect to the future, he made three points: "First, the training of ROK forces can and should be expanded and speeded. This is my opinion and the unanimous opinion of the commanders on the scene."

"Second, certain problems of supply have reached rather serious proportions, and require early correction."

"Finally, we must all recognize - in all our thinking and our planning - that the Korean War is but the most dramatic and most painful phase for us at this moment of our world-wide struggle. This journey marks not the end but the beginning of a new effort to conclude honorably this phase of the global struggle."

John Foster Dulles, designate for secretary of state, told newsmen: "The general foreign policy was made at sea."

Dulles joined Eisenhower aboard the cruiser Helena in the run-down from Wake Island to Honolulu, and then flew with him from there to New York. Of the conferences, Dulles said: "We talked at great length. But not of some things to be decided in 10 minutes. We laid the foundation for valuable policy for the coming years. The general foreign policy was made at sea. We made a team to work together."

Dulles told reporters Eisenhower will make no other statement about his Korea trip.

Shortly after the general's arrival in New York, three appointments to posts in the Treasury Department were announced. They were:

H. Chapman Rose, 45, of Cleveland, O., assistant secretary of the Treasury to serve under Secretary-designate George W. Humphrey. Rose is a partner in the Cleveland law firm of Jones, Day, Cockley and Reavis.

W. Randolph Burgess, 63, of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., consultant and special deputy secretary of the Treasury on debt management and monetary policies.

Other receipts included an estimated 19,000 cattle, 400 calves, and 8,000 sheep.

Calves salable 200; market fairly active, steady; good-choice vealers 25.00-32.00; few commercial grades 22.00-24.00; good heavy slaughter calves 20.00-22.00; good-choice stock calves 20.00-22.00; cull-utility calves 9.00-16.00.

Old Stockings Relief Item

In an effort to aid the 1,800,000 (M) destitute war widows and waifs in Japan, an American relief organization has started a new drive to which local persons can contribute.

The relief drive is aimed primarily toward women since the target of the collection is old stockings. The old hose provide a means of employment for the women in Japan.

The sponsoring agency, Women's Welfare Service, says the Japanese women reduce the stockings to individual threads and then reweave them into articles of wearing apparel for resale on the Japanese market.

The drive is being sponsored locally by the Klamath Falls Council of Church Women and the YMCA has been designated as the collection center.

For further information, interested persons are asked to contact the local council or to write to the Women's Welfare Service, Room 342, Miyako Hotel, 258 E. 1st Street, Los Angeles 12.

South Koreans Hear Graham

PUSAN, Korea (AP) - Evangelist Billy Graham, bundled in an Army parka, called for sinners to repent - and hundreds of Koreans came forward Monday night.

Graham preached before some 6,000 Koreans - and some 600 who jammed a blocked-off circle in a Pusan street. No hall in the city would accommodate the crowd - so Graham spoke in the bone-chilling open air.

Well-dressed and ragged Koreans mingled with grandmothers and youngsters to hear the famed evangelist preach from a wooden platform erected in the circle. Thousands sat on straw mats on the ground and thousands more stood.

Graham paused frequently in his fervent appeal, allowing a South Korean Presbyterian minister to interpret his remarks to the attentive crowd.

Graham told his audience "It makes no difference whether you are Korean, American, Chinese or Japanese. You are all sinners. But all of you here tonight do know that you are forgiven of your sins if you confess to Jesus Christ as your saviour."

Closing his sermon, Graham dramatically urged the Koreans to believe in Jesus and proclaim their faith. Bob Pierce, one of Graham's assistants, estimated 300 Koreans and a handful of American soldiers pushed toward the platform. Graham Americans interpreted with heads bowed, then answered in chorus.

After the service, Koreans surged to the platform to shake hands with Graham.

Graham delivered his first sermon in Korea Sunday night before a GI audience. He plans three more night sermons before Koreans in Pusan. He will spend Friday in Taegu and then go to Seoul Saturday in time to broadcast to the U. S. for his weekly radio program.

Pierce said Graham is scheduled to talk with wounded soldiers at an evacuation hospital here in Pusan Tuesday morning.

The Korea Times, an English-language newspaper, carried a front-page story Monday that began: "The Reverend Billy Graham (Charlotte, N. C.), the famous American evangelist known as Billy Sunday, Sunday was a picturesque evangelist of some 40 years ago."
