Ethel Waters Top Contender for Oscar This Year

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Academy Awards race is still months away but it looks now as if a Negro—for the first time in history—is in strong contention for the top actress award.

Ethel Waters, recreating the role she made famous on the stage in "Member of the Wedding," is the possibility.

As producers rush to get their top product on local screens to make the 1952 deadline, the race among the women shapes up as one of the most interesting in years.

At the moment it is Broadway 3 to 1 over Hollywood. Shirley Booth in "Come Back, Little Sheba," Julie Harris in "Member of the Wedding" and Joan Crawford in "Sudden Fear," plus Miss Waters, are the most talked—of woman an performances. Folks in the industry will nominate five for final voting.

For Miss Booth and Miss Harris, their first movies are recreations of roles that gained them many laurels on Broadway. Both are excellent but there is a growing feeling among academy voters that such tailor-made roles work an unfair advantage on the Hollywood talent.

That feeling erupted last year when the voters chose Humphrey Bogart over Marlon Brando for the top male actor award.

Should the anti-Broadway feeling persist, Miss Crawford stands an excellent chance to cop her second Academy Award. Her win in 1945 for "Mildred Pierce" is regarded as the most popular award in the history of the presentations.

Although Miss Waters is recreating a stage role, she has been a movie veteran since the early talkie days. In addition, steals "Member of the Wedding" even from such a highly touted actress as Julie Harris.

Hollywood Variety, the trade paper, agrees with this reporter's opinion. Comments the Variety reviewer:

"Ethel Waters is splendid as the Negro cook, giving the film almost its sole touches of human warmth and understandable enotion."

Some observers see the women's race as strictly between Miss Booth and Miss Harris, with Miss Booth having the edge. Many of the same feel that the two Broadway queens could easily kill themselves off in the voting, leaving an opening for Miss Waters or Miss Crawford to sprint for pay dirt.

The late Hattie McDaniel was the only Negro to win an Academy Award. She won it in 1939 as best supporting actress for her role in "Gone With the Wind."

Christine Film 'Not So Good'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Danish movie critics agreed today that the color film on Denmark photographed by Christine Jorgenson, the New York boy-turned-girl, was amateurish in spots but good publicity for their country.

More than 500 Danes applauded the first public showing last night of the film made by the young American who recently underwent a series of operations and treatments here that changed her sex.

"It was fun to see Denmark with the eyes of an American," wrote Politiken's critic, Edvard Andersen, "but it must be admitted that the film is vulnerable to professional criticism. Miss Jorgensen picks her motives excellently but she needs a lot to get beyond the amateur level."

Miss Jorgensen has said she plans to exhibit the film to Danish-American groups in the U. S. She says she wants to make a career as a photographer.

Before the showing began, Miss Jorgensen wearing a long dress of flowered greenish - grey taffeta, long black gloves and pearl earrings, asked the audience to forgive the fact that some of the pictures were too dark or jumpy. Many were just that. But there also were many beautiful Danish scenes.
