

CAROLERS SERENADE. Candle-carrying carolers from Barnard College serenade President-elect Eisenhower and Mamie, who wears Ike's coat, with Christmas carols outside his home on the Columbia University campus, New York City. Earlier in the day Eisenhower returned from his historic visit to the Korean battlefield.

Straus Plans to Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael W. Straus, a controversial figure during most of his seven years as reclamation commissioner, said in effect Tuesday: You can't fire me, I'm quitting. Straus, in government service since the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's "New Deal" administration took over in 1933, had been asked for comment on a statement by Gov Douglas McKay of Oregon. McKay, designated to be secretary of the interior, said Straus would be the first or second thing he did after Republican Prestoration begins Jan. 20. Straus recalled to a reporter that he said last Nov. 11 at Long Beach, Calif., that he would submit his resignation to Eisenhower but would stay on the job until his successor was named and qualified. The resignation, he said, would go through the secretary of the interior to the President, who appoints the commissioner of reclamation. Reading news stories on McKay's comments concerning him, Straus took issue with statements that he had endorsed a proposed Columbia Valley Administration (CVA). "I have always been silent on CVA," Straus said. "This administration and this department have backed valley authorities. But I personally had the theory the people wanted development of their natural resources — water and power." Straus will submit a new six-year two billion dollar reclamation construction program to the new Congress early in January, at the request of the outgoing Democratic one.

Con Loses Own Case

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — Convict William Sanford Green, defending himself on a charge of being a habitual criminal, lost his case in Circuit Court here Tuesday. He was sentenced to 40 years in prison, doubling his term. Green, along with Theodore Macomber, who was his legal adviser, and a witness, Elmer Davis, all are convicts and all were handcuffed during their appearance in court. Green, 29, contended the judge in the case, Fred McHenry, was prejudiced. Henry sentenced Green to 20 years in prison on his latest conviction—for raping a 65-year-old woman.

Phone Santa at 5131

Klamath Junior Chamber of Commerce members have pushed through a connection with Santa Claus' North Pole Residence, according to Chairman Wayne Plaisted. His telephone number is 5131.

Phone calling started last night, and is to continue tonight and tomorrow night from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Last year about 600 calls were received, and Santa is expecting at least that many this year.
