

New Health Plan May Rest on Approval of Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of a new plan to make it easier for people to meet doctor bills appeared today to hinge on whether President-elect Eisenhower is for it and how strongly the American Medical Association may be against it.

The plan, developed by President Truman's Commission on the nation's Health Needs, is built largely around voluntary, prepaid medical insurance financed in part by federal and state governments.

Senators interested in the health problem said they doubted the new program could get through Congress if the AMA decides to battle it. They said the one thing that might get it enacted would be definite, unambiguous words from the new President that he wants it.

Eisenhower has taken no stand so far on the voluntary, pay-in-advance health plan. During the presidential campaign, he spoke out against what he termed "socialized medicine" and for improved medical service for the people.

The AMA up to now has taken a stand—in opposition—on only one phase of the program—AMA President Louis H. Bauer said a recommendation that the government buy health insurance for some social security beneficiaries out of social security funds spells "compulsory health insurance" and eventual control of health services by "big government."

The AMA intends to thumb through the entire report before commenting on all of it.

Truman, who battled through the years for a compulsory health insurance plan financed by payroll taxes on employers and employees, found the new proposal satisfactory. He said he hoped it would be carried out.

Whether his endorsement will have weight with the incoming Republican Congress is, of course, questionable. Truman couldn't get compulsory health insurance approved even when the Democrats ran Congress.

What the health commission proposes is a broad new system, backed by 1½ billion dollars of federal and state funds every year, to help bring medical care within the reach of everyone who wants it on a prepayment basis.

States and individuals could come in or stay out. If they came in, it could be under standards set by the federal government. But the insurance plan would be run largely by local and state boards. Anyone able to pay health insurance premiums—just how much

Full Operation For Ski Tow

The Moore Park ski tow will be operated all day Saturday and Sunday, and every day next week, the Recreation Department announces, and skiing conditions at the park are good.

From two to four feet of snow are on the ski course.

Klamath Falls is virtually unique in having a ski run and tow right in town. At the ski area there is ample parking room and a warming hut.

The tow is the one used in recent years at Crater Lake, and the charge for use of the tow is $1 a day for adults and persons over 12, and 50 cents a day for children under 12. The tow is insured against accidents in conjunction with its operation.

Man to Face Charge Here

A Klamath Falls ex-convict, Leonard T. Powers, 25, is to be released from prison at Santa Fe, N. Mex., late this month to be returned here to face a charge of knowingly uttering and publishing a forged bank check (forgery).

Powers currently is serving a three-year sentence in the New Mexico penitentiary for obtaining property with intent to fraud.

He is being released after serving one year at Santa Fe on the condition that he be brought here for prosecution on the forgery charge, and has waived extradition.

Deputy Sheriff Dal Reed is to leave Dec. 28 for Santa Fe to take Powers into custody.

A criminal indictment was returned against Powers March 28. His bail is set at $5,000.

Santa Claus Gets Clues For Stars' Xmas Gifts

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Dear Santa Claus:

If you're puzzled about your Hollywood gift list, here are some suggestions:

Hollywood: A new supply of good stories. Big-screen Cinerama and three-dimensional movies may put added punch in the box-office, but it's going to take good plots, and a lot of them—to meet 1953's TV competition.

All Theater Owners: A copy of the above paragraph to send to every movie producer in Hollywood.

Mickey Rooney: A copy of the book "How to Be Happy Though Married."

Jane Russell: More smile and less deadpan.

Lana Turner: A job as a South American diplomat. What that girl has discovered about Latin!

Errol Flynn: A few newspaper headlines. "The Adventures of Errol Flynn" have been too dull lately.

Bing Crosby: Another movie like "Going My Way."

Johnny Ray: Time out from his career to spend a little time on a White Cloud with his bride.

Ava Gardner: A sponge baseball bat to use on hubby Frank Sinatra or else he's due for a splintered head.

Frank Sinatra: Six easy lessons in "How to Duck."

Red Skelton: A TV format that would let him broadcast from a movie. Maybe that would tide him over until he's relieved of all that mental and physical strain.

Mario Lanza: A reconciliation with his MGM studio bosses. His talent's been off the screen too long.

Terry Moore: A big fat year of stardom. "Come Back, Little Sheba" proves she has box-office wallop.

Marilyn Monroe: A sprig of mistletoe to stand under all year—in my living room.

Joan Crawford: No Sudden Fear about a TV series. She'd be great on home screens.

Rita Hayworth: A job as a consultant when studios have little trouble. She knows how to get the most out of a title—and I do mean Prince Aly Khan.

Gary Cooper: A gift of long-winded gab like Pamela Mason's.

Deanna Durbin: A comeback movie.

Corrinne Calvet: A miniature shooting gallery with heads of Zsa Zsa Gabor for targets and a limitless supply of bullets.

Zsa Zsa Gabor: A miniature shooting gallery with heads of Corrinne Calvet for targets and a limitless supply of bullets.

Esther Williams: A big club to use on people who insist her marriage to Ben Gage is breaking up.

Shirley Booth: An Oscar nomination for "Come Back, Little Sheba." She tears your heart to pieces and then puts it together with laughs.

Edie Bracken: Bigger and better roles.

Marlon Brando: A gift order for a new wardrobe.

Les Barker: An axe to chop

The next three minutes can change your life!

The time it takes you to read this can change your life. It can show you how to find most of the things you've been missing—in music you make yourself.

Don't turn the page. It's true! You can find in music you play yourself the answer to your need for self-expression, for relaxation, for the satisfaction of making music instead of just listening to others make it.

Yes, you can play beautiful music even if you don't know a note and never took a lesson. The Hammond Chord Organ makes it all possible; thousands already play their own music on the Chord Organ, without lessons or tedious practice.

An hour after you sit down to the Hammond Chord Organ you play pieces like "Home on the Range." You progress to playing hundreds of favorites, either from the simple picture music or from standard music if you wish. Come in... try it... judge for yourself from the music you play yourself.

Spend half an hour in private with the Hammond Chord Organ. Ask about convenient terms.
