REFLECTIONS FROM Milly's Mirror

SOMETHING NEW—in Olympia Washington awaits Victor and Lucille O'Neill—headed there for the holidays to be with niece and nephew Virginia and Carl De Maris—3 yr old son Bryan—AND the "something new"—Bryan's 6 weeks old brother—Curtis—whom they've not yet seen.

WHICH REMINDS ME—that at the Geary-Stearns-O'Neill tea — the gals from the Bloodmobile — who had worked hard all day — FOR US!—and weren't through in time to go home and change clothes — came to the tea in their Red Cross uniforms — BY REQUEST! — and the considerate hostesses were rewarded with a handsome addition to the already beautiful picture.

SHE WAS FETTERED—in the Empire Room at the Winema—when Mrs. Andrew M. Collier entertained at one of the season's outstanding holiday luncheons—FOR—Rosemary Frei, bride-elect of James Lindley (Jim) Myers. She is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Frei—2507 Gettelle—and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers, 711 Pacific Terrace—and the waves of raves from guests at the "gadget shower" all edged upon the feeling of warm hospitality achieved with Christmas greens—the centerpiece of a Christmas tree of ornaments—and the mellow glow of candlelight.

"SNOW SCENES"—or "Wild Life in the White Woods"—Told to me by a truth-loving friend (who has a corroborating witness)—The story is—that between KF and Harbor—last weekend—in the snow belt—first—pheasants were strutting across the highway—in a loquacious—little something just plain aren't known to strut—then a magnificent buck—stood in noble and masculine grandeur in a circle of "doting does"—SEVEN of 'em!!!—NO bounding off into the brush—NO disappearing act of melting away into the woods before they were really seen — they just STOOD as the car went slowly by—and THEN—(and this is the Walt Disney part) — up the road a "little something" moved at the side—and as the car approached—"little something" apparently made up its mind—and "who-oo-shed" across the road —And stopped traffic—The poser was: "Chippmunks aren't OUT now—wrong time of year—WEASELS don't scurry with a short tail upright—this had all the chipmunk characteristics—EXCEPT that it was pure white—with a tip of black on its chipmunk tail!—ever seen one?—an albino would not have the ermine tail—we'd it?—We'll welcome any and all information on this "little something".

Den 2 members, assisted by their Den Mother, Mrs. Marian Sastny, entered wearing coats, caps and mufflers and mittens, looking like the pictured Christmas Carolers, then proved that they were by singing two carols.

The cub master announced to the boys that they would be given a free skating party Sunday afternoon, Dec. 21, at the Broadway Hall. Each one is to invite a friend. Treats will be given also.

Main Firemen have erected a huge tree, complete with lights on the main section of Malin's business district. Nice work, boys.

Christmas vacation for Malin school children will be divided into two parts this year. The first part begins Dec. 20th and ends Dec. 29th, inclusive. School will then be in session Dec. 28, 30, and 31, then another vacation from Jan. 1st to the 4th inclusive.
