THEY'LL START the new year in Portland. Mrs. C. E. (Chuck) Seavey, shown above, and daughters Joan, seated, with "Boots," canine member of the household; and Janet, younger daughter. Chuck Seavey, who came here with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1936, left recently for Portland, where he was advanced to the company's administrative offices. Their new address is 7205 SW Benz Park Drive, Portland [1].

FIVE YEAR OLD Lindsay Merryman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Merryman Jr., who with her mother is spending the holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins and Mrs. George Merryman Sr.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN O'NEILL . . . 1404 Eldorado, with their daughters, Shelley, 3, and baby Lynne, born Oct. 11, one day after sister Shelley's third birthday anniversary. Mrs. O'Neill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steinfelder, well known Klamath Falls residents.

SINCE 1884 . . . the children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin have sat down to Christmas dinner together. This year marked the 68th shared by the brothers and sisters.

The five remaining children, above, all of whom live in Klamath Falls, continue the tradition. The oldest child, Annie died in 1890, and Samuel Edward, the oldest son, died in 1942.
