Youthful Slayer Wins Last-Second Reprieve

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Elated [illegible] Ernest [illegible], his prayers for life answered by his eleventh-hour stay of execution, changed hurriedly [illegible] and prepared to eat the "last meal" he had refused earlier.

[illegible], 21, saved by a three-day stay [illegible] 25 minutes before he was to walk to the electric chair, said: "I'm sure going to sleep good tonight. I certainly [illegible] my appetite."

He had refused food for two days.

He had been scheduled to die just after midnight for the [illegible] 1952 slaying of A. J. [illegible], Bexar County road employe who had sought to stop a service station holdup in which [illegible] took part.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles granted the 72-hour stay late last night after [illegible] lawyer telephoned board members he had found a hitherto unknown eyewitness to the slaying. Hurried telephone conferences by the three members of the board resulted in the action.

At San Antonio, where members of the Calvary Missionary Church had prayed for more than 1,000 consecutive hours that the youth's life might be spared, the Rev. Frank [illegible], pastor, said:

"We believe God will show himself greater than the affairs of men."

[illegible] had appeared stunned when told yesterday that the pardon board had rejected his appeal for a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment.

"Pardon me a minute," he had said. "I have to sit down. You know, I thought I had at least a 50-50 chance with that board."

When Editor Don Reid of the Huntsville Item appeared at the State Prison soon after receiving news of [illegible] execution stay, the youth was changing from the suit he was to be electrocuted — and buried — in. He shook hands with Reid vigorously.

"What did you do when you heard the good news?" Reid asked.

Still trembling and his head freshly shaved for the electrocution, [illegible] answered: "I jumped up and kissed Father Francis Duffy!"

Duffy is a Catholic prison chaplain. Protestant Chaplain B. C. Anderson brought the news of the pardon board's action to [illegible] in the death cell.

"This is the answer to our prayers," [illegible] said. "I'm the happiest man in the world."

There was no word from Linda [illegible], 20, serving five years for her part in the slaying for which [illegible] was convicted. She is at nearby Goree Prison Farm for Women. She and [illegible] have corresponded continuously in the year they have been imprisoned.

She has said she would like to marry [illegible] "if everything turned out all right."

Child Gets Rabies Shots

MEMPHIS (AP) — A 5-year-old girl was undergoing stepped-up antirabies treatment today despite her parents' belief that prayer had healed the mad dog bite on her face.

Linda Carole Smith was made a ward of juvenile court yesterday and Judge Elizabeth McCain ordered her to a hospital for the rabies injections.

Dr. S. L. Wadley said since the bite on Linda's cheek was six days old, he had decided she should be given two shots daily for three days then one a day until further notice. Normal treatment is one a day for 14 days.

Physicians said the antirabies injections usually prevent the disease if given in time. However, once rabies develops, death is virtually certain.

Linda was bitten on the cheek New Year's Day by her pet dog Lucky. The dog died of rabies in the humane shelter Monday.

Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Smith, had refused treatment on the ground that their pastor's prayer and "the touch of God" had healed the bite.

Divorced Pair Still Friends?

SEATTLE (AP) — Goldie Z. Payne and her ex-husband Verne were divorced three years ago after 34 years of marriage. But since their separation they have been living on adjoining properties.

Yesterday they agreed in Superior Court that henceforth:

1. Goldie will refrain from tossing garbage over the fence onto Verne's property.

2. Verne will discontinue throwing water on Goldie's property; quit yelling at night to disturb her; refrain from entering her residence during her absence and will no longer dump advertising material in her front yard.
