MODELING . . . from the Town Shop and Rudy's Men's Shop, (l to r) Eliza McDonald, Dolly Lowell, Ken Pierce and Jean Reynolds.

SPECTATORS . . . at the style show. Mrs. Vincent Lawler; (ALL husbands hunting.)

AT THE LUNCHEON TABLE . . . Mrs. Melvin Fitzpatrick, and Mrs. Earl Liston.

MRS. JACK TAYLOR . . . and to her right, her mother, Mrs. John Schubert, wife of the Exalted Ruler, BPOE 1247.

AMUSED TRIO . . . Mrs. Dan Mathis, Mrs. G. and Mrs. William Masters.

WE KNOW . . . that names left out, and mistakes in identity and so forth, will be supplied and corrected after this appears; but as this goes to press, all available information is given as accurately as possible.

MALE MODELS . . . were, (l to r) Bob Burke, Drew's Manstern, Bill Alexander, Dick Reeder's; Bill Wilson, not actually a model but, in "sartorial splendor" escorted the women guests; to table and generally assisted. To his right, is Eugene Favell, model for Don's Men's Clothing Store.

LOBBY GROUP . . . from the left, Mrs. Dale Alter, Mrs. Bill Baustine, Mrs. Tony Molatore Jr., Mrs. William Sari, Mrs. Bud Petersteiner, next to her unidentified; and Mrs. Ralph Stroude.

NOW THAT . . . hunting season is over . . . this page indicates that wives of local "nimrods" were provided with ample entertainment and diversion while their spouses were out stalking game.
