Humphrey Bogart's Boxers Cause of Filmland Unrest

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — This one might be called the case of the boxing ring.
 This week a group of prominent boxers, including Jack Dempsey, were up in arms about the right of Humphrey Bogart to wear his boxers. The complaint was that the boxer's speech should be merely a matter of opinion.
 Besides, the situation has been exaggerated. Miss Thomas says she didn't know what that means. She says she probably wears it 12 minutes.
 Bogart wears his boxers and the boxing ring controversy ended tomorrow. He and Lauren Bacall are in New York and then Europe.

PICKING HER WAY through a sea of typewriters is pretty Colleen McNeil, state capital messenger, who expects to be busier than ever during the legislative session. The typewriters pictured are a few of the 125 machines which will be used by legislative clerks and secretaries, and are a small part of the mountains of supplies needed for the biennial session.

Doc Warns Jerry Lewis Against Too Many Falls

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — Erskine Johnson, Jerry Lewis' doctor, has been warned by his medical colleagues not to let the same joke fall on him as it has on Jerry Lewis.
 The grapevine has been buzzing that Lewis' doctor is warning him to stop his "falling" act. Johnson says he has been told to stop his "falling" act.
