ARTIFICIAL EYES

MONTREAL (AP)—Lucite plastic now is being used by doctors at Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital for making artificial eyes. The eyes may be bounced on a concrete floor without damaging them, and have nylon threads or "veins" to add to their naturalness.

Lutheran Church in Tulelake

TULELAKE—A Lutheran church is being started here for the first time. The first service will be held at the American Legion Hall Sunday, 3 p.m. The new church is to be served by the Rev. Richard Graef, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church in Klamath Falls. Pastor Irvin Tweet of Klamath Lutheran Church and Pastor John Recher of Hope Lutheran Church, both of Klamath Falls, have been invited as guests for this initial service.

An advance canvass has determined a surprising number of Lutherans in the general area of Tulelake, Merrill and Malin. Many of these have faithfully driven to Klamath Falls to church. It was long felt that a congregation of which they would be the nucleus should be established closer at hand. The same advance canvass showed a great many unchurched families, as well as a large number who over the years had lost all contact with the church. Many of these have become friends of the Lutheran Church through "The Lutheran Hour", a world-wide evangelistic broadcast. It is hoped that the establishment of a church in this area will win many of this group.

The Rev. Richard Graef who is to serve this new congregation was born in Rochester New York and attended school in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and St. Louis, Mo., where he received his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity degrees. He was called to serve a church at Sutherlin, Oregon. During his stay at Sutherlin a new church building was constructed, a parsonage purchased, and new organ installed in the church. While serving Sutherlin, he started a congregation at Myrtle Creek, Ore., which rapidly grew to a congregation of over 50 members by the time Pastor Graef left to accept the call to Zion Church at Klamath Falls. Pastor Graef has been pastor at Klamath Falls for almost two years.

The Lutheran church was inadvertently started as a result of the leadership of Martin Luther at the time of the Reformation in the early sixteenth century. In opposition to the tyrannical church of the Middle Ages Luther proclaimed the Biblical doctrines of salvation by grace through faith, the sole authority of Scripture as opposed to human authority, the spiritual priesthood of all believers, which in turn have become cornerstones of modern Protestantism, but particularly of modern Lutheranism. Luther's followers, despite his strong protests that they were not to be named after him, were nonetheless dubbed "Lutherans" and the name stuck. But the sectarianism implied in the name is not carried forth in the doctrine, for Lutheran doctrine is the fundamental Biblical doctrine of every Christian in every time and place. The Lutheran Church is a conservative church, not radical or fanatic, but at the same time highly concerned that men should know the grace and forgiveness of God in Christ Jesus, believe it and live by it and be saved by such believing and living.

It should also be strongly emphasized that this new church at Tulelake is not simply for Lutherans of Tulelake, Merrill, Malin and surrounding areas. It is for everyone sincerely interested in a conservative, evangelical Biblical presentation of Christian doctrine. So it is that Pastor Graef and the other initiators of this new church strongly urged everyone who is interested to attend and are desirous of giving them a hearty welcome.

New Pastor At First Covenant

The new pastor of the First Covenant Church, 823 Walnut, is the Rev. Joel C. Nordlund who took over his new charge with the services last Sunday. He preached his installation sermon at 11 a.m. with the topic "Saved By Foolishness of Preaching." Romans 1:18-25.

In the evening the family presented a sacred song program. The family consists of his wife, Alida, four boys: David, 19, at Kansas State College, Paul, 13, Wesley, 11,

JOEL C. NORLUND

Theodore, 9, and one girl, Grace, 6; all attending the Fremont School.

Coming from a missionary family naturally finds Mr. Nordlund receiving his elementary education in China. Arriving in the United States he completed his academic, Junior College and Seminary training at the denominational school North Park College in Chicago, Ill., graduating in 1924.

He received the Ph. B. degree in 1926 from the University of Chicago School of Education. One year of post graduate work at the Divinity School completed the formal education.

Subsequently one term was spent as a missionary in China as representative of the Evan. Mission Covenant Denomination. On returning to this country he has held charges in Chicago, Ill.; Renova Pa.; Silverhill, Ala.; Osage City and Randolph, Kan.

A cordial invitation is extended to any without a church home to worship at the First Covenant Church. Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m., with classes for all ages. Morning worship at 11 a.m. and gospel meeting at 8 p.m. when instrumental numbers and congregational singing will be featured.

Scientists Make Speedy Camera

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — The staff of the University of California's scientific laboratory at this atomic center has developed one of the fastest cameras ever built.

For use in atomic research, the camera can photograph explosions at speeds up to 3½ million frames a second. That's about 150,000 times as fast as the usual picture you see at your movie theater.

THIEVES IN COOLER

ST. LOUIS, Mo. —Safe crackers who burglarized a market here went to the cooler, but they haven't been caught yet. They wheeled the 1,000-pound safe into the refrigerator and closed the door to deaden the noise they made while opening it. They got $807 from the safe and also made off with $109 worth of meat.

Ike Talks Politics With Comm

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower discusses politics with a delegation from the Republican National Committee today and he also set aside time for three farewell talks to Columbia university students, faculty and alumni.

The general arranged to confer with five members of the national committee, which will meet in Washington tomorrow to select a new chairman.

The subcommittee meeting with Eisenhower almost certainly will take word to that meeting that his choice for chairman is Wesley Roberts, who served as the committee's director of organization during the campaign.

That will make selection of Roberts a formality. The former chairman of the Kansas State Republican Committee is in line to succeed Arthur E. Summerfield, who is resigning as head of the national GOP committee to serve as postmaster general in Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Reporters Mystified Over Harold Lloyd Painting Show

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — "What is it?" asked a newsman, pausing before one of the paintings.

"A circus?" suggested a colleague.

"An octopus dancing on a bonfire," said another.

"It's nothing. It's from nowhere," said a third.

And that's the way it went yesterday as reporters paraded past a gallery of paintings by Harold Lloyd, the bespectacled film comic who now finds himself playing a new role—that of a palette and brush artists.

Thirty-five of his mystifying picture go on public display tonight at the Frank Perls gallery here. His first showing, it is due for a New York exhibition in the fall.

The 59-year-old Lloyd beamed as he explained that he himself has no idea what the weird blobs of color on his canvases represent.

"I make no sketches. When I start to paint it is with no notion of what I will have when I am through. I seek only to create a pleasing arrangement of colors. My friends, the artists, tell me my work is most unusual. I wouldn't know."

No one at the press showing could think of any artist with whom to compare Lloyd. His paintings—15 small ones done on the backs of filing cards and 20 larger ones on canvas—are pure color swept, daubed and smeared like butter into the most fantastic shapes imaginable.

Lloyd says they are meant to represent nothing, on this earth or on any other.

"I haven't given them names," he says, "because I want people to make of them what they will."

The show grew out of Lloyd's hobby of more than a score of years, studying colors. He has one of the nation's largest collections of pigments and mixes his own.

Using conventional brushes and palette knives, Lloyd spreads pure colors on the canvas, here in crude, thick gobs, there in wondrously delicate strokes. His work is clear, sharp and striking, yet not garish.

Will he sell them?

"Yes, I plan to ask $300 for the larger ones, $150 for the smaller."

It's a shame this success story can't end with a few words to the effect that Lloyd's new-found source of income will pay off the family mortgage. But unfortunately, that script won't do. Lloyd already is one of the wealthiest men in the movie colony.

McNeill Skips Klamath Visit

Don McNeill, the famous maestro of the breakfast club, almost—but not quite—scheduled a Klamath Falls appearance during a 10-minute stopover while on his West Coast tour through here.

McNeill and his troup are scheduled to pass through Klamath via the Southern Pacific the night of Jan. 21. Their train is to stop here for 10 minutes just before midnight.

The group, which broadcasts on a national hookup over ABC (Station KFLW locally), was invited to stop over by KFLW Mgr. Bud Chandler. A letter from Ralph Bergsten, McNeill's general manager, explained the late hour and the busy schedule in San Francisco the next morning prohibited the stop here.

The letter, in part, read . . .

" . . . Don particularly hopes to get to Klamath Falls some day to try your famous fishing."

McNeill and his group may make a tape especially for Klamath Falls, anyway, while they are in Portland where they will broadcast over KEX, and the full coast-to-coast ABC Network.

GI Freed On Sleep Charge

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Warren G. McConnell, 21-year-old New Jersey soldier, was freed yesterday on a charge of going to sleep at his post in Korea.

An earlier court martial found him guilty and sentenced him to 10 years at hard labor. However, that verdict was reversed by a military Court of Appeals on a technicality and the Army pressed the case a second time.

The case against Pfc. McConnell fell through yesterday when two buddies with him on duty the night of Nov. 14, 1951, testified time and again they couldn't remember just what happened.
