Congress Backs Ike Foreign Policy; Awaits Domestic Program

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's no-appeasement foreign policy creed commanded widespread support today in a Congress marking time for an early blueprint of his domestic program.

thinking was entailed by the shift, after 20 years, from Democratic to Republican control of the White House.
Because of a row over the proposed appointment and the objections of Sen. Morse (Ind-Chief) to quick Senate action yesterday on nine nominations, Eisenhower started his first full day in office without a likely Senate vote today on eight Cabinet jobs.

Except for the Cabinet appointments, there was no business before the Senate today, and the House was in recess.
Eisenhower apparently could count on about two-thirds backing in Congress for his foreign program, as he outlined it briefly in his 20-minute inaugural address yesterday.
