

Guatemalan Peasants Take Plantations From Owners

GUATEMALA, Guatemala (AP)—Police say knife-wielding peasants in Southeastern Guatemala are taking the national land reform law into their own hands and are seizing plantation property. Four hundred farm workers armed with machetes were reported yesterday to have grabbed land in the Anuncion Mita area near the El Salvador border. Police said they were led by a regional officer of the Confederation of Farm Workers, a Communist-dominated group. Guatemala's strong Communist party, which is closely tied in with the government of President Jacobo Arbenz, has agitated for forced partitioning of land. This has already led to bloodshed in several areas.

Under the new agrarian law, uncultivated land on private and national estates is to be divided among farm workers. But first, the government is supposed to buy the expropriated private lands from their owners. So far it has been unable to raise sufficient funds for such purchases.

Man Jailed On Liquor Charge

Ernest Lee, 42, Bly, was jailed here yesterday by State Police charged with purchasing liquor for minors. The police said Lee admitted his guilt.

Lee is said to have bought the liquor for four young people Jan. 19. Later, according to police, the four broke a window in the Blycan store at Bly and took a bottle of wine.

One of the four, Shirley Kirk, was over 18 and jailed. Later she posted $50 bail and was released. The three minors were placed in the juvenile home, according to Juvenile Officer Francis Matthews.

Wheat Tip Trade Plan

The federation called for a balanced trade program "to strengthen the trade ties between the United States and its allies."

The international wheat agreement, designed to stabilize supply and prices through fixed quotas and prices, is due to expire July 31. Representatives of the 46 member countries will meet in Washington Jan. 30 to draft an extension. The Agriculture Department said Thursday it will consult Canada's farm leaders before deciding its own position.
