DOC ALUMBAUGH

Square Dance Expert Visits

Square dancers of the Klamath country are invited to participate in a square dance round-up at Peterson school, Friday, Jan. 30, when Doc Alumbaugh, Arcadia, Calif., recognized as one of the country's foremost callers and teachers will be present.

Alumbaugh is rated as having done as much as any one person to promote interest in square dancing over the nation.

More than 6,000 persons in the Los Angeles area have attended his classes. He has syndicated a series of newspaper articles on the subject and is owner of a company that produces square dance records.

He makes personal appearances over the nation and puts on radio and television shows.

Mrs. Alumbaugh is also considered an expert teacher and authority on the subject.

Veterans Get Land Preference

SALEM (AP) — World War II veterans will be given priority in the purchase of 11 farm units in the Columbia Basin, the Oregon Veterans Department said Wednesday.

Applications must be filed by Feb. 27 at the Bureau of Reclamation's office in Ephrata, Wash.

The farm units range from 54 to 142 acres in size, and from $1,238 to $2,122 in price.

White House Eyes Smokers

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House office workers, it developed Wednesday, "are not supposed to hang around in the corridors smoking."

That word came from President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who at the same time spiked rumors that an edict banning all smoking in the White House had been issued.

Secretaries may smoke at their desks under the unofficial policy, Hagerty said.

As a matter of fact, he told a news conference: "If you look in my secretaries' office, you'll probably see them smoking."

Reporters questioned Hagerty at a news conference about the truth of the rumors.

There were no restrictions on smoking during the long Democratic tenancy of the White House. Eisenhower himself does not smoke but he has never objected to others doing so in his presence.

Reporters asked Hagerty what kind of instructions on smoking had been given to the White House staff.

"They haven't been given any instructions at all," Hagerty answered.

Asked how the secretaries had learned about the new feeling about smoking, Hagerty said:

"By osmosis, I suppose."

(Note: That means cultural penetration through a separating medium).

"I'm a little confused," said a reporter.

"So am I," said Hagerty. He added:

"All we are after is to make the White House a working organization. So people understand they're not supposed to loiter, or hang around in the corridors smoking."

A secretary who was taking notes on the conference, quietly snuffed out her cigarette.

Old Murder Charge Told

GRANTS PASS (AP) — Jimmy Coe, 72, who lived quietly in the Rogue wilderness for years until last week, is wanted in Florida for murder, Sgt. C. R. Borgman of the state police said Wednesday.

What brought it to light was Coe's brush last week with Mansford Akesson in the postoffice at Marial, Borgman said. As a result of a dispute there, Coe was accused of assault with intent to kill. He is being held in the Curry jail at Gold Beach.

Borgman said his fingerprints were distributed to other law enforcement officials, and Florida replied the man had been wanted there since 1926. Borgman said Florida listed his name as James Johnson, and reported he escaped from the Raiford, Fla., prison while serving a life sentence for murder.

In the Marial dispute, Akesson said Coe pointed a pistol at him. Akesson said he disarmed Coe, who then fled. He was arrested three days later.

Flu Outbreak Appears On Downgrade

By The Associated Press

The widespread outbreak of mild flu, grippe and other respiratory infections appeared to be waning today in most sections of the country.

A nation-wide spot survey showed that flu-like diseases were on the decline in at least 16 states, with only three states reporting a sizable increase.

Elsewhere, respiratory infections were running near normal for the winter period.

The survey indicated the outbreaks have been more distressing than dangerous. In most cases the illness lasts only three to five days. Very few deaths have resulted directly.

The four states hardest hit by infection a week ago—Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee and Minnesota—all reported conditions slightly improved.

Several notables have been stricken mildly. President and Mrs. Eisenhower have colds and sniffles. Gov. William B. Umstead of North Carolina, who was hospitalized with a heart ailment, caught the flu but threw it off in a couple of days.

Infections appeared to be increasing somewhat in Kentucky, Alabama and North Dakota.

The Kentucky State Health Department said it has reports of 11,564 cases in 12 counties, but no deaths.

Dr. R. O. Saxvic, North Dakota health officer, estimated 8,000 to 10,000 cases have appeared in that state with incidence still showing a slight gain.

Alabama reported 5,730 flu cases last week, a sizable increase over the preceding week, but State Health Officer D. G. Gill said it is "nothing like" an epidemic.

There were 47,992 respiratory cases reported in Texas in the week ended Jan. 24 compared with 60,253 the previous week. Arkansas counted 22,950 cases Monday compared with more than 29,000 last week. In Minnesota, the University of Minnesota reported it is receiving 50 cases a day, compared with 300 daily during the peak three weeks ago. Tennessee reported conditions had improved in recent days, although some schools still are closed.

In Atlanta, the State Board of Health said there were 7,345 cases of flu in Georgia since Jan. 1, including 5,461 reported for the week ended Jan. 24. It said there were only a few deaths because of the mildness of cases.

"This year's outbreak is much milder than others of previous years," said Dr. W. J. Murphy, Georgia state epidemiologist. "It is nothing to become alarmed about. It is more of a nuisance than a menace."

In Ohio, the city school systems were closed at Franklin, 9,388 population, and at Greenfield, 4,862 population.

The District of Columbia health department reported that flu-like diseases are running at a "high seasonal average" with 15 per cent of the public school students absent Monday.

Other states noting a decline in respiratory ailments included Colorado, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Youth Panel Due For 'Y'

A public participation youth panel is slated to convene tomorrow night in the YMCA during this week's concerted YMCA enrollment invitation, and their topic, selected by KUHS students themselves, is:

"Are facilities for the youth of Klamath Falls adequate?"

All participants in the panel are members of the KUHS Junior International Relations Class, according to Class Instructor Paul Deller.

Don Dexter is to be moderator, and panel members are to be Joan Meador, Gene Metler, Ann Henderson and Wally Sweek.

The Y's doors are to be open for public participation in the panel, which the young moderator is to attempt to sum up when conclusions are drawn.

Meanwhile, invitations for memberships were being extended hundreds of Klamath residents this week, and inspection tours of the YMCA were reported numerous by Exec. Secy. Paul Campbell.

We Keep your Buick's lights 'ON TARGET'
Just about time, isn't it, for an all-around checkup of your Buick's lights?
Look at it this way . . .
For the sake of your car and your passengers, you want your headlights lined up right "on the target" . . . not blinding the other fellow when he's heading for you.
Also . . . your tail lights and stop lights are your protection against traffic from the rear. Back-up lights and flashing turn signals are your warning to others of what you're going to do.
So a conscientious mechanic ought to check them periodically for you.
Days are mighty short, right now. Lights save lives. We suggest that you bring your Buick to the expert repair men in our shop for a careful checkup . . . and how about this week?
