OPTIMIST

Club had the pleasure of hearing highlights of the installation ceremonies. The program was presented by two women, Mrs. Olive Cornett, R. R. (Farrell) Macartney, Chairman of the group, and Mrs. Mary Ellen, who presented the program. The program was a very interesting one, depicting the life of the various states. One of the states represented was Missouri, which there were six pretty girls in the parade but later in the way in between the states. The GOP elephant in the parade stopped and curtsied to the girls. Mrs. Macartney's description of the inauguration and many notables there was very entertaining. Mrs. Cornett who is National Committee woman for the group was with the group from the viewpoint of giving many close-up details which had not been in print. Washington had been such huge crowds that effort was made to take of "Mr. Average American" of the interesting connection with Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur received by her the day of the inauguration. Olive Macartney, who is one of the Gov. Warren's wife when she was in California. The speaker stressed the importance of the part women had in the presidential campaign that they should know that they should uphold the principles which is just beginning to the people to demand that the government shall for the day were Mrs. Macartney, Mrs. Henry George Hillis, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Edna Portland, and Thelma Tulake.
