

Daughters of the American Revolution State Convention Klamath Falls 1933

*Eulalia Chapter Members Entertain
Out of Town Delegates.*

PART OF . . . the large banquet crowd in the Willard Hotel, during the DAR convention. Outstanding table decorations and the carefully planned and expertly executed program, made the event one of the most successful ever given here.

MRS. W. D. FOSTER . . . State Conference Chairman, Klamath Falls; and Mrs. Albert H. Powers, State first-vice regent, Coos Bay. Eulalia Chapter Members, DAR, were hostesses to the out of town delegates.

MRS. ALLAN McLEAN . . . Portland state regent DAR; Delores O'Hara, Crabtree, Oregon, winner of "Good Citizen Award", center; and Mrs. Nicholas Mende, State Press Relations chairman, Portland.

MRS. VICTOR O'NEILL . . . left, and Mrs. Allen McLean, state regent. Mrs. O'Neill, always in demand as a dynamic and interesting speaker, addressed the luncheon meeting, March 10. She and Floyd Wynne, other speaker from Klamath Falls, were a decided and pleasant surprise to the out of town delegates.

SEATING DAR DIGNITARIES . . . at the banquet in the Willard Hotel, March 9. Mrs. George R. Hyslop, Corvallis; Mrs. John H. Gallagher, state parliamentarian; Mrs. Archie McKeown, Hood River; Mrs. Mark V. Weatherford, Albany; and Mrs. Boone G. Harding, Medford. All are honorary state regents, with the exception of State Parliamentarian, Mrs. Gallagher.

IN THE LOBBY . . . of the Willard Hotel, during the Daughters of the American Revolution convention, March 8-9-10, the cameraman caught a group of local DARs relaxing between convention activities. From the left, standing, Eva Burkhalter; and seated next to her, Mrs. Andrew W. Brink; Mrs. William Wales Jr.; Mrs. Henry Nickel, standing back of Mrs. Wales and Mrs. H. A. Pedersen; and seated, Mrs. Guy Berton.
