No Outbidding For This Guy

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Secret (D-Ohio) owns two full cases of assorted greetings cards today because he refused to let a red-haired woman outbid him at a postoffice auction of unclaimed parcel post. Secret paid $19 for the lot—and he insists he got a bargain, despite the fact that some of the cards already bear the printed names of the persons to whom they originally had been shipped. He confessed to a reporter that he might not have bought them, if the woman in question hadn't started to bid against him. Secret is a veteran of these annual auctions. Last year, he bought 600 pairs of socks—and he's still giving them away. He also got 60 ties at 30 cents apiece.

Hoop Squad Honor Slated

Ed Viets and Clifford Brannan will be hosts at a 7-30 banquet Friday night at the Club Cafe honoring lettermen and other basketball players of the BVHS class A and B teams. This is the third annual banquet for the Bulldog basketball players.

Hoopsters to be honored are: A team, Brannan, Viets, Bill Copeland, Jim E. Miller, Bill McIntyre and Darwin Myers, lettermen; Keith Wuehler and Javier Carrillo, B team; Ralph Barnett, J. A. S. Moteschenbacher, George Reese, Marvin Mahrt, Dick Seiber, Pete Leon, Jerry Crutchfield, Archie Stumbaugh, Earl Carson and Cliff Sevi, lettermen; Alan Nicholas, Gary Porterfield, Bill Smith and Jim C. Miller. Other honor guests will be Principal Harry Beck, Bob Doring, A coach, and Ernest Plunni, B coach.

Following the banquet, mothers of the players will take them and their dates and other BVHS students at a dance and party in the city hall. Refreshments will be served.

Weather Kills Ball Turnout

Monday night's snow storm was said to be chiefly responsible for the somewhat disappointing turnout of the Policeman's benefit ball at the Red Barn which featured T. Texas Tyler's band.

The event was given to raise money for the Dorris Boys' Club and according to Police Chief Fenton Mahrt, club sponsor, the boys are heartily disappointed in that the dance netted only $75 to pay on an indebtedness for more than $200.

Through a misunderstanding, the committee in charge of the affair expected the ball to be rent free, except for heating, lights and cleaning charges, but were charged $50. Though pre-dance ticket sales and door receipts amounted to $414.55, expenses were: Band, $207.30 (one-half of receipts); hall, $50; ticket seller (at hall), $5; doorman, $6; advertising, $71.25 (posters).

The ball was patronized mainly by local residents. Police Chief Mahrt and the committee in charge wish to thank patrons for their support.

Next meeting of the chapter will be April 8 at the 40-Club, Dorris.

Dorris Cabin Court Sold

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Moteschenbacher have sold their home, cabin court and store building to Mr. and Mrs. Muel Nelson. There are steady residents in nine of the cabins, three transient cabins and a caretaker's cabin, in addition to the store building a utility room.

Moteschenbachers, who have been residents of Dorris off and on for the past 25 years, purchased the property about 10 years ago from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelby.

The Nelsons will give up their home on California April 1 to the Moteschenbachers, who have accepted the California street property as part of their real estate transaction. Moteschenbacher, former police judge and justice of the peace, and wife hope to dispose of other Dorris property and move to the bay area.

Moteschenbacher has long been active in the Dorris PTA. Red Cross and Dorris Women's Club. Nelson, until lately, has been head mechanic at Dyser's Chevrolet. Mrs. Nelson has also been active in local PTA work.
