KU Choir Wins Honors

Klamath Union High School's cappella choir came near stealing the show Saturday at the annual convention of the Northwest Division of the National Music Educators Association.

Reports from Bellingham, where the convention was held, say that the 70-voice KUHS choir was accorded a rousing ovation and many nationally prominent music figures went backstage to personally congratulate the students and their instructors.

The choir was one of only four high school music units in the Northwest invited this year to perform at the convention.

Among music notables who went backstage with congratulations following the KU concert were: John Carter, president of the world's largest music publishing house, the G. Schirmer Publishing Company, who said it was "one of the finest high school choirs I have ever heard"; Wayne Hertz, dean of music at the University of Idaho; Glenn Lockery, professor of music at the University of Idaho; Charles Lawrence, director of choirs at the University of Washington; and Nelson Jansky, Boston, vice president of the C. T. Birchard music publishing house.

FIRST NEW HOME IN THE ELDORADO HEIGHTS residential development is the Robert El-lingston Jr. residence above. The home, on Fairmont Street, was designed by architects Morrison and Howard and the contractor is Thomas K. Harper. Completion is expected in about six weeks.

Former Showgirl Severely Burned

LOS ANGELES (P) — Hannah Williams, former showgirl and an ex-wife of Jack Dempsey, was severely burned Tuesday when a fire broke out in her hotel room.

Overcome by smoke, she staggered from the room and was taken to an emergency hospital.

Assistant Fire Chief Leonard Leonard Eggleston said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette.

Miss Williams and the former heavyweight champ were divorced 12 years ago. She was married three years ago to comedian Tommy Monaghan and divorced him a year later.

Bum Check Charge Filed

Henry Darrow Cox, heavyset six-footer, was arraigned in District Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining property by false pretenses, paying for a car with a $2,997 bad check.

He asked for time to consult an attorney, and was ordered to the County Jail in lieu of $3,500 bail.

Cox, 26, was brought here yesterday from Redding, Calif., where he had been apprehended at the request of local authorities after the bad check complaint against him had been filed by R. H. Shellhorn, auto salesman for Jim Olson Motors.

He is accused of giving a bad check for a 1952 DeSoto sedan March 20.

SUICIDE

VATICAN CITY (P) — A poorly-dressed woman about 35 years old — apparently an Italian — jumped to her death down the shaft of the elevator that takes visitors to the top of St. Peter's Basilica Tuesday.
