New Influenza Vaccine Found

CHICAGO (AP) — A new influenza vaccine which promises to double the one year immunity period of other vaccines was disclosed Wednesday by a Pittsburgh doctor.

The new vaccine, developed at the University of Pittsburgh also promises to be effective against more types of flu.

Dr. James E. Salk, 38, the Pittsburgh doctor who headed a research group which developed the new flu vaccine, last week announced a new promising vaccine against all types of polio. The group's account of the new vaccine was submitted to the American Medical Association.

EVEN THE DOGS get in on the spring gardening this year. Here Pooch, who belongs to Mr. J. T. Mitchell, Pelican City, digs in and gives a paw to Barbara Arnold. Barbara is a time-keeper at Sears.

Cutting Horse Feature Set

In keeping with tradition, the Red Bluff Roundup on April 18 and 19 will again present a new feature to Northern California rodeo fans.

This year the featured event will be the $1000 Cutting Horse Contest with an added entry of $100 per horse.

This augmented purse will attract the very best cutting horses from throughout the west, and an exciting event is anticipated, Roundup officials said.

Already entered are the horses, Snipper, W. Reserve World's Champion and Poco Tivo, Reserve Pacific Coast Champion. Both animals are owned and ridden by Don Dodge of Sacramento, Calif. Many cutting horses from throughout the southwest, and from all eleven western states are expected to enter.

These highly trained and intelligent animals have proven to be a featured attraction at western events during the past few years, and local fans will see the best of the field in action at Red Bluff on April 18 and 19.

This contest will be only one of the 15 contest events presented at the Red Bluff Roundup.

Two Die In Gun Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — An off-duty veteran policeman and a youthful robber shot and killed each other in a blazing gun battle in a North Clark Street saloon early Thursday. One customer suffered a wound in his left arm when struck by a ricocheting bullet.

Two companions of the dead robber escaped. About a dozen customers were in the saloon when the shooting started.

The policeman, who was killed by a single bullet in his heart, was William Fuller, 49, who had stopped in Mickey's liquor store and saloon after ending his shift shortly before midnight. He was not in uniform.

The dead gunman, James Boswell, 26, had been shot at least four times. His automatic pistol was found on the floor, emptied.

Police said two of the robbers seated at the rear of the bar drew revolvers and told the bartender, Gordon Swahn, 44, "This is a stickup." The third gunman, sitting near Fuller at the front of the bar, started shooting when Fuller drew his pistol.

Indian Visitors Copy US Idea Of 4-H Club Methods

By SELIG S. HARRISON

BRADSON, North India (AP)—At the 4-H Club youth camp near St. Joseph, Mo., they had no idea what they were starting when 21 touring Indian farm leaders paid a visit one day last September.

One of the Indian agricultural experts, 24-year-old Amrik Singh, decided then and there that organizing young farmers along 4-H Club lines could change the face of the impoverished Indian countryside and end recurrent famine.

"I had heard about the farm youth programs in America, but seeing something in action makes all the difference," Singh declared. Less than six months after his return from the Ford Foundation-sponsored tour of the United States and Japan, Singh has helped organize 21 young farmer clubs with 300 members. He has even staged his first annual demonstration camp to teach better farming methods.

Now other young farmer groups are springing up in the South Indian state of Mysore and in scattered areas across the country.

Bradson is one of the most successful model extension projects in India after slightly less than a year in operation.

Village-level extension workers show peasants how improved seed fertilizers, and farming methods can increase crop yields. Through simple sanitation returns, such as filling stagnant ponds, they can quickly demonstrate better health possibilities.

Healthy poultry stock drawn from breeds expensive in India such as leghorns or Rhode Islands prove especially popular as youth projects. Poultry breeding is widespread at present in villages and could make possible some food scarcities.

Communist strength has been through other regions strategic frontier state, and East Punjab State. In the Bradson area the winds have now shifted to of democratic groups.
