Employers Ask Some Rights

WASHINGTON (U) — A management witness told the Senate Labor Committee Tuesday that employers should have the right to use the lockout to offset union's right to strike.

Alexander M. Green Jr., spokesman for the American Bakers Association, urged a change in the Taft-Hartley Act to spell out clearly the employer's right to use this labor dispute weapon.

Tax Slash May Still Be Possibility

WASHINGTON (U) — The Committee for Economic Development today expressed belief government spending can be brought into balance with income in the coming fiscal year without giving up scheduled tax reductions.

This would mean trimming a little over $1½ billion dollars out of spending for the 12 months starting July 1 as projected by former President Truman.

The CED said taxes should not be cut until economies to balance One in every five Americans will eventually have cancer, American Cancer Society statisticians estimate.

The CED is a national organization of businessmen and economists formed after World War II to study the economy and government economic policies, and to make recommendations.

Today's report on tax policy was made public by Frazar B. Wilde, chairman of CED's Research and Policy Committee, who is president of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn.; and J. Cameron Tromson, chairman of CED's tax subcommittee, who is president of Northwest Bancorporation, Minneapolis.

The report discussed a balanced budget only in terms of balancing the nation's "cash budget." This measures only actual income and ougo of government funds, leaving out of account government collections for social security and other trusts.

Truman's budget for fiscal 1954 predicted a deficit of $9,900,000,000. On a cash basis, however, Truman predicted a deficit of $6,600,000,000.

The CED recommended that the government give "official recognition to the fact that it is the cash budget that should be balanced," because it "gives a better indication of the inflationary or deflationary effect of federal finances."

The CED report said:

"Federal expenditures can and should be cut enough to balance the cash budget and permit tax reduction, but taxes should not be cut until it is clear the necessary economies will be achieved. "We regard tax expirations and reductions provided for in the Revenue Act of 1951 as a practical though incomplete approach to much-needed reform of the tax system."

Mr. Black - builder of better beef

He's a bull... yes. But actually he's more than just a bull. He's a pacesetter of progress... a builder of better beef... a promise of pounds, price and profits.

If your cows are horned, he breeds 'em off your calves. And if your herd is red or white, he soon turns it black. But most important: he gets you a good calf from a grade cow to boost your beef profits.

You've heard the old axiom: "Blood will tell!" But it'll say a lot more... and pay a lot more, too, if it's Blood from a Black Bull!

He breeds the horns of Angus is the only naturally hornless breed. When you cross an Angus bull with your horned cows, at least 95% of the calves will be dehorned. And on successful crosses, all the horns will go. You'll have no dehorning problem... no maggots... no infestation. What's more, you'll have virtually no trouble from cancer eye or pin eye when your calves and heifers are from an Angus bull.

He breeds your herd black

You know, it's a wonderful feeling to have a good, uniform crop of heifers. And in 3 or 4 crosses with Angus bulls, you have a solid black, hornless herd of fine beef cows. Today, the demand for commercial Angus cows and heifers far exceeds the supply.

Better buy a black bull

Where can you find one? There will be Angus consignors from four states at the sale April 13. Attend the show the 12th and look them over. You'll find the Angus bull you need at a price you can afford to pay. Is there any easier way for you to increase the return from your labor and feed? Is there any sounder investment you can make?

He upgrades your calves

You see, Angus bulls are famous for their prepotency. They pass on their many desirable characteristics to their offspring. And you know there's no better beef type than Angus. There's lots of ways of describing it... but it all adds up to high dressing percentage and more salable beef, especially in the higher-priced cuts. That's why packers usually pay more for Angus or Angus cross-bred steers.

Your calves from a good Angus bull will not only weigh more at weaning, but will sell for more as feeders, or when finished for market. And your improved heifers will pay you dividends for years to come.
