

Duke Ellington To Bring Dance Band To Klamath

BY WALLACE MYERS

I've seen and heard Whiteman work but I've never been that lucky with Ellington so I'm looking forward to this coming Tuesday evening in glowing anticipation.

Paul Whiteman and Duke Ellington must be recognized as the two bandmen who made the world's top music critics recognize true jazz as a true art occupying a classical niche all its own.

Only once in musical history has a Vienna Opera audience demanded that a number on the regular program be repeated in its entirety as an encore. And that is what happened when Whiteman and his men did Rhapsody in Blue before what is probably the most learned music audience in the world.

Last fall, Ellington took his band to the Metropolitan Opera stage in New York scored a great success before that choice audience. His annual concert in Carnegie Hall have come to be "must" attractions for music lovers lucky enough to get in the hall.

So, when Ellington brings his band here to the Armory Tuesday night, it will be far more than just another dance. Seeing "the Duke" direct his men from the piano is said to be a thrilling experience.

Ellington is currently on tour of the nation to mark the Silver Jubilee of his advent into the popular music world. Since he made his bow at the Cotton Club in New York back in 1927, Duke has composed and arranged numbers that have steadily grown in music greatness. Many critics say Ellington is so far ahead of his time that some of his old numbers still have not won their full acclaim.

From this reporter's viewpoint there has never been a more thoroughly enjoyable disc cut than Ellington's "Sophisticated Lady." Other favorites of mine are "Rum and Reggae," "Mood Indigo," "Take the 'A' Train," "Solitude," and "Black and Tan Fantasy."

Ellington and his men are being brought here by Baldy Evans.

Morse Breaks Talkfest Mark

WASHINGTON — Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore) became the new champion of the Senate marathon talkers at 6:04 a. m. today.

In an iron-man performance to dramatize the fight against the bill to establish state ownership of the oil-rich submerged coastal lands, he began a speech at 11:40 a. m. yesterday and was still going early today.

The wary Senator, 51, admittedly weary but giving no hint of quitting, hung up a new Senate record by talking his way past marks that had been set by the late Robert LaFollette Sr. and Harry Loomis.

LaFollette, Wisconsin Progressive, held the Senate floor for 18 hours, 23 minutes in 1908 in a battle over a currency bill, but numerous time-consuming quorums calls cut several hours off his speaking time.

Second only to LaFollette was Long—the Louisiana Kingfish. He set the mark of 13 hours 35 minutes in 1935 with a debate over a National Industrial Recovery extension bill.

Spring Storms Rip Nation

By The Associated Press

Spring storms—both rain and snow—whipped over wide areas of the mid-continent today.

Pleasant weather was reported in most other sections of the country. However, wet weather appeared headed for Northeastern states.

Heaviest snowfalls were in Northern North Dakota with falls ranging up to 18 inches at Milton. There also was snow in parts of South Dakota, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Strong winds resulted in drifting snow in some areas in North Dakota, blocking roads and disrupting communications.

Thunderstorms and showers hit the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region. Rainfall in Lake Charles, La., in the last 24 hours measured more than 5 inches. Falls of around 2 inches were reported in sections of Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Texas.

Jaycees Cancel Horace Heidt Show

Because of unforeseen circumstances, the well-known Horace Heidt Show scheduled for an appearance here this Spring has been canceled, according to Leo Morstad, promotion chairman. Attempts will be made to return it at a later date, Morstad said today.

The show has been sponsored for several years by the Jaycees. No ticket sale had been started when the word of change of plans reached here.

PLENTY OF SKILL went into the baking of cakes and pies during competition at the 4-H Fair. Here two Keno girls, Darleen Scherer and Joyce Farmer, put their all into baking a delicacy.

HAVING A GOOD TIME for themselves at the 4-H Fair the other morning were Sally and Dianna Wales, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Wales. Looks like they were planning on using some of this recreational equipment this coming summer.

Klamath Basin Shrubs And Plants To Be Collected

A collection of native plants and shrubs of the Klamath Basin is being made by the Nature Society of the Klamath Region under the direction of Russell Penkally, chairman of the Herbarium Committee.

The society has long felt and recognized the need of a local herbarium where specimens of the native plants can be kept for the assistance of people interested in the flora of the Klamath Basin. There has been no intensive basin wide collection in the botanical field though there has been extensive collections made by Elmer Applegate and Mrs. Small.

Applegate collected and published lists of plants for Crater Lake Park and the Modoc Lava Beds while Small collected generally over the region. The work of Small has never been published, her manuscript and collection of plants is in the hands of the Klamath Historical Society.

The Nature Society has the lists of Applegate and Small to build upon, however, these lists are far from being complete and there are no preserved specimens of the plants readily available for study and comparison. Now the spring collecting season is at hand so

Car Smacked By Freight

A. E. Macartney, 2625 Levy, suffered a 2 1/2-inch finger, about 7:40 Friday evening when a Weyerhaeuser Timber Company car he was driving was struck by a Southern Pacific train at Dorris. Macartney said a salesman riding with him was uninjured.

S. P. officials said the train was a local freight which was doing some switching. The freight engine was backing up, pushing a gondola. The railway car struck the Weyerhaeuser automobile in the middle of the crossing and shoved it down the track some 80 feet.

Macartney was not hospitalized. He returned to his home after a doctor had sewn up his lacerated finger.

New Pastor Takes Over In Tulelake

TULELAKE—The Rev. Francis E. Broyles has taken the pastorate of the Baptist Extension Church at Tulelake. This church meets in the Legion Hall temporarily and is under the direction of the First Baptist Church of Klamath Falls. This group has been conducting its meetings since the first Sunday of January.

Broyles came here from Westwood, Calif., where he led in the establishment of a church which now has 25 members. He is a native of Alabama and is a graduate of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.
