CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — A drop of more than 2 cents in the May wheat contract unsettled other deliveries of that grain and caused a nervous undertone in other pits on the board of trade Wednesday.

Weakness in May wheat was attributed to selling by traders who do not want to accept delivery of cash grain on these contracts. Friday is the first day cash grain may be delivered and some grain men believe substantial quantities will be tendered.

All rye contracts sank to new seasonal lows. Losses in other pits were mainly limited to fractions.

Wheat closed 1 ⅜-2 ⅝ lower, May $2.17 ⅛, corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, May $1.56 ¾-⅞, oats ⅛-¼ lower, May 74 ⅛-74, rye 3 ⅛-2 ⅝ lower, May $1.57 ⅛, soybeans ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $3.06-$3.05 ¾, and lard 12 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $10.62-10.60.

Wild Storm Quits Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A wild storm front growled goodbye to Texas Wednesday, leaving 13 dead.

The front's deadly weapons were tornadoes, lightning, high winds and driving rain.

At least six tornadoes struck during the black hours of Tuesday night and early Wednesday.

Lightning stabbed from thunderstorms that poured up to 10 inches of rain on tender spring crops.

The twisters killed two persons—one near Gonzales and one near San Antonio. Lightning-set fires killed five persons at Kilgore. Two youths were killed in a collision in blinding rain near Dublin. A boy drowned in wind-whipped Lake Corpus Christi.

Floodwaters from heavy rains closed many roads in East and South Texas. Streams rose also in North Texas. The U. S. Weather Bureau warned that the Trinity River would be 17 feet above flood stage at Dallas by midnight.

The squall line that had pounded the eastern half of the state moved into Louisiana Wednesday. Showers continued in extreme East Texas.

Portland On Standard Time

PORTLAND (AP) — Portland city employes will stay on standard time working hours this summer. The City Council voted 4-1 Wednesday against changing hours to give them longer evenings.

State law forbids daylight time for Oregon, but many firms here reported they would open an hour earlier and close an hour earlier if the city would take the lead and change its employes' working hours.

But with only Commissioner Nate Boody differing, the council decided to keep its present hours.

That was expected to rule out any wholesale changes by business firms. There have been some changes, including at the Portland Air Force Base and the Albany Bureau of Mines laboratory.

The Central Oregon Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night at Redmond heard a discussion of changing work hours and decided there wasn't enough interest to do anything about it. So a request for the shift was tabled.

Deposits now total $607,710,901 as compared with $576,197,333 on March 31, 1952. The Klamath Falls branch reported deposits in the amount of $13,808,168.29, according to Mr. William A. Huggins, manager.

Continuing to serve the banking needs of Oregonians, the U. S. National marked up an increase in loans and discounts, reporting a total of $236,208,485. The spring statement call in 1952 showed a loans and discounts figure of $190,573,894.
