DIES

SEASIDE (AP) — One of the few remaining Willamette River steamboat captains died Wednesday. He was John Newton Graham, 86, member of the family that operated the Yellow Stack steamboat line on the Willamette many years. He succumbed at his home here.

FIRST LIBERATED WAR PRISONERS ARRIVE IN U.S. — First man down the ramp at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., is Sgt. Edward G. Anderson of Alabama City, Ala., (wearing overseas cap). He is followed by Pfc. William R. Brock Jr. of Rome, Ga. (also wearing overseas cap).

Red Trial Continues In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — A witness whose testimony may later be ruled inadmissable has testified in the trial of seven persons accused of subversion that he once led a movement to infiltrate the United States armed forces with young, revolution-minded Communists.

The witness, Paul Crouch, was one of the first government witnesses called to testify about the activities of the Communists in the United States. His appearance and testimony brought repeated objections from the defense and Judge William J. Lindberg advised the jury to listen to Crouch with the mental reservation that the testimony may later be held inadmissable.

The obections of John Caughlan, attorney for six of the seven defendants, was based on the fact Crouch's testimony did not apply to any period included in the charges against the defendants.

Crouch said he was head of the "national department for work in the armed force at the time he left the Communist Party in 1942. This was 17 years after he became a member while serving time in the Army disciplinary barracks on Alcatraz Island for Red activity while in the Army.

After his release from prison in 1927, he told the court, he embarked on a career of recruiting men to enter the Army and Navy to engage in Communist activity.

"I had Communists slip into the Navy, and several on the U. S. S. Oklahoma were designated as a concentration point of the party, recruiting others," he related.

Crouch has testified at a number of trials in the United States and Hawaii, telling of Communist activities. Caughlan said Crouch is "an employe of the Justice Department testifying all over the country."

Giersbach Quits Post

PORTLAND (AP) — Dr. Walter C. Giersbach yielded to his critics at Pacific University Wednesday by announcing his resignation as president, to become effective Aug. 31.

He had been on leave of absence since March 1, when 42 of the 45 faculty members at the Forest Grove school demanded his dismissal in a petition accusing him of mismanagement.

Giersbach told the board of trustees he was resigning in order "to make proper and adequate arrangements for the future of my family." He did not disclose his future plans. A successor has not been named.

Giersbach, who is 55, served as a Republican senator by appointment in the recent Legislature. He was a pastor and church superintendent in Illinois before becoming president at Pacific in 1941.

US Chamber Hears Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce were in accord Thursday on "trade, not aid" in foreign policy, but at odds over restraining the government's treaty-making power.

Eisenhower told delegates to the chamber's 41st annual meeting Wednesday night that healthy international trade "is the material foundation of our whole foreign policy."

"We must trade with others or we can not exist," the President said in a nine minute off-the-cuff talk.

He spoke at a dinner after the delegates adopted policy declarations.

Among these were a call on the government to halt foreign economic aid—not to be confused with military aid.

But the delegates endorsed a resolution, now pending in the Senate, to restrain the treaty-making power. Eisenhower has said this resolution, introduced by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), would make his job harder in the field of foreign affairs.

Wheat Stock Figure Up

SEATTLE (AP) — Stored wheat stocks in Washington, Oregon and North Idaho were reported Thursday as 48 per cent higher than last year.

A joint state-federal report showed the storage figures for April 1 were 52 per cent higher for Washington, 26 per cent up for Oregon and 232 per cent up for North Idaho.

The report said Pacific Northwest storage was about seven per cent of the nation's total—the same as a year ago.

Approximate storage figures for each of the three states, for 1953 and 1952, were: Washington, 33½ million and 22½ million bushels; Oregon, nearly 15 million and nearly 12 million; North Idaho, five million and 1½ million.

The Washington figure was described as 8½ million bushels less than the all-time high for April in 1951. The increases were in interior mills, elevators and warehouses.

Rain, Snow Plaster US

By The Associated Press

Rain and snow, with strong wind hit wide areas of the country Thursday from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians.

Winds, with gusts up to 50 to 60 miles an hour, whipped over Midwest areas during the night, diminished by morning. Storm warnings, however, remained on all the Great Lakes except Lake Ontario.

A storm center over Northern Oklahoma and Eastern Kansas dominated the weather picture over the country. General rain was reported over the Northern Plains with showers and thunderstorms in the Mississippi Valley.

Light snow fell in Western North Dakota, Eastern Wyoming, Northwestern Nebraska, where measured two inches at Moorcroft, Wyo., and one inch at Rapid City, S. D., and Chadron, Neb.

Heavy thundershowers occurred in the Lower Mississippi Valley. One of the areas heaviest hit was Jackson, Miss., which reported rainfall of nearly five inches.

Jap Flag Flying Causes Comment

PORTLAND (AP) — A blustery wind whipped the rising sun flag of imperial Japan Wednesday as it was hoisted atop the American Bank Building here. That prompted a number of phone calls from the curious.

Masayoki Harigai, Japanese consul whose offices are in the bank building, explained it was the emperor's birthday. On an earlier Japanese holiday this year the flag flew but drew no comment—there was no wind and it hung down to the pole and could not be identified, he said.

Gov. Patterson was a principal guest at a dinner observance of the birthday Wednesday, given by the consul at the University Club.

CAR FATALITY

PORTLAND (AP) — An automobile collision on the outskirts of Portland Wednesday killed a six-week-old boy, David Robertson, son of Mrs. Norma Robertson.
