

Hydrogen Bomb May Be Closer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission, in a report today, says it is now possible that the hydrogen bomb may be developed in the next few years.

Rent Curbs Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday signed a law curbing rent controls in 32 states.

McKay Plans Oregon Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay announced Thursday he plans to visit Oregon in May and June.

Reds May Be 'Pinched Off'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen said Thursday there is evidence that Russia is being "pinched off" from its sources of raw materials.

Steel Firm Reports Net

NEW YORK (AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's No. 2 steel producer, reported Thursday it had a net profit of $2,063,000 in the first three months of this year.

scale. Up to now, the commission has couched its references to developments in hydrogen bomb research in scientific double-talk, saying only that certain atomic tests at Eniwetok have "contributed to thermonuclear research." The word "bomb" is almost never used, weapons tested are "devices." Up to now the commission has referred only to "nuclear devices" — never "thermonuclear devices" which would refer to H-bombs. But Thursday Dr. Thomas H. Johnson, research director for the AEC, made a speech at the annual spring meeting of the American Physical Society.

mission's interest in research machines such as cyclotrons, linear accelerators and van de Graaf generators — or "atom-smashing" machines, he said. "The interest to the AEC in research done with some of those machines is related to the fact that they produce under controlled conditions on a laboratory scale the same reactions that are involved in the large scale release of energy in fusion and thermonuclear devices."

A "fusion" device is one that duplicates the reaction of an A-bomb which explodes as the result of fusion, or splitting of atoms. A "thermonuclear device" on the other hand would involve the "fusion" or joining together of atoms to cause a release of atomic energy. FISH COUNT PORTLAND (AP)—The upstream fish migration Wednesday at Bonneville Dam: Chinook 1,423, Jack 151, steelhead 59.
