

Big Ranch Sale Told Here

PORTLAND (AP) — The Hooring Ranch that sprawls over 100,000 acres of southeastern Oregon is being sold by Gil Cramer to the Cramer interests in California and Nevada. The deal has been closed but the price has not yet been recorded. The ranch is located in Harney County, about 100 miles from the Oregon-California border. It was one of the largest ranches in the West, and was owned by the late Gil Cramer, who died in 1948. The ranch is being sold to the Cramer interests, who are now operating it as a cattle ranch. The ranch is located in a beautiful area, and is surrounded by mountains and forests. It is a great place for hunting and fishing. The ranch is being sold for $1,000,000. Water Pistols Too Much For Endleton Cops

ENDLETON (AP) — The law has been firm in its command here in this little Western stronghold and the boys going around shooting water pistols will do so at considerable risk.

It was not enough, said the chief, that the standard pistol was used, but a piece of heavy artillery—a .38 Smith & Wesson—was used. The boy was shot in the face and was taken to the hospital. The boy was shot in the face and was taken to the hospital.

Heat Has Rough Edge For School

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An epidemic of high fever erupted on the University of Southern California campus Thursday night. Small bonfires kept fire engines busy for hours. The fire department had to be called out several times. The fire department had to be called out several times.

Damage was reported on the campus, but a half dozen police cars parked along fraternity row did not deflagrate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Wednesday it has cut the subsistence allowance for military personnel stationed overseas from $2.40 a day to $1.35 in any area where government meals are available. A spokesman described the reduction as a "periodic" revision of allowances.
