MARTINDALE EARNS SCRAP WITH CHAMP

Dangerous Danny McShain's opponent next week at the Armory will be Tommy Martindale, winner last night in an elimination bout in which only one bout went the full 20 minutes.

George Drake, a foot-handy blond youngster, won the votes of all five judges in his first-round bout with Tough Tony Ross.

Ross jumped Angelo Paffo, a gum-chewing referee, after the decision was rendered and got belted in the jaw, the only time the long-haired Italian had moved all evening.

For the most part, the wrestlers had a field day—particularly Irish Paddy Mack, a choke artist—as Paffo spent more time ogling a couple of cutes at ringside than he did keeping order in the ring.

WHIPS SZASZ
Mack disposed of Al Szasz in the opener with a stonking hammer lock in 15:10.

In the other first-round bout, Bill Fletcher punished Martindale with the wristlock for the first five minutes but fell victim to the rolling cradle in 17:05.

Martindale got the advantage of "bye" slip out of the hat, Mack.

Duden Oregon Open Winner
PORTLAND, Ore. — Bob Duden successfully defended his Oregon Open golf championship Wednesday, overtaking Chuck Congdon, the early pace-setter, in the final 36-hole round to collect the professional $500 first-place jackpot.

Well back in the field during the first two days on the Columbia-Edgewater Country Club course, the Portland pro cut six strokes off par in the final round and wound up with a 19-under par 278.

Congdon, Tacoma pro, who fired super golf Monday and Tuesday and led the pack entering Wednesday's round, had putter trouble and settled for 280, good for second money of $300.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C., and Bud Hofmeister, Hayden Lake, Idaho, tied in third place at 282 and collected $235 apiece.

BROWN HOLLOMAN CARVES NO-HITTER

By BEN PHILGAR

AP Sports Writer
Bobo Holloman of the St. Louis Browns pitched himself a no-hitter in his first major league start last night and the big test now will be whether he can survive it.

Holloman, a fun-loving Georgian nicknamed after the last Brown hurler to pitch a no-hitter, jumped from low man in the bullpen to pitching glory in nine hitless innings against the Philadelphia Athletics. He faced 31 men. Three of them walked and one reached first on the pitcher's own error. St. Louis won, 6-0.

The big right-hander now will have to whip the jinx that befall the only other pitcher ever to open his major league starting career with a hitless performance.

In 1892, far enough back that baseball historians don't recognize it as "modern times," Charley Jones broke in with Cincinnati with a no-hitter against Pittsburgh, although Pittsburgh scored one run.

Jones won only one other major league game and was out of the big leagues by 1904.

In addition to this king-sized jinx, consider the pressure Holloman will face the next time he pitches.

A rookie is on the spot every time he starts a game.

A rookie with a buildup is on more of a spot.

A no-hit pitcher often gets into trouble in the next couple of games. Virgil Trucks, now of the Browns, pitched two no-hitters for Detroit last year but his record for the season was a poor 3-19.

A rookie, such as Holloman, who pitched a no-hitter in his first start will have all of these things going against him the rest of the season.

Holloman's performance overshadowed the rest of the major league activity yesterday but for the record Detroit defeated Washington, 8-4, and Chicago stopped Boston, 6-2, in the American League, and Brooklyn whipped St. Louis, 7-3, and New York whipped Chicago, 8-5, in National League games.

Cleveland and New York weren't

Trojans Edge Lakeview, 11-9
Sacred Heart piled up five runs in the sixth inning yesterday at Recreation Park to edge Lakeview 11-9 in cold weather.

The five runs came on three walks, a hit batter, a Lakeview error and singles by Wayne Neubert and Gary Thill. Catcher Hale banged a three-run home run for the Bruins in the fifth inning to give Lakeview a 7-5 lead. Hale got two other hits for a perfect day at bat.

Neubert struck out two batters in the seventh inning when Lakeview was threatening with the bases bulging.

Line score:
Lakeview 301 032 0-9 9 6
S. Heart 005 015 x-11 11 5
Moulton and Hale; Neubert and Thill.

BOOTED
They were ousted for arguing with Umpire Jocko Conlan, who had waved Jackie Robinson home from third base after a collision with Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus. Hemus sprawled head first in the baseline, diving for a drive off the bat of Roy Campanella. Robinson, running from second, collided with him and fell down. Conlan ruled Hemus had obstructed the base runner.

Duke Snider and Gil Hodges hit home runs for the Dodgers. Rookie Ray Jaramora hit two for the Cards, who got only five hits off Carl Erskine.

The Giants battered six Chicago pitchers for 15 hits as they handed the Cubs their seventh straight loss. The victory moved the Giants up to sixth place and pushed the Cubs down to seventh.

New Leader in NBC

TACOMA, Ore. — Lou Vitalich of Seattle took the lead in the all events division here Wednesday night with a thundering 1,899 in the Northwestern Bowling Congress tournament.

He combined scores of 628, 600 and 671 to relegate Allen Dahl, Richmond, Calif., the previous leader with 1,805, to second place.

Brothman's Brothers of Tacoma also grabbed a berth at the top of a ladder. They fashioned a 2,918 in the open division team event to push another Tacoma outfit, the Ebonites, into second.

Earl Johnson and Bill Eggleston

When Tom Greenwald signed a new scouting contract with the Yankees it was years.

Only other change in spots came when Bill Mc and Primo Arise edged in with 1,236. They trail the lead with 1,200, and are at Portland.
