Hoagy Carmichael Proves Reluctant TV Performer

By BOR THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The most reluctant TV star of the season is a bound-voiced singer-actor-composer named Hoagy Carmichael.
 The Indiana tunesmith is set to replace Big Boy and Ina Ray La Fave during the summer months. The program is designed to help along new comedy talent, and Hoagy will introduce the acts, sing a few songs, operate some running gags and perform in a 20-minute sketch. He claims to be naturally laid and views the project dolefully.
 "Man, that's going to be work," he sighed. "Think of all the men sitting 'til I have to do in that hour and a half! No, I can't use a teleprompter. I can't read the print that far away without my glasses. I'm just going to sweat it out."
 Hoagy, who is a crickety-looking fellow with a sly and a sly sense of humor, is convinced he's the wrong man for the job. He cites his "limited talents"—NBC, which is conscious of his success on radio, records, in the movies and music business, is convinced otherwise.
 "I'll only sing about three songs—the kind of novelties I can do," he remarked. "You can't take too much of my voice. I play my records three times and then I can't stand them. It sounds awful monotonous to me."
 If he's so convinced he's not right for the job, why did he take it?
 "My agent and business manager told me about another job," he explained. "I finally said I'd take it. But then they told me later

OTI Course Revisions Get Study

Longer school terms are being studied and course fees loomed Tuesday for Oregon Technical Institute following a meeting of the State Advisory Committee on Education.
 The session was held on OTI campus Monday with four members of the State Board of Education in attendance. Mrs. Georgia Patterson, wife of Oregon's governor, also attended. Rex Putman, state superintendent of public instruction, and P. T. Paulson, state director of vocational education, participated in the discussion of OTI problems. Ed Branchfield, State Advisory Board chairman, presided.
 Following the meeting, Winston D. Purvine, OTI director, said there was consensus among the educators that OTI's course and activities fees should be brought in line with those prevailing at other Oregon educational centers. If the fee revisions are finally approved by the State Board of Education, Purvine said, it will mean about $3 per year saving for students.
 The OTI director said it also was proposed that school terms be extended in some course so that students would have an opportunity to obtain more complete training.

Gilchrist PTA Meets

The Gilchrist PTA met Friday evening at 7:30 in the library of the Gilchrist School. The short business meeting before the viewing of the classrooms for "Achievement Day" was highlighted by the presence of Mrs. Earl Sheridan, State Parliamentarian and Mrs. Paul Buck, State Recreation Chairman; both of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Buck led the group in a "Mixed game" entitled "Deep in the Heart of Oregon" in which the members participated. Mrs. Leslie Norlin, outgoing president, thanked the group for their cooperation the past year. Mrs. W. Taylor reported on the State Convention held in Medford during April. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Seventh and Eighth Grade mothers. Next meeting will be in September.

Agriculture Awards Given

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Agriculture Tuesday honored employees with distinguished service awards and special awards for outstanding public service and long tenure.
 Superior service awards went to 106 employees, including:
 Merlin C. Lane of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Walla Walla, Wash., for unusual leadership in research which led to development of practical methods of controlling wireworms in western irrigated lands.
 Charles H. Buser, Soil Conservation Service, Waterville, Wash., for an exemplary record in assisting the Douglas Soil Conservation District to carry out a soil and water conservation program.
 John S. Bowen, forest service, Portland, Ore., for exceptional accomplishments in organization of accident prevention program.

Miner Chief Blasts Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis says Secretary of the Interior McKay's plan to place Tom Lyon of Salt Lake City at the head of the Bureau of Mines is "a diabolical outrage and a political crime against the whole mining population."
 Lewis, who entered with McKay Monday and later told newsmen he had voiced "astonishment at the secretary of interior wanting human blood of coal miners on his hands as may come from having the bureau headed by a comparative ignoramus."
 McKay commented: "I am just as much interested in humanity and the welfare of the miners as John L. Lewis."
 A month ago McKay said he had recommended Lyon to the White House. Lewis contends Lyon, a geologist with metal mining experience, knows nothing of coal mining and that 88 per cent of all miners are coal miners.

RFC Office To Lose Personnel

PORTLAND (AP)—The Portland RFC office will lose 29 employees when it becomes a branch under the Seattle office, Manager William Kennedy said Tuesday.
 Two men and one girl will operate the office in its new agency status.
 The agency will have authority to make direct loans up to $50,000 and to participate with banks in making loans up to $100,000.
 The disbursing, collecting and accounting functions will be handled by the Seattle office.
