

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Stocks

WALL STREET - The stock market followed a quiet, irregular course Friday with most changes in small fractions.

Table of stock prices including Admiral Corporation, Allied Chemical, American Airlines, etc.

Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN - CHICAGO (U) - Grains responded to the Korean news Friday by selling off at the start, displaying a rose throughout most of the session, and then developing a fainting spell again shortly before the close.

The upshot of these moves was that the market ended lower. Prices did not break, however. No new seasonal lows were set. In general, the market held up better than it has on several occasions when rumors of a Korean peace spread through brokerage houses.

PORTLAND GRAIN - PORTLAND (U) - Coarse grains, 15-day shipment, bulk, coast elements 70.50.

Livestock

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK - CHICAGO (U) - Country suppliers ran in 25 per cent more hogs than the trade had prepared for Friday, and prices fell another 25 cents to $1.00 from Thursday's lower level.

Choice and prime spring lambs received $27.00 to $28.00 and good grade old-crop lambs $23.00. Ewes continued at $6.00 and below.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK - PORTLAND (U) - (USDA) - Cattle salable 2,420; compared with late week fed steers and heifers, mostly 50-75 cents higher, grassers steady to weak; cows 50 cents to 1.00 lower; several loads high-grade to choice 805-1,100 lb fed steers 24.00-25.00, including 2 1/2 loads at 25.00; most commercial good fed steers 20.00-23.00, few good grass steers down to 20.00; bulk utility commercial grass steers 18.00 to 19.00, good and low choice fed heifers 20.00-22.50, including two loads good-choice 679-845 lbs at 22.00; utility-commercial grass heifers 15.00-18.50; bulk utility commercial cows 12.00-15.00, few young under 1,000 lb commercial cows early 1.50-16.00 and heavy around 1,225 lbs late 13.00; canner-cutter cows 9.50-11.50; scattering utility-commercial bulls 16.50-18.00; cutter-lightweight utility 12.00-15.00, few good around 525-600 lb stocker steers 18.00-19.00.

Calves salable for week 450; calves-vealers found a poor demand, mostly 1.00-2.00 lower; good-choice under 300 lb slaughter calves and vealers 21.00-25.00; few choice vealers around 29.00; utility-commercial grade 15.00-20.00; comparable grading 350-450 lbs 13.00-18.00; culls down to 9.00. Local Land-Winner Not Excited; He's Been There

Jack V. Taylor, 5628 S. 6th, has a far, far better chance of getting a farm plot in the Columbia Basin than the 12-to-1 chance reported in yesterday's Herald and News. First report the paper received on drawings held at Pasco for 108 veterans' farm plots, read as if Taylor was far down in the list of alternates.

Later it was learned Taylor's name was actually the fifteenth draw, meaning he gets fifteenth choice of the 108 plots. Taylor's wife said this morning her husband "was not nearly as excited as I was" about their good fortune. She said her husband had worked in the Columbia Basin area and was familiar with the land being homesteaded for veterans.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are lifelong Klamath residents. Taylor is the son of Myron Taylor, Spring Lake rancher, and Mrs. Taylor is the former Nannette Schubert.

Announcement of Herald & News Brand Names-Roundup Advertising Award. In The Herald and News Annual Roundup Edition.

Brand Names-Roundup Advertising Award

An award will be made to the firm judged having the best advertisement promoting its own Brand Names and the Klamath Basin Roundup in the Annual Roundup Edition which will be published Tuesday, June 23. The news content of this edition will be on the Roundup and will feature pictures from the Queen Contestants' Outing of June 11 and of the Queen herself, who will be chosen June 20.

Copies of the edition will be sent to the Oregon Advertising Club in Portland, which will select an Award Committee of advertising experts to select the winner. Judging consideration will be both on promotion of a firm's own Brand Names and on its promotion of the Klamath Basin Roundup. The winning ad then will be submitted to the national Brand Names Foundation for consideration in making its annual Brand Names Awards.

The Herald and News award will include reprinting the winning ad and giving the winner a like advertising space for further use at the time.

Orders for ads in the Annual Roundup Edition, in exact size and shape, will be taken Friday, June 12; final deadline for ad copy and layout will be Thursday, June 18. See a Herald and News advertising representative or telephone 8111.
