Politics Wailed In Air Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said today he hopes Democratic senators "don't make a political matter" of the sizzling dispute about Air Force cutbacks.

Ferguson, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee now considering new funding and spending limits on all defense agencies, said in an interview that even the Eisenhower budget might be safely "reduced in some items."

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, retiring Air Force head, concluded late yesterday three full days of testimony in opposition to cutbacks proposed for the Air Force in the Eisenhower budget.

These would trim former president Truman's request for new funds by five billion dollars and lower the 1955 air power goal from 143 to 120 wings.

Vandenberg insisted that a 143-wing Air Force is the minimum level needed to meet the threat of expanding Soviet Russian air power. A wing contains from 30 heavy bombers to 75 smaller aircraft.

Secretary of Defense McNeil, who engineered the Air Force cutback with the aid of Deputy Secretary of Defense Kyes and Assistant Secretary of Defense McNeil, will return to the Senate committee's witness.

Oscar Winner's Life Not As Easy as It Would Seem

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The life of an Oscar winner is not as easy as it might seem, take it from Judy Holliday.

The blonde actress made a tremendous hit as the dumb Bille Dawn in "Born Yesterday" both on the stage and screen. She was acclaimed an Academy Award two years ago. But she has had no Broadway shows and only one picture since then.

Her inactivity is partly because of the fact that she gave birth to her first child, Jonathan Louis Oppenheim, last November. But her scarcity of pictures is largely because of the hard bargain she struck with her employers, Columbia Pictures. She held out for and finally won a deal whereby she would do only one picture a year and have plenty of time for the stage.

"But I guess I wasn't so clever after all," she sighed. "I haven't been able to find a play."

Jodays Women

By DOROTHY ROE
 AP Women's Editor

It's easy to keep a husband happy says young Betty Ossola, blonde and shapely food tycoon, who also is a happy wife and successful mother.

Her formula is simple: "Just feed him."

Most so-called psychological maladjustments merely are the result of bad eating, says Betty, who has delved deep into this business of the way to a man's heart. She adds:

"Every woman since Eve has known that the time to get something you want from any man is right after dinner. When he's well fed, he's happy and at peace with the world. He's much more likely to say yes after he has been soothed by a steak."

Betty runs one of the country's biggest food companies, Torino Foods, dealing in both imported and domestic delicacies, with an accent on European flavor. Her father, Jack Ossola, founded the business 52 years ago. He handed over its direction to Betty after she completed her course at the University of Pittsburgh and spent a year in Europe developing a gourmet approach.

Since then Betty has been busy educating the American public there are other things to eat beside steak and potatoes. She says:

"The trouble with most American women is that they're afraid to use their imaginations when planning meals and preparing food. Because their husbands insist they want 'just plain meat and potatoes' they go along in the same old groove, until the men get fed up with both their meals and their wives."

"A little spice is necessary, in both life and cooking. Everybody needs a change, to keep things interesting. The wife who can make her meals varied and satisfying usually need have no fear of the divorce court."

Betty and her husband, Charles Rossett, recently gave a cocktail party at their Englewood, N. J., home which still has the neighbors talking. Betty explains her system thus:

"I figure most men are always hungry, so I like to give them something besides dinky canapes and limp crackers. A man needs something he can get his teeth into."

"This time we put a big chafing dish of lentil soup with grated cheese in the middle of the table. Boy, did they go for that! Then we piled up big dishes of every kind of olives and anchovies and various kinds of Italian antipasto. We had crisp bread sticks and lots of things for dunking. People kept coming back for more."

CHICAGO (AP)— The Taft-Hartley labor law was designed, says John L. Lewis, to wipe out labor unions when the opportunity comes—"such as another depression."

"It is not possible to dream of eliminating labor unions from our economy and think that our Republic will endure," Lewis told the Executive Club of Chicago Friday.

"There would be confusion and chaos if unions were eliminated," the United Mine Workers president told an overflow audience of business executives. "We have a free economy that can only function as ever increasing units of production find a market for that goods."

Lewis said the Taft-Hartley law has reduced him to "a second class citizen, and he pledged to continue fighting to repeal the act. He added he resented "the right of Taft to make me a second class citizen" and "to put it very conservatively I expect to oppose that attitude."

Ex-Legion Head Would Quit UN
 LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A former national commander of the American Legion, Donald R. Wilson, urged Friday night that America abandon the United Nations.

Speaking at the closing session of the Kentucky Oil and Gas Association convention, the Clarksville, W. Va., attorney termed the U.N. a "sinister and despicable symbol" of what he called the "new internationalism."

Wilson was commander of the Legion in 1951-52.
