Medford Archers Visit Malin Range

MALIN—Arrows flew and good fellowship reigned Sunday afternoon on the Malin Archery Range, when the Malin Bow Hunters were hosts to a large group of archers from the Rogue Bowman's Club of Medford.

Malin's regulation field range is at the top of Poe Valley Pass about five miles out of Malin and affords a picturesque view down onto the Klamath Valley as well as over into Poe Valley.

The Rogue Archers, in spite of the threatening weather, started registering in around 8:30 a.m. at the range. They, along with their families, enjoyed a picnic lunch then continued shooting until evening. Coffee and pop was served by the Malin group.

Here for the day from over in the valley were: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jenkins, daughters Nelda and Relda and son Floyd Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pickell and children Linda and Randy; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williamson, Darrell and Sue, Joe's mother from Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Howard, and children Elizabeth, Doug and Tommie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Withrow and Bob Stanaforth.

From the Malin Club were Carl Rajnus, Dick Halousek, Donald Rajnus, Jimmie Ottoman, Joe Halousek, Virginia Rajnus and George Rajnus.

Monday's Crash Victims Improve

Three victims of the Beaver Marsh highway smashup yesterday which interrupted a wedding trip were reported as improving at Klamath Valley Hospital today.

Injured were: Pearl Moore, 18, Tulelake; Shirley Larson, 19, Twin Falls, Idaho; Earl N. Johnson, 23, Salem.

The trio was en route to Salem where Johnson and Miss Moore were to be married today. Miss Larson was to be maid of honor. Johnson's car left the highway at Beaver Marsh and cracked up on a creek bank. The man and two young women were all seriously injured. Johnson told State Police he was crowded from the road by a southbound truck.
