5,000 Reds Hit Central Front Points

By SAM SUMMERLIN
SEOUL (AP) — More than 5,000 Chinese Reds slammed into Allied lines along a 50-mile front in Central Korea Saturday in the wake of a thunderous artillery and mortar barrage which may have set a new Korean War record.

An American officer on battered outpost Harry estimated the Chinese have lost 3,400 men killed and wounded in three savage night assaults on the heights.

Hundreds more Chinese have fallen in raging battles to the east where Saturday the Reds shoved Allied troops from main line positions in one sector.

Associated Press Correspondent Milo Farnet said Allied tanks, flame throwers and guns cut down hundreds of charging Reds Saturday, but the attack carried some Communist troops into Allied trenches. U. S. and South Korean infantrymen met them with knives and bayonets.

An Eighth Army officer said a semi-official count indicated 115,000 Red artillery and mortar shells fell on Allied positions during the 12 hours ending at 6 a.m. Saturday.

He said the total may be scaled down, but it probably will top the previous 24-hour record of 107,650 rounds fired in the vicious Western Front fighting last month.

Col. Russell (Red) Akers, Washington, D. C., commander of the Third Division's 15th regiment, said his troops have wiped out more than a Chinese regiment in three nights of fighting.

Akers explained that capture of outpost Harry would let the Reds "overlook the Third Division main line."

"We have fought them much of the time hand-to-hand — waves of Chinese have been killed by our boys with bayonets, grenades and carbines at close range," Akers said.

The Eighth Army officer said 62,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire fell on South Koreans defending Capitol Hill, eight miles southeast of Kumong. He said the strategic height probably is in Red hands.

The Reds penetrated the main Allied line at four points in the Capitol Hill sector several days ago.

This was the third straight day of heavy pre-arranged attacks by the Reds. The latest assaults centered on U. N. lines running through the former Red stronghold called the "Iron Triangle."

Five-Year Hiccupper Has Gained One Pound, Now 78

By GRAHAM BERRY
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five long, weary years of hiccupping at the rate of at least once a second have robbed Jack O'Leary of his vitality but not of his will to live.

The emaciated former market manager can even muster a wan grin as he quips, "If I ever woke up without 'em, I'd think something was wrong with me."

It was June 13, 1948—five years ago today—that Jack, now 27, began what undoubtedly is the longest siege of hiccuppers on record. It was shortly after his appendix had ruptured and he wasn't expected to live. From time to time since,

Eleven Faculty Members Fired In Spokane Degree Dispute

SPOKANE (AP) — The month-long controversy at Eastern Washington College of Education came to a climax Thursday when the trustees sided with the administration and fired 11 faculty members. Seven other faculty resignations were accepted, and the president was given authority to oust five more.

The action brought to an end a row that started when eight members of the physical education staff said they would resign if athletic director W. B. "Red" Reese was retained.

The trustees said they could not support the faculty contention that Reese used "unethical methods, fraud or undue influence" in an effort to obtain a master's degree. Reese was listed in the summer catalog of the school as having a master's degree.

FULLS APPLICATION
Reese is working towards a degree but does not have one. He has announced he will withdraw his candidacy for the degree, and the catalog listing has been dropped.

The 23 teachers involved in Thursday's action constitute about a fifth of the college's faculty.

The eleven faculty members who were discharged are: Dr. Albert Ludwig, head of the division of social studies and chairman of the faculty committee which filed a report on Reese; E. L. Chalberg, instructor in journalism; Marilyn Beach, instructor in elementary education; Dr. Roger Chapman, assistant professor of education; Dorothy Crunk, instructor in secretarial science; Hope E. Oulien, assistant professor of elementary education; Clayton B. Shaw, assistant professor of philosophy and sociology; Forrest Sloan, instructor in elementary education; Dr. Earl Tilley, associate professor of education and psychology; Dr. Obed J. Williamson, head of the division of education; and Dr. Paul N. Woolf, professor of economics.

CASE NOT FINAL
Dr. Ludwig said the decision came as no surprise to him and that "the matter is not closed by any means." He said attempts will be made to get the National Education Association interested in the case.

Chalberg said a clause in the dismissal statement forbidding those fired to take "any further part in college and campus affairs" would prevent their sending a delegation to Olympia to present their case to Gov. Arthur E. Langlie.

They were told "failure to comply with this instruction will be deemed sufficient reason for immediate cancellation of any further compensation."

Lake County Pioneer Dies

LAKEVIEW—James H. Turpin, resident of Lake County for 68 years, died here Sunday, June 7, at the age of 96 years, seven months and three days.

Funeral services were conducted from the Qualey-Osterman Chapel at 10 a.m. Wednesday, June 10, by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Interment was at the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Turpin, who had never married, came to Washington Mountain in 1884 when he was 28 years of age and took a desert claim. Of his 68 years in the county, the latter 44 were spent at and around Plush. For a number of years he was a sheepman, and at times he worked as a ranch hand and occasionally as a hunter and trapper.

Turpin had bands of sheep of his own at 2,000. Once he leased a band of 2,000 head from John McIlheney, but the severe winter of 1889-90 hit him then. Most of the sheep on the high desert were destroyed that winter.

In 1928, in a stage accident, Turpin suffered the loss of one leg. Turpin was born in Benton County, Mo., on Nov. 4, 1856, the day John Buchanan was elected president. He had a wide following of friends, and on his 96th birthday last November he was honored with an open house at the home of his niece, Mrs. Dorothy Watts, then resident of Lakeview.

Turpin is survived by one brother, J. E. Turpin, Lakeview; one sister, Ora Sheaffer, Lemhi, Ida.; two nephews, Prince Blais, Bend, and George Turpin, Gresham, Ore.; Mrs. Lora Sherman, Modesto, Calif.; Mrs. Dorothy Watts and Mrs. Dale Baxter, Klamath Falls and Mrs. J. C. Van Cleef, Nampa.
