

Rodeo Crowd Expected To Smash Record Again

Roundup interest was in full swing today with unusually high spirit pointing up the possibility of this year's three-day rodeo show attracting another record smashing crowd.

Headquarters were set up this morning in the lobby of the Chamber of Commerce on Main Street across from the Courthouse and advance ticket sales were brisk.

Meanwhile, the eight Roundup queen candidates were today enjoying one of their few remaining days rest between now and the Roundup festival's close July 4. Tomorrow, the girls are to be guests of the Tulelake Rotary Club at luncheon and tomorrow evening they are to participate in the big YMCA dedication party.

On following days until the opening Roundup rodeo performance July 2, the girls have a busy schedule including visits for luncheons, dinners or parties at Beames Golf and Country Club, Klamath Yacht Club, Kiwanis, Elks, Rotarians, Exchange Club and a day's outing at either Lake O' the Woods or one of the swimming pools.

In addition to these events, there are to be visits to the Roundup Jamboree Ball at the Armory June 27, and to another Merchants Association street dance July 1.

Biggest event, of course, will be the Queen's Ball at the Armory this Saturday night.

Queen Marianna Hellekson, who is to crown her successor at the Queen's Ball, is to accompany the queen candidates on all these events and there are also to be escorts from the women's Klamath Saddle Club.
