You Hear All About Actors Except How They Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How do actors act?

You read about everything else concerning actors except how they really do their work. This is a question I discussed with Victor Mature.

The large lad from Louisville, Ky., is the first to disclaim any acting prowess on his own part. "I'm no actor—and I've got the reviews to prove it," he says.

But he's being modest. He proved with "Kiss of Death" that he was capable of some expert emoting. And when the new Cinemascope process was unveiled, the hit of the show was a huge closeup from "The Robe," in which Vic wordlessly reacted to the sight of Christ on the cross. If the rest of his performance measures up to that scene, he could even end up in the Oscar running.

Vic is now starring in the sequel, called "The Story of Demetrius." He was dressed in the scanty tunic which such epics require. Vic didn't seem to mind. He has displayed his legs in almost as many pictures as Betty Grable.

Our discussion brought out the fact that there are two kinds of actors: The technicians and the emotional actors. Of course, most performers are a combination of the two, but they generally lean to one or the other.

The technician knows all the tricks of acting; he remains outside the character he plays, endowing it with all his skill. The emotional actor jumps right in and becomes the character he is playing.

"I'm an emotional actor," Mature admitted. "When I'm doing a scene, I really believe it. I live the part as long as I'm in the scene. When I started out at the Pasadena Playhouse, I really went overboard.

"I put myself so much into the characters that I actually would become dizzy on the stage during a highly emotional scene. Finally, some of the experienced hands took me aside and told me to let up. They knew I'd become a wreck if I remained so intense."

Vic said he admires such technicians as Richard Widmark and James Cagney, who apparently can adopt a more external approach to acting. But Vic said the only thing he knows is to get in there and make believe.

"That's why it's better if I have few distractions," he remarked. "When I'm all wound up in a dramatic scene I can't think about anything else. I can't kid with the director or anything like that. I've got to have things appear as much like real life as possible.

"Likewise, the better the actors I'm with, the better the performance I give. If I'm playing with a fine actor like Richard Burton, I do better than usual. But if I'm with some actor who just drones his lines, I'm liable to stink. It's the same as in tennis or any other sport; the better your opponent, the better your game."

20-30 CLUBBERS here yesterday greeted their International Pres. Joe Bonfield (right), Hobbs, N. M., and International Secy. Doug Martin (left), Sacramento. Heading the greeting group at Municipal Airport here was Fred Hadlock, president of the Klamath Falls 20-30. Medford and Tulelake 20-30 members were included in the visitation.

Katyn Forest Action Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the request of the State Department, the House Foreign Affairs Committee has decided to shelve a resolution asking the United Nations to start action against Russia for the 1941 mass murders in the Katyn Forest.

By a vote of 19 to 4, the committee has voted not to take up the resolution introduced early this year by Rep. Madden (D-Ind).

Madden headed a special House committee in the last Congress that investigated the mass murder of an estimated 10,000 Polish officers in Poland's Katyn Forest. The committee blamed Russia for the atrocity. Russia has blamed the German Nazis.

The State Department's views were given to the Foreign Affairs Committee in a letter from Thurston B. Morton, assistant secretary.

Morton said "no useful purpose would be served by further action by the Congress on this subject," and added that the work of the Madden committee would continue to be "an extremely valuable part of the campaign of truth . . . to present to the world a vivid and accurate picture of Soviet tyranny."

RED TRADE STUDYING?

HONG KONG (AP) — The Communist newspaper Wen Wai Pao reported Wednesday a 17-member British trade mission arrived in Canton by train June 13 enroute to Peiping. The mission, representing several British and Hong Kong firms, said it planned to study trade possibilities with Red China.

Parcel Post Hike Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday authorized a 36 per cent increase in parcel post zone rates.

The rate advance is to be applied on a date fixed by the Post Office Department. The increase is expected to add about 150 million dollars to charges for handling packages in the postal service.

Parcel post zone rates cover the vast bulk of the package mailing service used by the general public.

Post officials said tentatively Wednesday morning the higher zone rates probably will not be put into effect until about Aug. 1, so that the public may have ample notice on the changes.

East Coast Ships Tie Up

NEW YORK (AP) — A shipping tie-up gripped American vessels in Atlantic and East Coast ports Wednesday in a wage dispute.

"Nothing, but nothing, is moving and nothing will move until a contract is signed," said Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime Union.

Foreign vessels are not affected. American ships in foreign ports or on the high seas will be affected only after they reach ports in this country. In all, about 750 vessels are subject to the tie up.

The union, claiming about 40,000 members, traditionally follows a "no contract, no work" policy. Curran estimated that the stoppage immediately affected 20,000 to 24,000 union members.

American ships due to sail Wednesday from New York included the Moore-McCormack line's Mormacdawn and the Grace Line's Santa Ines, both for South America.

Foreign vessels unaffected by the stoppage and expected to sail on schedule Wednesday were the British liners Queen Elizabeth and Britannic and the Greek vessel Neptunia.

"I can't believe the ship operators will tie up their ships during the peak season on the question of arbitration," Curran told newsmen.

"It seems to me that if their case was inability to pay, they could establish that, if it was so, before the arbitrator. But that is not the case because they recenly announced having made large profits during the past year."

The union chief said cargo certified as being entirely military would be moved, but declared "it must not be mixed with commercial cargo."

SURRENDER

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia's new military government Wednesday announced the voluntary surrender of six guerrilla leaders who had been fighting the conservative party regime of deposed President Laureano Gomez.

EUGENE (AP) — State Rep. Earl Hill, accused of illegally using an old photograph in the Voters Pamphlet last fall, was acquitted here Tuesday.

Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth directed the verdict after Frank Reid, Hill's attorney, argued that the law under which Hill was charged was a directive to the secretary of state and carried no criminal implications.

The district attorney said that Hill, now 62, used a 12-year-old photograph in the pamphlet. Use of a photograph more than five years old is forbidden.

Reid said the photograph had been submitted by Republican Party officials, not by Hill.

Judge Skipworth, after the acquittal said the State Corrupt Practices Act under which Hill was charged, needs a complete overhauling.

BRITISH 'PERKINS' DIES

LONDON (AP) — Miss Margaret Bondfield, Britain's first woman cabinet minister, died Tuesday in a hospital at Sanderstead. She was 80 years old. Miss Bondfield was minister of labor from 1929 to 1931 in the government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.
