Sojourners Install Officers

Sojourners met for luncheon in the Willard Hotel Wednesday, June 10. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. C. U. Dakins, Mrs. J. J. Thomas, Mrs. L. D. Leslie, and Mrs. J. C. Litwiller.

The new officers are: Mrs. H. L. Robertson, president; Mrs. Bert Henson, vice president; Mrs. L. C. Watrud, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Fedler, secretary. These officers were installed by the retiring officers and were presented with beautiful corsages which were donated by Mrs. A. V. McVey.

Mrs. J. R. Rhodes presented a gift from the group to Mrs. Orman Gildow.

Other outgoing officers were Mrs. Earl Maskel, treasurer; Mrs. F. L. O'Connell, secretary; and Mrs. D. B. Jones, historian, who gave the history of the last six months.

The luncheon tables were artistically arranged with garden flowers. The place cards and fallies also used the garden flower theme.

Guests for the afternoon were: Jean Kesterson, Nelle Rae Motachenbacher, Mrs. Patricia Huggins, Mrs. E. H. Hullman, Honora Newland, Frances Koester, Betty Costell, Frances Killian and Gertie Haugh.

Bridge prize went to Mrs. C. E. Chase; Mrs. George Roberts, canasta; Vivian Fisher, pinocle; also special prize.

The luncheon, as are all activities of the club is open to newcomers to Klamath Falls, interested in making new friends and in becoming better acquainted with their new home city.

SOROPTIMIST CLUB INSTALLATION

The Pelican Party Room was the scene June 12, of the annual dinner and installation meeting of the Soroptimists and their proteges, the Venture Club members.

Isabelle Brixner, retiring Soroptimist president, read a letter to the club from Annelly Uhrek, now in Austria with her family, and one from Naomi French, thanking the group for the Camp Fire campership.

Ann Henderson entertained musically with a piano selection, "Sonatina" in three movements by Beethoven.

Officers of Venture Club were installed by Oia Smith. The new president is Anne Lindskog; vice president, Phyllis Lynch; secretary, Gertrude Hoefler; and treasurer, Virginia Frieman.

Edith Pieruccini, retiring president, presented each new officer with a corsage and thanked her retiring officers, committees and Vera Powell, the Soroptimist adviser.

Oia Smith also installed the new Soroptimist officers: Ruth Adams, president; Alice Lamm, first vice president; Dena Backes, second vice president; Naomi French, recording secretary; Jean Puckett, corresponding secretary; Mary Bothwell, treasurer; and board members, Isabelle Brixner, Margaret Larkin and Marguerite Ward. Olive Cornett presented each officer with a corsage and Isabelle Brixner, after thanking her officers and members for their constant cooperation, presented Ruth Adams, the new president.
